Hazel Gee and Beverley Phelps will sing in the chorus of 200 voices. Mrs. Porter has made reservations for tickets. She will also attend the Music Supervisors luncheon on Friday. Several people are planning to attend the concert. The Ladies' Aid will hold a food sale at Beards Store on Saturday, March 19th at 2 o'clock.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The Improvement Club of Hope Rebekah Lodge held its regular meeting at the home of Marion Cross last Tuesday evening with the president, Mrs. Ione Nelson presiding. The group voted $30. to provide school lunches for five children for six weeks. After the business meeting Mr. Niles Stevens showed many beautiful pictures of flowers, scenery and friends during the social hour. Lunch of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Cross and assisting hostesses, Mary Murdo, Bessie Gladding, Belle Mosley and Janet Sharby. After lunch pictures taken at the White Mts. were shown.

GRANGE MEETING

Hillsboro Grange held its regular meeting on Wednesday, March 9th. Special feature of the meeting was the discussion of both the town and Special District school warrants. The next meeting Gentlemen's Night will be observed. Zigmunt Wardenski will be in charge of the program.

JUVENILE BEACH CLUB

The Juvenile Beach Club met in the music rooms on Sunday afternoon with Bruce Jordan, President presiding. Charlene Fletcher, was program chairman. Those on the program were: Trumpet solo, Walter Sterling, Jr.; Original song, Cynthia Cooper. Those who played the piano were: Judith Fogg, Caro Fogg, Dellene Devlin, Joan Devlin, David Sterling, Janice Fletcher, Walter Olson, Bruce Jordan, Geraldine Ellsworth, Milly Feldblum, and Faith Owen.

Hostesses were: Judy Sharby, and Charlene and Janice Fletcher. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher came with their daughters and brought maple syrup for a "sugaring off party". In the kitchen they boiled down the sugar until it was just right and then poured it on pans of snow. There is nothing in the line of sweets more delectable than maple sugar on snow. The children certainly enjoyed it. Judy Sharby furnished doughnuts and pickles.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Maple sugar is coming in fast now at the rate of $6 a gallon. Time was when we sold syrup just as good for $1 a gallon and the first syrup we had for family consumption was so thick that when we poured from a pitcher we had to cut off the stream with a knife, but it was the most delicious stuff imaginable.

The snow last Friday disrupted any signs of spring very much in evidence the day before. Boys have been playing marbles for more than a week. They enjoy polishing marbles on their sweaters more than their mothers like to have them.

Big bikes and little bikes are flying about on the streets. The maple sugar weather, freezing cold nights and the sunny days is the best sign of all for spring will soon be here.

SCHOOL DAYS

One night recently when I was unable to sleep I spent the time comparing the Hillsboro High School curriculum with that of mine, back in the 90's. There were about 65 or 70 pupils in the High school in Dundee, Illinois. We had three teachers, a superintendent of the city school system, and two women teachers. All three were New Hampshire people, graduates (Continued On Page 5)

Syrup Season One of Best

HILLSBORO, March 20 — This may not be the best maple syrup making season in years, but it is next to the best according to such veteran producers as Norman Fletcher, Roscoe Crane, Everett Blanchard, Perley Crane, the Farnsworth brothers, Valley View Farms, and the king of the syrup makers, Walter Chamberlin of East Washington.

About every available maple tree has been tapped in this community with some of the back yard producers with a half dozen trees reporting from one to three gallons already made and in the cans. From a lone maple tapped two weeks ago a local man claims to have boiled down five quarts on the kitchen range for home consumption.

The price here is about $6 a gallon, or about the same as last year, and the quality is said to be excellent. Alfred Flint who boiled down several gallons of maple syrup last January is the man who can boast the distinction of being the first producer in this section.

Gertrude Colby Visits N. H. General Court

HILLSBORO, March 17—Mrs. Gertrude Colby, member of the League of Women Voters attended the Senate hearing on House Bill 26 Wednesday and submits the following views on her experiences there:

"The Mills of the Courts grind slowly—and its not surprising when one considers the various steps a bill must go through before becoming a law.

A bill first has to be debated and passed in the House. It then goes to a Senate hearing comprised of a committee from the Senate and any others who may be interested. From there the executive committee takes over and after due deliberation it is passed on to the Senate with a recommendation that it should or should not pass. If passed in the Senate, it goes to the engrossing department where it is prepared for the Governor's signature after which it becomes law. A Senate hearing was held on House Bill No. 26, relative to the collection of garbage on Wednesday at which time it met with no opposition. However, there was some discussion as to the population of the towns concerned and also as to whether one day a week would be satisfactory."

Honor Boys' and Girls' Teams

One picture is worth a thousand words — and these two pictures just about tell the whole story of the Testimonial dinner last Thursday for the boys' and girls' teams of Hillsboro High. Members of the teams received individual gifts as did their coaches Miss Ruth Farmer and Louis Shopes. Tom Hines owner of the Windsor Mt. Camps introduced Headmaster Bernard and the coaches who responded with words of appreciation. William Mokray, director of basketball at the Boston Gardens made the principal speech. One hundred and forty-eight were served, many of whom stayed for dancing. Active in arranging the dinner were Donald Matthews, Wilfred Dupuis, Meade Baldwin, Eugene Gunn, Philip Dyer, John Tasker and Dr. H. C. Baldwin. Walter Sterling took the above pictures.

