FURNITURE KING

Joseph M. Eaton

Meet Joseph M. Eaton, proprietor of the Eaton Furniture Company of Hillsboro, which today observes its third anniversary. Mr. Eaton is assisted at the store by his wife Mildred. They have two daughters Nancy and Polly, both High School students and one son Joseph M. Eaton, Jr. now a student at Keene.

Eaton's Birthday Sale Fri., Sat.

HILLSBORO, April 7—Three years ago Joseph M. Eaton placed his first advertisement in the Messenger. It was entitled "Waiting for the Train" and informed Eaton Furniture Company customers that his store was open and that furniture would arrive for the opening. Since that day Eaton's has been favored with good customers, and many trains and trucks have carried furniture to Hillsboro for the Eaton Furniture Company.

This Friday evening and all day Saturday and Saturday evening the Eaton Furniture Company observes its 3rd Anniversary and official opening in a modern block designed for them on West Main Street across from Church Street.

For the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Eaton have prepared a fine assortment of door prizes for their customers to be given away during the official opening.

The new store has the largest frontage and floor space between Concord and Keene. It is 85 feet wide in front, has 2 floors for showroom purposes, divided into floor covering, babies furniture, bedroom and radio department in addition to display of general household furniture. There are fine large storage rooms one of which is a receiving room, where new merchandise is uncrated and readied for display. The new store has fluorescent lights throughout, these to display the furniture as it would be in the customers home.

Eaton's carries all standard nationally known brands which are prominently advertised in the Messenger exclusively.

Mr. Eaton when asked about his official opening said that during the past three years the Eaton Furniture Company has sold furniture in Hillsboro and every town and city within a forty mile radius and that furniture from Eaton's is being used in fifteen states. "We attribute our success to the fact that we sell standard lines of merchandise with very low overhead costs at reduced prices," he said.

COMMUNITY ASS'N TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Hillsboro Community Association will hold their election of officers meeting at the Valley Hotel Monday evening 7 P. M.

Holmes and Mrs. Albert Rush.

Chairman Cogswell has announced that the committee has awarded the contract for World War II Memorial to the Perry Brothers Monument Company in Concord. This includes a granite monument and base 6½ feet high with bronze panel attached with names of those who participated in World War II. This also includes 132 feet of granite curbing around the area.

The contract for trimming and pruning the trees in Woodman Memorial Park has been awarded to the Chase Tree Service of Keene.

The electric light pole at the junction of the streets in front of the Park will be moved by courtesy of Howard Humphrey, manager of the Public Service Company. This will give an unobstructed view of the Memorial. The area where the pole stood will be hard surfaced with tar.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

BY BROOK SHENTON

Unless something jolts the 1949 Legislature out of its complacency, the session may last until next Christmas. Committees are making fair progress on bills, but the main issues of the session remain to be settled. An informal canvass of leaders in the Senate and House of Representatives shows a growing sentiment against the administration's tax reform program. If a vote were taken right now, the retail sales tax probably would be defeated, the one percent personal income tax would be a toss-up.

The legislators and the people who sent them to Concord, either are too stubborn to listen to expert advice on the state's needs for more revenue, or are too stupid to grasp what's been told them time and again, observers fear. With no provision for pay increases, with no allowance for extra "pet" appropriations of state money outside the budget, New Hampshire will have a deficit of $1,610,000 next year and $4,800,000 in the following year. The money has to come from some place.

Yet opposition to the sales tax has come from merchants, organized labor and convinced liberals who feel such a tax bears unfairly on people in the lower-income brackets. As originally devised by the Interim Commission on Taxation, the general sales tax calls for a one-percent levy of all sales of more than 24 cents. In this form, it would produce an estimated $3,600,000 a year for the state. Food would not be exempt.

The hue and cry against the sales tax has been mainly aimed at the tax on "necessities of life." So Gov. Sherman Adams is preparing to offer a compromise to the Ways and Means committee. He would be willing to exempt food and medical supplies. Since these account for about one-third of all retail sales, it means the tax on all other sales probably will have to be boosted to two-percent, to produce the same revenue.

Even this step may not save the sales tax. If, in the end, the House kills this phase of the tax-reform program, it will leave the state budget unbalanced. And the Governor (Continued on Page 10)

He passed away a few years ago.

THIRD GRADE
We enjoyed visiting Peasley's farm. Harriette likes to take care of the chickens. It was the first time some of us had seen baby pigs. We liked the twin goats and little lambs.

Virginia Matthews and Walter Olson stood up the longest in our spelling match.

De Witt has been absent all week. Judith and Richard have been ill also. We hope they will get better real soon.