Our new work in arithmetic is borrowing. We find that it is quite a lot of fun.

Last week we had a review week of spelling. Our perfect spellers were: Gregory Dramer, Janet Grant, Everett Nay and Fred Winklemann.

To help us with our study of birds, Adolph Baer brought us a bird book.

Janet Grant brought us some very large pussywillows. We drew a picture of them for Mr. Jewett. All drawings are on our bulletin board. We are studying kinds of weather. We are keeping a weather chart for the month of March.

Last week we saw some very interesting movies. One was on candy as a food, another on oranges and lemons and a third about reading. To teach us how to write and mail letters we are preparing a play. We have learned how important our postal workers are in the community.

SIXTH GRADE

Jeanette Miner is back to school today. She has been out the last week sick.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

ENOCH SHENTON

At a time when school teachers are asking pay raises at the town level and more generous pensions at the state level, the Legislature is turning its attention to weaknesses in New Hampshire's educational system. Dr. Hilton C. Buley, state commissioner of education, says 300 teaching jobs in the elementary schools of the state will be vacant next September. A quick survey shows about 300 new teachers will be graduated from Keene and Plymouth Teachers colleges in June. But it develops most of the June graduates won't ever get to be teachers in this state. Dr. Buley says only 35 of them will be "available" to fill the gaps in our schools next fall.

Thoughtful lawmakers are raising the question: Are the teachers colleges serving the purpose they were intended to serve? Both Keene and Plymouth started out as "normal schools" established by state money to produce teachers for elementary schools in this state. They originally offered two-year courses to train teachers for the lower grades. Within the past decade they were converted into "teachers colleges" and a four-year curriculum was added to train high school teachers.

Keene and Plymouth offer a bachelor's degree in their four-year courses. Most of the high school teachers needed in the state, however, are turned out by the University of New Hampshire, an old stand-by in this field. The bulk of our elementary school teachers have only two-year certificates from Plymouth and Keene, or the equivalent. As a result, more than half of the teachers in the public school system don't even have bachelor's degrees. Only six percent have masters' degrees, and these mostly teach in the high schools.

From this point of view, at least, schools in the Granite State fall far below the standards in many other states. In California, for instance, 52 percent of all public school teachers have masters' degrees. That may have some bearing on the salary situation: California teachers salaries $3,400 a year; New Hampshire teachers get an average of $1,850.

It appears that many children are being introduced into the school system under teachers who are, at best, only semi-educated themselves. There is evidence that many students at Keene and Plymouth Teachers colleges have no intention of becoming teachers. Some are there because they can't get into any other college. The real colleges, including UNH, are crowded, so competition for entrance is too stiff for many recent high school graduates with a hankering for higher education.

At Keene, it is reported, some students go for a year because they can transfer after that to the state university as sophomores. And many of those who transfer are having trouble making the grade at UNH, an indication that scholastic standards at the university are much higher than at the teachers colleges.

The Legislature is interested in these problems, because the teachers have introduced legislation giving them a better pension schedule. (Continued On Page 7)

We are learning to spell. Bonita, Jeanette, Richard, Norman, Carlin, James, Theodore, Brenda, Patrick, Karen, Kathleen, Barbara and Donna had 100 per cent on Friday. Every one enjoys our fish pond. On each fish there is written a combination. If we can tell the answer quickly we keep the fish, otherwise he swims away.

GRADE TWO

We enjoyed our movie on South America very much. Mrs. Adie Yeaton and Mrs. Floyd Harvey visited our grade. In a vocabulary test Marguerite Nelson, Daniel Marchand and Kenneth Colburn received one hundred per cent. The following pupils have had one hundred all week in spelling, Nancy Shoppes, Judith Fogg, Mildred Feldblum, Jacqueline Maine, Marie Young, Geraldine Ellsworth, Susan Olson, Malcolm Cote, David Cooper, Kenneth Colburn and Daniel Marchand.

GRADE THREE

The first grade children showed us their nice spelling papers. In a multiplication and division test, the following people had one hundred per cent: Darlene Powell, De Witt Woods, John Evans, Richard Baldwin, David Jovin and Walter Olson. Albert, Catherine, David, De Witt, Edward, Jane, Judith, John Evans, Virginia Matthews and Walter have had one hundred per cent in spelling for five consecutive weeks.

GRADE FOUR

Robert Chase went to Manchester one day, to get his eyes tested. David Sterling attended the dinner given at the High School in honor of the basketball team. Mr. McCormack brought us a movie on South America. Our teacher is telling us a story about time as a kind of measure. Without it we should get all mixed up. We might make the bad mistake of coming to school on Saturday.

GRADE FIVE

Judy Gove came back to school on Thursday after three days of illness.

Marshall Bennett and John Olson were the captains of the basketball teams that played at the high school last Friday night. Jude, Bobby and Henry played on Marshall's team. Merritt, Wilbur and Walter played on John's team. Marshall's team won.

Next week Mrs. Day is teaching us how to make a "Dutch Poster" that goes along with Peter Stuyvesant and the first settlers in New York.

Bobby, Willow, Beatrice Beverly, Betty, Judy, Constance, Catherine, Anna Marie, Karen, John, Henry, Bruce, Edward, Maxine, Faith, Merritt, Maurice and Kathleen got 100 per cent in spelling for the week ending March 10.

Reported by Kathleen Johnson

GRADE SIX

The 5th and 6th grades had a Mock Town Meeting complete with election of officers and talking over their duties.

We miss Barry Harlow who has gone away for 2 weeks and Leon Parker who is sick with "German Measles".

Harrison brought pictures of his new pets "Hamsters" and told us all about them. Mr. McCormack brought us a very interesting movie "Our Southern Neighbors" that took us on a trip all through South America which is what we are doing in our Social Studies.

UPPER VILLAGE SCHOOL

Those who earned one hundred per cent in spelling last week were: Mary Gallagher in both work book and list words and those in just the list words were: Carol Sweeney, Rose Sweeney, Margaret Gallagher, Brenda Camara, John French and Jeanette Hersey.

For our art lesson last week we drew a sugar orchard, with buckets hanging on trees, the sugar house and animals running among the trees. Mr. Jewett said they were very good.

The seventh and eighth grades are having fun diagraming and analyzing sentences also phrasing the words. No one has had a perfect sentence yet, altho Nancy Crane in the seventh grade made only one mistake on a hard sentence one day.

Thomas Camara in the first grade has mastered all of the addition and subtraction combinations through ten.

Mr. McCormack came last Wednesday and showed us a reel about how oil is taken from the earth.

HILLSBORO

The Homer Piper home on the East Washington road and the house owned by Herbert Hallas on the same road were broken into sometime during the past few months and several valuable articles are reported missing. Both homes have been closed since last fall. The houses are off the main road with the nearest neighbors living half a mile away.

Hillsboro High School INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL

The sophomore class dominated the inter-class basketball league by amassing 20 points, out of a possible 24. The sophomore girls' team was the only team to go undefeated. They won 6 straight games, but they had to go all out to defeat the juniors twice by 19-18 and 13-12 scores.

In the boys' half of the league, we find that the teams were more evenly matched. What one team may have lacked in ability, it made up for in fight and spirit. The freshmen, sophomores and senior classes had a record of 4 wins and 2 losses each.

Mr. Sergius Bernard, Mr. Bartlett Lund, Mr. George Bower, and Mr. Louis Shoppes officiated for the boys' games; Miss Ruth Farmer and Miss Priscilla Cody for the girls' game.

Approximately 90 students took part in the inter-class basketball. Seven boys and 6 girls were ineligible due to Varsity play. The following students represented their classes on the hardwood floor:

William McGreal Is Fortnightly Speaker

HILLSBORO, March 17 — The Fortnightly Club held a very interesting meeting last Thursday evening, March 10th, at the community building. Mr. William McGreal, executive secretary of the N. H. Association for the Blind, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. McGreal was for many years a business executive in this country and in Europe before he lost his sight several years ago. Since then he has taught at Perkins Institute for the Blind in Watertown, Mass., and has done much speaking and writing. He described some of the services which the N. H. Association for the Blind performs such as acquainting the blind of the state with helpful materials to which they may have access. Many of these materials were on display. There was a braille typewriter, copies of "The Readers Digest" in braille, playing cards with braille figures, a special alarm clock, a thermometer, etc. Mr. McGreal also described "talking books." They are records on which well known books are read by actors.

Many members of the Benevolent Society, the Deborahs, and the Ladies' Aid Society were present as guests of the Fortnightly Club.

During a short business meeting plans were made for the style show to be held March 30. Home made candy is to be sold during intermission. The school children are to sell tickets and a prize will be offered to the one selling the most.

It was voted to enter a nationwide contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. It is a "Build a Better Community" contest and some community project must be undertaken. The first prize is $10,000 and will be given by Kroger's, a chain store in the South and West.

It was also voted that the club sponsor the annual cancer drive.

An announcement was made of a special supper meeting to be held April 28 for the election of officers. A special meeting for the Juniors on March 15 at Mrs. Henry Martin's was also announced.

A beautifully appointed table was set in one corner of the room. St. Patrick's day decorations were used. There was a center-piece of green carnations and on each side of it a cake with green and white icing. Fancy sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Joan Taylor, Mrs. Mildred Eaton, Mrs. Eli Laundrie, Mrs. Clara Richardson, Mrs. Lougee, and Mrs. Ruth Derby. Mrs. May Rysnik also worked on the committee but was unable to be present.

Weare

Mrs. Irene Flanders
CORRESPONDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dow are back in Weare, after a trip to the Carolinas. They made their headquarters in Walhalla, where they stayed with their daughter, Rebecca.

News items given me by Henry Osborne, Safety Chairman of Weare Parent - Teachers Association. Through the efforts of the Safety Chairman of our local P.T.A., the Fish and Game department at Concord, sent their representative John Dodge, over to the High school last November. He gave a most interesting and helpful talk to the High and Junior High pupils and teachers, on the subject of Safety and Accident Prevention as related to the sports of hunting, fishing, camping, etc., with particular reference to deer hunting—as that season was about to open. Wish we might have all heard him.