FOURTH GRADE
Patricia Yeaton, Jack LaMontagne and Lloyd Ryley have been absent for the past few days because of illness.

We are learning a spring poem. We enjoyed the fashion show very much.

David Sterling will draw the calendar for April.

We are collecting money for crippled children.

FIFTH GRADE
John Sands won the second prize for selling tickets for the fashion show.

Henry Woods returned to school on Friday. There are two out now, Maurice Ryley and Catherine Monagle.

We are planning to go to the fair grounds next Wednesday for our baseball practice for the boys, and softball for the girls.

The third grade and fifth grade visited Peasley's farm last Tuesday. We are studying the ages of plants and animals. Merritt has told us how to tell the ages of horses, cows and sheep.

Those getting one hundred percent in spelling for the week ending April 1, 1949 are: Constance, Karen, Beverley, Anna Marie, Beatrice, Kathleen, Ellen, Maxine, Judy, Faith, Bobby and Henry.

Reported by Judy Gove

SIXTH GRADE
James McClintock received first prize at the fashion show for selling the most tickets.

Miss Pierce loaned us a film that we certainly enjoyed. It fit in perfectly with our social studies.

Harrison Baldwin, Ann Sands, Gerry Cate, Robert Young, Walter Sterling, Barbara Mills, Carole Fogg, Dellene Devlin, Warren Gee, Jimmie McClintock, Martha Marchand, Sandra Bonnette, Marshall Bennett, Mildred Powell, John Olson, Anne Broadley, Leon Parker, Cynthia Cooper, Barry Harlow, Barbara Dumais, Eleanor Flanders, Ernest Poland, Jane Seymour and Ann Clough all had one hundred percent this week in spelling.

UPPER VILLAGE SCHOOL
Those who earned one hundred percent in the science review last Friday were: Salley Crane and John French in the Fourth grade and Jeanette Hersey and Lester

Sweeney in the eighth grade.

Those with perfect spelling work books last week were, Mary Gallagher, Norma Sweeney, Carol Harris and Stephen Leedham. Those with perfect list words were; Mary Gallagher, Sally Crane, Stephen Leedham, Rosemarie Gallagher, Ronald Roy and Gerald Blanchard.

In art last week we drew pictures of farm animals. We are making Indian drums and rattles from birch bark.

The Citizenship class is studying the Constitution of the United States.

We are having fun during our morning exercises with our "Did you know?" statements.

The first and second grade "Early Cavemen" class is making some pretty weaving patterns.

The third, fourth and fifth grades wrote a story about "A Funny Monkey". Stephen Leedham and Mary Gallagher had the best stories with the fewest mistakes.

TRIP TO CONCORD
On Wednesday morning, March 27, Miss Johnson's World Problems class went to Concord to visit the Legislature. Having a little time to spare after arriving in Concord we went to the airport. There we were given an interesting tour, showing us the weather station, communications room, different types of private planes, and even a peek in an airliner.

CARD OF THANKS
The Hillsboro Fortnightly Club feels very grateful to all who in any way made the Fashion Show such an outstanding success. To merchants, models, artists, musicians and many many more, we say "Thanks a Million."

SPORTSMEN'S COLUMN

by GEORGE S. PROCTOR

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONSERVATION OFFICER
Phone 104 Wilton, N. H.

Another nice letter from Eric E. Geddes, conservation officer, of Center Harbor. He reports robins at Moultonboro, the earliest ever. He found where a bobcat had eaten a small deer, and he is to take a bunch of cat dogs and get that big fellow. Said hello to a bob house on the lake and found two women from Center Harbor. Mrs. Herbert Blackley reported fine luck all winter in her house. This bob house was the last to be seen on the big lake.

The Seeing Eye Guide, issued every quarter, is an interesting little sheet. They want to get some young men between the ages of 22 and 27 to act as instructors to train dogs and to train blind people to handle the dogs. It takes three months to train a dog and one month to train a blind person. Any blind person between the ages of 16 and 55, physically and mentally O.K., may apply for a dog guide in writing to the school at Morristown, N. J. No blind person has ever been denied the Seeing Eye service for lack of funds.

The Nashua Fish and Game pool was officially opened Saturday last at 1 p. m. We saw over 50 men trying their hardest to entice a big trout to take hold. Ran across Tim Barnard and Officer Tibbets at the pool. Tim said her thought the water was too cold for good results. Most of the fishermen that I saw were climbing trees to retrieve their snagged lines. All in the game.