In January the Safety Chairman contacted the Motor Vehicle department, and they were very glad to send over a representative, who gave a talk on Highway Safety, to the High and Junior high groups on January 1st. We much appreciate this cooperation and hope the talks have been of lasting benefit.

At the next meeting of our P. T.A., to be held March 21, Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Weare High School building, the Safety Chairman has arranged to have Malcolm Wilkins, Safety Director of the Motor Vehicle department, present a program on Highway Safety. This should be most interesting and helpful meeting. The public is invited, and a large attendance is hoped for.

Between the Stanley Products and Plastic parties, the ladies in our town shouldn't have time to be bored; plastic parties this past week; one Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Leon Reade as hostess, and another that evening at the home of Mrs. Rita Farmer. Helen Dearborn is conducting them, and they are a social get-together as well as a demonstration. After the various articles have been displayed, the hostess serves a lunch, and then the friends go home feeling happy over a pleasant afternoon, or evening.

The banquet for the basketball players was held Wednesday night at the High School. Mrs. Finnegan and several girls from the Home Ec. class served the dinner in Room 2, and a grand dinner it was. Fricasee chicken, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, hot rolls; in fact, almost like 'Thanksgiving and topped off with apple pie and ice cream. Following the dinner, the awards and letters were presented. Each captain was presented with a gold basketball; Mr. Travor presented one to Diana Colburn, girl's captain, and Mr. Rysnik one to the boy's captain, Clarence Still, Jr. The girls' received letters were Patricia Rowell, Lucille Farwell, Dorothy Wheldon, Janet Hight, and Carol Sweitzer, Mgr. Boys' received letters were Donald Smith, Raymond Eaton, Marvin Colburn, Walter Morse, Carroll Carter and Charles Brown, Mgr. The stars, given to players already having letters were given to the following: Girls, Glenina Jessaman, Louise Philbrick, Erma Chase, Virginia Hartleb, June Turner, Eleanor Moody, Diana Colburn, Captain, Jane Fisk, Shirley Colburn and Barbara Farwell. Boys: Gordon Brown, Glendon Drewry, Frank Sawyer, Jr., Clarence Still, Captain and George Sawyer. Following the presentation of the awards, films were shown in Room 1, with the school projector, after which they all enjoyed an hour of dancing. Shirley Colburn brought down her "Vic", which furnished the music.

Mary Flanders writes home that she has been walking in the famous gardens of Duke University and they are beautiful. She says that jonquils and hyacinths are in bloom, and the magnolias are lovely. I look at my garden under two or three inches of snow, but our New England weather it could disappear very fast.

The Rifle Club was to have met at Jed Hight's last week, but that day there was a good run of sap, so he took them down to the sap camp to hold the meeting. Probably the first time a Rifle Club ever met, and made plans while the sap boiled down. They plan to have a Rifle-training course, some time in the year, for boys and girls of High school age, such as was held three years ago. Those young people benefited greatly from it, and most of the ones in that same age bracket now have had little or no training. Following the meeting, a most unusual sort of refreshments was served; ice cream with maple syrup, as well as cookies and coffee. The next meeting, if held in the camp, will no doubt be very well attended.

The Sunday Night Sing was held at the home of Leon Reade. Ten singers were present, and Mrs. Kamp played for the singing. Mrs. Reade served cakes and coffee at the close of the evening, which, as usual, every one was ready for.

I wonder how many burned the mid-night oil last week working on their Income Tax?

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rhodenizer have been entertaining for a few days Cecil Gallant of Boston, Mass., manager of the Men's department of Filene's. Mr. Gallant also spent part of his vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rhodenizer of Hopkinton, Mr. Rhodenizer's parents.

Billy Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stevens of South Weare, recently spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danaher, in White River Junction, Vt. Mrs. Stevens went over for the weekend and to bring Billy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Flanders and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reade motored to Belmont, Mass., last Sunday to attend the dedication of the new Evangel church, of which Mr. and Mrs. John Douhan, who have a summer home in South Weare are members. Many people had to stand through the service, as the church seats about 275, and there were many more there. The ground was broken last November, so they feel that they have gotten along very well. Over $300 was taken at the collection, which was added to the $100 taken in the morning, and will be put in the Church Fund. The Douhans are very active in church work; Mr. Douhan is one of the deacons, and Mrs. Douhan has a Sunday school class. The trip was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Douhan and naturally they were very pleased. Their Weare friends said it was a very inspiring service.

At the meeting of the Church Circle this past week, it was voted to give $10.00 to the Fire Escape Fund, in memory of Myrtle Eastman, who has been a very interested member of our meeting. Just two weeks before her death she expressed her interest in this project of the church. Although she has not been an active member in late years, we will miss her interest and prayers for our group.

The Selectmen and tax collector, Norman Fletcher met with the Tax Commission in Concord Saturday.

Four members "hoofed" it up Mac Neils' Hill last Thursday night to attend the knitting club meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Otterson. Mrs. Drew drove up later in the evening and brought us all home in her car. We were all very happy to ride home, as a sleet storm came up while we were there, and the walking back would have been almost impossible.

Lovell Grange No. 5 met Friday night. There were 23 present, including three visitors from Claremont. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cilley had charge of refreshments.

LISABEL GAY'S COLUMN

of Colby Academy of which my sister Julia was the youngest. She accepted the position in 1892 the year of the Columbian Exposition in Chicago. Partly because of this fact, she took me with her to attend High School. I entered the second year of the one and only four year course. But the first year was really like the eighth grade. It was called the Junior Middle year and not the Sophomore year.

My studies were Algebra, Ancient History, Latin. We had a sort of Inductive method of teaching the subject and began right away with the first sentence in Caesar, "omnia gallia in partes tres, divisa est." We were taught the declensions, conjugations as they came along. The second year we read Caesar and the third year Cicero and Ovid. I wasn't a very brilliant student for I knew nothing of English grammar but my sister was the teacher and was peaved with me because I could scan the lines in Ovid without knowing all the rules and she couldn't. The Senior Middle year we read Caesar and the Senior year Cicero and Ovid. My other study was English. We began with rhetoric and I was surprised into learning all about metaphors and similies when I hardly knew a noun from a verb. We read the "Vision of Sir Launfal".

The Senior Middle year I struggled through plane geometry, several of Shakespeare's plays, Medieval History and Zoology and Botany. My sister taught the last two, although she had never studied either one, but she had to teach them because the other two did not want to. The Botany was largely a study of the wildflowers, collecting, pressing and analysing them. The year before I had gone out with the class to gather specimens for Julia this year I went again for myself. These Botany trips were real pleasure trips. I should of had Physics, but it was omitted that year. The Senior year having had trouble with my eyes, I was excused from English and civics was read to me and I really studied only Latin and Chemistry. Nobody ever had a happier time in High School even if we had no gym work, no basketball or other games. One year we did have dumbbell exercises, very simple and taught in the assembly room. One thing we did have that has been of practical use through out life. We had no dramatic club, glee club or orchestra, but each month we had a Society meeting which was named the Euphemian. It took the place of all dramatic work and entertainment and three times each year we gave a public performance, earning enough money to buy a new piano. The Society was really organized and we studied Robert's Rules of Order very assiduously. When I was President the boys and the girls had a fight, but since that grueling experiences, I have never been afraid to preside at any meeting. I graduated in 1895 and certainly no one ever had a happier time than I had during those three years.

Recently Frank told me of an incident that shows the Boys Scouts are in good working order. Frank asked a small boy to bring his mail from the post office to his car. He offered to pay the boy for his service but he refused saying, "I don't want your money. This will be my good deed for the day". It is gratifying to know the organization is functioning, although I hear little about it.

Dr. Phoebe Clover of the State Sanitarium of Westfield, Mass., was our guest for the week-end.

Mrs. Harry Feldblum has joined the Concord Chapter of Gold Star Mothers of America, to perpetuate and honor the name of her beloved son, Charles V. Feldblum, who was only 19 yrs. of age when his young life was sacrificed on the battle field in World War II, fighting in defense of his Country for freedom and democracy. Mrs. Feldblum is a veteran of World War I, having served in the Navy for the duration with the Women Reserves as Yeomette, then transferred to Civil Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hess of Westfield, Mass., spent the week-end with her father, Arthur Whitney.

Mrs. John Rowan has returned home after several weeks spent in the New England Sanitorium, Stoneham, Mass.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to all the friends and neighbors for the many deeds of kindness shown me during the long illness and passing of my husband. To the bearers I am very grateful for the services rendered.

TIME — PLACE — FACT
by Jeanne Eccles

Due to the fact that Harry McClintock is a good correspondent, we are still in the thoughts of Patrick Hasbrough, our English visitor of last summer, and the Art Club is the proud owner of The Penquin Modern Painters Book of Colored Reproductions by the famous Graham Sutherland. Anytime you care to look it over it is on the reception table in the Cellar Studio.

Mrs. Anna Belle Mosely, Mrs. Grace W. Carter, and Mrs. Kay Gilchrist were studio visitors last Wednesday evening. The pictures of Mrs. Robinson, were, on the whole, better than two weeks before. Priscilla Baker caught the finest likeness, her watercolor portrait is getting up to the high standard of her pastel portraits.

The Art Club is to have charge of decorating the stage for the Fortnightly Club Fashion Show at the High School on March the 30th at 8 P. M. Should any of you have some dark drapes that could be used for a back drop, telephone me at 102. They will be carefully handled and we will appreciate the loan. At the show, fashions for various age groups will be exhibited and in between the group showings there will be other entertainment. Get your ticket today (only 35c) or several, and take a group of friends with you for the preview of "Hillsboro's Easter Parade", and have an evening's fun.

It won't be long now before you'll see some of the Art Group about town and the countryside getting practice in landscape work. Any work done outside of class can be brought in for Mr. Bruce's constructive criticism, let's all try to do at least one piece of work in between our Wednesday evening meetings.

Remember the Time: 8 to 10 P. M. Wednesday nights.

Remember the Place: The Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel.

Remember the Facts: You are very welcome as a worker or a visitor and Stuart Bruce of Washington is, our instructor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Sir:
I received a brief note from my sister in Bennington, N. H. I take it they had a Town Meeting, wonder if it was Regular or Special?