The Phillips Wildlife Laboratory at Upton, Mass., is to give away wood duck nesting boxes to the Sportsmen's clubs and individuals, to be put up for the benefit of the wood ducks. Many big trees have been cut and the ducks have no place to live.
One day last week I read a history of New Hampshire printed in 1835 by Jeremy Belknap. What interested me the most was the story of the wild animals. This book was loaned to me by Rev. Henry Wilson of the Congregational church. Wolves were plentiful, so much so that the people of Amherst gathered one day, the men with guns and the women with pans, and made a great noise and drove the wolves from the big swamp. Bears were very plentiful and deer were very scarce as the bears, the panthers and bobcats killed them off. In 1731 a bear killed an eight year old boy at Suncook and in 1784 an eight year old boy was killed by a bear at Moultonboro. He was sent for the cows and never came back. Wild turkeys were plentiful and went to as high as 40 pounds each. The great rat from Europe came to this country from a vessel that was wrecked on the coast. In 1741 the wild pigeons were very plentiful and clouded the sky when they flew and broke down trees. The bounty on wolves was $20.
Do you know what deer are now selling for? The state of Florida has purchased from a private firm in Wisconsin 100 deer and paid $90 each for them.
Farmers and poultrymen are reporting that mink are doing a lot of damage to poultry. Last fall a lot of small brooks went dry and no feed for them, so they are branching out into the country.
That dog show at Manchester last week was a humdinger according to those who attended. I was unable to attend.
Here is good news to you fruit men and garden owners. Out in Chicago a big Chemical company has just invented a spray that will keep deer and all vermin away from your orchards and gardens. As soon as it is on the market we will tell you all about it.
The other day I got a good look at some of these rare chincillas. This was at the home of Winthrop Whipple of Nashua. Mr. Whipple has a wonderful lay out and we wish him success.
If you know of anyone having mallard ducks to sell, get in touch with me. I have a number of people who want to buy a few pair to put on small ponds to get rid of the mosquitoes this summer.
Col. Alcott F. Elwell of Mowglis Camp for boys at East Hebron, makes the following suggestions as to the deer season. He would like to see the first two weeks for natives only and the last of the season open to the world. This would keep a lot of out-of-state hunters from crowding in with the natives. Make of "True" for men only and then turn to page 38 and learn how they catch 12-pound trout with vaseline. This vaseline when formed into a small ball looks like a salmon egg. Well, you read it for yourself, entitled, "The Miracle of Catharine Creek."

Last week I got a number of nice letters from all over the country. Four of them were unsigned, and we were sorry to consign them to the wastebasket. Too bad, as some of them would have been of interest to the readers. If you have not got the courage to sign your name, don't write.

Prof. Alfred O. Gross, National expert, tells us that eider duck has made a wonderful comeback in the past few years. The black duck is just holding its own.

Ralph G. Carpenter, Director of the Fish and Game Department, has just been elected chairman of the recently organized Northeastern Atlantic States Administration Council. It's composed of the heads of the Fish and Game Departments in the eastern seaboard states and goes as far south as West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The purpose of this organization is to effect better coordination of the development of up-to-date game management in the northeastern block of states.

Here I am, putting everything in "that" paper again that is, everything I can think of that should be there, and maybe a little extra!

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Jackson spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gaudet.

Mrs. Nellie Nichols of Penacook, N. H. was at the home of her daughter Mrs. Preston Rolfe over the week-end.

Mrs. Harold Farnsworth was the guest of honor at a baby shower on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Delphond. The party was planned earlier but had to be postponed. She received many nice gifts.

Miss Marion Wilder of Peterborough, N. H. visited her sister and family, Mrs. Wm. Otterson, Jr., the past week-end.

I was one of 24 brave souls who attended the Whist party last Friday night. Gee, everything was confusing; the cards were all mixed up and had to be sorted before we could even play; the prizes were very attractively wrapped, but that was as far as the attraction went. We still had the refreshments to look forward to. But even the cooks (or a couple of them) went on a spree by adding some extra ingredients not usually found in cookies. However, a real good time was had by all as we were well aware of the fact that it was "April Fools' Day."

Mr. Wilbur T. Tucker was at the party and was presented with a nice cake in honor of his birthday. Don't know the age.

The committee in charge of the card parties turned over $5 of the money raised to Mrs. Wilbur Tucker for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Fund.

Recently a basketball and two baskets were purchased for the school by the card party committee. The school children were delighted with their new possessions, and we know they will make good use of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrington, Mr. Amos Harrington, and Donald of Hillsboro were guests at a birthday dinner party for Mr. Wilbur T. Tucker on Sunday. His birthday was the Friday before.

Miss Phylis Gaudet spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gaudet.

home from N. H. U. all of last week. He returned Sunday.