I understand they are going to move the Soldiers Memorial from the center of the village green over to the side of the road—"House By the Side of the Road" guess I'm rather rattled—it's a monument isn't it?

What is supposed to be the advantage of moving the Memorial—are they going to do away with the green also? Who profits? Whose pockets get lined? Why?

I should judge there was plenty of room for even the largest trailer or half track to get through the too much traffic in Bennington? Can't the Hot Rods miss the monument? If traffic is so heavy why tear out a traffic circle to control traffic? oh? to rebuild later on? Who profits? What do the G. I. Joe-Jane-Mack's think of it or is that the answer? Are the World War I-II vets so high and mighty that the little old hicks of '61 are to be pushed into the side lines, too old and decrepit for the front lines?

I doubt it! I apologise Mack-Joe-Jane! Let's get back to the real question, who profits?? Was it a Regular Town Meeting? Did they print any Town Reports with poll tax paid?

Allowing the meter man Paul Scruton to be judge, Warren Wheeler is doing a good job painting window sash—though he says it is a bit early for St. Patrick's day—each being green.

It would be nice to have a Selectman or some town officer from this end of the town—anyway, we at this end are not slighted on taxes.

Wonder if Lizabel Gay ever helped dip candles? I remember when instead of using candle molds we put desired lengths of candle wicking on sticks, rested the ends of these sticks on other sticks that were held by boxes or chairs. Then with hot tallow we kept dipping the candle wicking until of the desired size.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

IDLE MONEY — IDLE MEN

The appropriation of $750 voted for the care and maintenance of Grimes Field by the town meeting can be used to make Hillsboro a better place in which to live.

Possessing one of the finest ball fields in this area, it would be wise to keep the field in good condition as well as to consider completion of the tennis courts. If possible additional money, and we understand there is some in the Grimes Field Fund, could be used for an outdoors basketball court, and to make the grand stand dressing rooms habitable.

It would seem that idle money could be used now to help some of the unemployed and to improve the assets of the Town.

GARBAGE AGAIN

The action of the Precinct meeting to dismiss the Article regarding the garbage-rubbish problem was a foregone conclusion. This probably kept some of the more luke-warm supporters of such a plan from attending the meeting. Some good was accomplished, however, in the decision to have a committee make a study of the problem and to report back to the next annual meeting.

Until then we'll have to haul our own, bury it, burn it, or as one man recommends, leave it on the car running board in hopes someone will steal it.

$3,000 was voted to carry on the work of the precinct which briefly is maintenance of the town water system and a fire department as well as incidentals arising therefrom. It would be interesting to note that the precinct has an indebtedness to whom we don't know. I would seem that this could have been paid off in the past few good years. The town records in the town report are not to explicit on this detail.

Had the $3,000 been voted to establish a garbage collect system our precinct rate would have been doubled. A man now paying $2.80 per thousand dollars valuation for present precinct service would pay $5.60. A home owner of a house assessed at $2,000 would pay $13.20 each year for maintenance of the water, and sewer systems, the fire department, and garbage collection. The value of a garbage collection service from a health standpoint is of course the important factor or should be.

The Nashua Fish and Game Association has issued warning that the year 1949 is going to be a year of action. If the club carries out all the projects on the program we see where someone is going to be very busy this summer. This club has a fine clubhouse, a trout pond, and many other attractions.

The Amherst Fire department are sure on their toes. They have got out a little card telling the fire alarm signal and also the laws on forest fires and the public statutes on fires.

Clipping from Prof. Eugene R. Musgrove, a former Bristol man, but now teaching at Upsala college, East Orange, N. J. The clipping shows a white rat crawling over a hound pup while a large cat looks on.

The Dublin Rod and Gun club is to reorganize and will have a banquet and meeting in the near future.

George C. Paro, president of the Lone Pine Hunters Club, Inc., of Nashua, is sending an SOS to all the clubs in the state and some to nearby clubs in Massachusetts, asking for help to raise $89,301.48 to complete the work at the Nashua federal hatchery: $55,000.00 has been spent by the Federal government, but to put the plant in real working order requires much more. They are to contact the Senators and Representatives at Washington. This hatchery means a great deal to us in this state and Massachusetts.

Did you attend the big Sportsmen's Show at Farmington? Sorry to miss it March 4, 5 and 6.

At the Outdoors Writers' banquet and meeting at the Hotel Lenox, I sat beside Mr. Parker, who runs a sporting goods store in Manchester. Got to talking about revolvers. He sure knows his stuff when he gets to talking guns.

The NORCO Sportsmen's club of Worcester, Mass., is to run a big sportsmen's show in that city May 18 to 21.

The Fish and Game Department of this state were well represented at the meeting of the Wildlife Management Institute. Department heads from all the states of the Union were present. This meeting was held in the national capital.

Well, the Legislature stepped on the dog racing tracks, but they turned around and stopped a hike in the dog licenses. They wanted to make it $5 for males, $10 for females. Too many of the members own dogs. It's the same as before, $2 for males, $5 for females. Then a special breeder's license.

Two parties asked this week about the Havahart humane trap. One party forgot to sign his name, so I am telling where to write for a catalog: HAVAHART, 37 North Water Street, Ossing, N. Y. Yes, it's a humane trap, as I caught the same cat four times in 10 days.

The State of Maine is going to issue a 15-day fishing license for $1.75. Now law just passed.

Fowl cholera epidemic hits ducks wintering in Texas. This is caused by a kind of domestic fowls being taken into streams. More than 150,000 migratory waterfowl normally winter in this region. Got a few last week that dead hens are being thrown into some of our best trout streams. Report in at once if you see this being done.

Watch your dogs if you live near a deep stream or pond. Dogs are in the habit of crossing on the ice during the winter when it's safe. With these warm days the ice is not safe. Many a fine buck and doe deer have been killed this way. Many boys have been drowned this past week crossing on rotten ice.

What is your town going to do about Old Home Day this year? Good idea to celebrate.

Reue Duval of East Jaffrey, the well known hunter and trapper, is enjoying a new sport, wild boar hunting up near the city of Newport. The big blow of 1938 blew down some of the fence at Corbin's park and some of the wild boar got out. They are now roaming over several towns. No one knows how many are running, but one man counted 11 in one pack. They are bad if cornered.

We were much pleased with the large amount of tinfoil and cards for the children in hospitals received this week. Much was left on my back steps while I was away, without any names.

This is the time of the year when I make my annual appeal to bring back my large number of box traps that I have let you take to clean out your family of black and white woods pussies. Look in your shed or barn and see if you can find one of my traps. Mr. Lord and his friend, Charlie Sing, made me very nice ones a few years ago and I have but two left. If you feel bashful about it, just come after dark and leave it on my front lawn. I won't be sore.

The Bureau of Wildlife Research and Management, Phillips Wildlife Laboratory of Massachusetts, is studying the cotton and snowshoe rabbit and hare situation. Members of 18 clubs, mostly beagle hunters, met in Worcester, Mass., and studied the subjects. Their motto is "more hares and rabbits".

Speaking about hares and rabbits, what is a snowshoe hare? Well, it's brown in summer, white in winter, has from two to five young once a year, does not burrow in the ground but has the family under an old stump or a stone wall. Young are born with eyes open and haired out, and ready to run at once. Rabbits are the same color summer or winter, have from six to 12 young, burrow in the ground. Young are born blind and naked for nine days. Mother pulls hair to protect them from the cold.

The stamps issued every year by the National Wildlife Federation are out and I got mine a few days ago. The price is $1.00, and you get them from National Wildlife Federation, 3308 14th Street N. W., Washington (10), D. C.

If you have more extra geeting cards, send some to Mrs. C. H. Tucker, Box 163, Henniker, N. H. She is cooperating with hospitals and makes scrap books for the children with the help of school children. Mrs. Tucker sent me a book and it's good.

Someone up in Tilton sends me a bunch of clippings on the deer killing of humans in the past open season. Serious situation, he says.

Listen to what Henry P. Davis of the Remington News Letter says: "As straight as the crow flies is a well known saying, but crows do not fly that way. Their flight pattern is usually zigzag."
Don't forget the big dog show at Manchester Armory, Saturday, March 19: 100 dogs in the benches. Better run over. Biggest show outside of New York and Boston.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

by ENOCH SHENTON

 tem. At the same time, Keene Teachers college is asking $479,000 from the state this year, and Plymouth is asking $301,000. Some lawmakers are beginning to ask what the state can expect in return for this investment.
 The legislative approach to this matter of improving public education in New Hampshire seems to involve taking three steps: (1) Give a better education at Keene and Plymouth to the young men and women who want to be teachers, find means of improving both colleges or abolish them; (2) Raise the standards a new teacher must meet to be eligible for a state teaching certificate; and (3) Increase the salaries offered to new teachers so there'll be an incentive that will attract better minds into the profession.

Solons Act On Mileage
 The House has shown its temper on the mileage issue by passing a bill that observers believe cannot meet Senate approval. The House voted for a sliding-scale travel allowance for legislators: 10 cents for the first 45 miles in their daily round trip from home to Concord; eight cents for the next 25 miles; six cents for the next 25 miles; and five cents a mile for everything over 95 miles.

That, of itself, appears to be within the limits laid down by the Supreme Court for a mileage allowance. But the House measure permits its members to get their mileage for "each day they are in attendance" at the General Court. Thus, if they stay overnight at Concord on Tuesdays and Wednesday, they don't actually travel. The Supreme Court said it was up to the Legislature to set its own mileage allowance, but spelled out very clearly its opinion that no payments could be made for mileage that was not actually travelled. Observers expect the Senate will amend the bill before it goes to Gov. Sherrin Adams, so this unconstitutional phase will be eliminated.

The sliding scale now permitted by the bill makes no great reduction in the Legislature's mileage cost. The old formula of $4 for the first mile and five cents for every additional mile, which the Supreme Court ruled invalid, cost about $140,000. The present measure will cost about $125,000. For instance, Berlin representatives travel 240 miles a day to the session, and make the trip three times a week. Under the 1947 mileage rule, they got $48 a week. The new scale will allow them $45.75 a week.

About New Hampshire
 Rep. John Pillsbury of Manchester was appointed $10,000-a-year aide to Sen. Robert A. Taft on the Republican Senate policy committee last week. Thus the Ohio senator paid Sen. Styles Bridges back for helping him hold on to the policy committee chairmanship. Pillsbury was one of Bridges' assistants during the 80th Congress. His new job may take Pillsbury permanently out of New Hampshire politics. He was injected into a possible contest for the GOP nomination for Congress in the first (Eastern) district this winter, when it became evident U.S. Rep. Chester E. Merrow of Ossipee was planning to run against Sen. Charles W. Tobey. Atty. Wesley Powell of Hampton, Senator Bridges' administrative assistant, has been grooming for Merrow's job for years, and the Manchester gang doesn't like the idea. So they were planning to put Pillsbury up for the nomination, and make a fight of it.

Don't look now, but the politicians have forgotten something in their scramble to pick a new congressman in the First District. Foster Stearns, who served in Con-

Questions and Answers about CARE

Questions and Answers about CARE

CARE

Q: What is CARE?

A: CARE is a non-profit, government-approved cooperative of 25 of the leading, accredited American overseas relief agencies, all of which are members of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, Inc.

Q: How does CARE operate?

A: CARE maintains networks of warehouses in all the European countries in which it operates. When you order a package through CARE, you receive a receipt for your money. The order is air-freighted to the CARE representative in the country designated. Delivery is made from the nearest local warehouse. The recipient of the package signs another receipt which is also forwarded to you. Delivery is guaranteed or your money is refunded.

Q: How do I order a package?

A: Send to CARE, 50 Broad Street, N. Y. C. 4, or to your local CARE headquarters, the name and address of the person to whom you wish to send a package... your name and address... and $10 by check, postal or money order. Specify the package you wish to send. CARE will do the rest.

Q: I do not know anyone in Europe, but I would like to help. What can I do?

A: Specify the type of person (doctor, orphan, teacher or any other category) you wish to help and CARE will deliver your package to a worthy recipient selected by CARE'S Member Agencies.

Q: To whom shall I make out the check?

A: To CARE - CARE - that is all that is necessary.

Q: Does the recipient have to pay any tax, or have his ration reduced?

A: No. Exemptions have been provided for in CARE'S contract with the governments of the countries in which we operate.

Q: What countries are served by CARE?

A: Through CARE you can send packages to Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Finland, France, Germany (American, British, and French Zones and all of Berlin), Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland), Greece, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Netherlands and Poland. *Kosher Food Packages may be sent only to these countries.

Q: What kind of CARE packages are there?

A: There are twelve different kinds. Standard Food, Food for Britain, Kosher Food, Oriental Food, Infant Food, Baby Food, Food for Italy, Layette, Blanket, Woolen Suiting, Household Linen, Knitting Wool.

Q: Can I order the British Food Package or the Italian Food Package for delivery in any other country?

A: No. These packages are designed to meet the specific needs of the British and Italian people. They are stored only in warehouses in those two countries. CARE'S Standard Food Package is more suited to the needs of the people in other countries.

Q: What's in the food package?

A: 22½ pounds, net, of food - including meat, sugar, shortening, flour, dried fruits, dried milk, shortening, coffee, egg powder, and soap - amounting to 42,649 calories. It is chosen by top nutritionists to meet the most basic shortages. Each food package holds enough to supplement the rations of a family of four for a month.

Q: How many CARE packages may I send?

A: Three of each of the CARE packages may be sent to an individual each month. (Standard and Kosher Food Packages are considered the same in this regard.) However, there is no limit to the number of packages you may send to groups and organizations for general relief.

Q: How will I know the package has arrived?

A: You will receive a receipt signed by the beneficiary.

Q: Where can I get more information about CARE?

A: Write to CARE, 50 Broad Street, N. Y. C. 4, or your local CARE headquarters.

Overseas Packages

How to send more for less!

When you send food and clothes overseas, you naturally want to send as much as you can for your money. By sending a CARE package, you send the most you possibly can - and exactly what's most needed!

A glance at the chart shows you how much farther $10 goes for a CARE package than one you could assemble yourself. That's because CARE, a non-profit, government-approved service, buys in bulk. CARE-sent packages are delivered duty-free and tax-free. And delivery is guaranteed - or your money back.

People overseas are still on emergency rations - in many instances, barely enough to keep alive. The splendid European Recovery Program, now under way, is a long-range program - so there is still desperate need for immediate help. CARE enables you to send person-to-person help with a minimum of delay. And the money you save by helping through CARE means you can send more food and more clothing more often.

Obey that impulse - fill out a CARE coupon today.

We have an interesting correspondent in the Philippine Islands. Her name is Charmen and she is in the first year of high school. This is equivalent to the seventh grade in our school. Charmen speaks in Tagalog, an island dialect, but she learns to speak and write English in school. Her letters are beautifully written and most informative. We are making a study of the Philippine Republic and the things she tells about all phases of life there have helped to make it more vivid.

We have sent Charmen some paints because she is fond of painting but has to use only a pencil.

We are drawing and painting pictures of one another.

We have learned to play a three part song on our flutophones.