Bobby Bumford had the misfortune to saw off part of one of his fingers last week in the work shop at High School.

Mrs. Martin fell and broke her wrist and is in a Concord hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice French and family attended the Sportsman's Show in Claremont on Saturday.

Mrs. Carver at Leslie Smith's is very sick.

Mrs. Nissen has been very sick but is feeling better.

Mrs. Richard Hodgman has been seriously sick; but now is improving.

Mrs. Frank Gagget is still confined to her bed.

The Community Club will meet at Fuller Hall Saturday evening.

The multitude turned out to pay homage to the master teacher on this day. This sin was that they could not bring themselves to stay and listen. They made their choice of life or death and they chose death for the sake of present values. Let us not make this mistake. Let their experiences be a lesson to us for our good.

Mrs. Inez Cole is coming home Friday from Meriden, Conn., where she is spending the winter with her daughter Rosamund Cole. Mrs. Roscoe Harris returned from the Concord Hospital on Saturday. Her body is in a cast, and she is doing well as she can under the circumstances.

Harriet Grimes of Concord was in town the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Grimes and daughter were guests on Sunday of his grandmother, Mrs. John Grimes.

Mr. Neil Fullerton joined his wife and son David at the Colby home for the week-end and all returned to Boston on Sunday after Mrs. Fullerton's weeks vacation.

Mrs. Gladys Pike Woods and husband of Athol, Mass. were visiting friends in Hillsboro on Sunday.

Mrs. John Tasker visited her mother in Meriden on Tuesday and brought her home with her.

This is Spring, but Wednesday looked more like December. A proper greeting for the day was like the verse we use to learn in school. It was "Good morning Miss April so winsome and shy, with a smile on your lip and a tear in your eye."

Mr. Albert Barrett sent me a card from Los Angeles, California, where he has spent a pleasant winter vacation with his parents. But he thinks there's nothing like New Hampshire, especially Hillsboro.

Time-Place-Fact

by Jeanne Eccles

Our English visitor Winston Churchill is, probably, our best internationally known advocate for art for relaxation's sake. Never a week passes but that some newspaper or magazine pictures him at his easel out-of-doors.

With spring in the air inspiration is to be found in an article entitled "By the Grace of God" under "Portraits" by James J. Metcalfe. To quote "All things are by the Grace of God—The Sun and Moon—The Mountain Peaks—The Weather and the Seas—And everything upon this Earth—Yet some forget this vital fact—They try to take the credit for—The Glory of the Day—But they must know they cannot live—forever on his sod—And, therefore, even they themselves—Are by the Grace of God."

Due to the tireless energy of 'The Fortnightly Clubs' members the Fashion Show—Hillsboro's Easter Parade Pre-view was both a lucrative and an artistic success, more than $100 was raised for the school lunch program. Any who wish to buy pictures of the show contact Cy Phelps.

Lets all get behind another COMMUNITY affair, Hillsboro's 50th Anniversary of the Old Home Day observance, August 27, and make it the biggest and best ever, one to be really remembered with pride. Perhaps, an outdoor art exhibition could be worked out, too, during that week, any suggestions? It would be a good chance for craftworkers to get orders for winter work.

We miss Priscilla Baker at class, and hope that she will soon be up and out. This year's form of the flu is not easy to throw off, it seems to keep recurring.

Gene Colburn was our hard working model again last week and this week Wednesday, Mr. George Boynton will sit for us, so:

Remember, the Time, Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 P. M. Remember, the Place: The Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel.

Remember, the Facts: You are welcome as a worker or a visitor, and Stuart Bruce of Washington, N. H. is our instructor.

TEXTILE WORKERS PLAN TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

NEW YORK, N. Y. April 3 — Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, announced today that TWUJA has set aside May 8 to 14 to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the union.

Rieve said that while most of the celebration would be on the local union level, there would be a coast-to-coast radio program over the American Broadcasting company on May 14 and a special rotogravure edition of Textile Labor, the union's semi-monthly newspaper. TWUJA's local unions are planning celebrations to coincide with the radio broadcast. Earlier in TWUJA 10th Anniversary Week they will have exhibits, parades, picnics, open houses, children's parties, and other demonstrations.

Mobile X-Ray Unit In Henniker April 18, 19

HENNIKER, April 7—The State Department x-ray mobile unit will be in Henniker on Monday and Tuesday, April 18 and 19 at the Cogswell Memorial School from 9-12, 1-5 and 6-9, both days, to take chest x-rays.

The object of this chest x-ray survey is to pick out, in a group of apparently healthy adults, 15 years and over, those persons with abnormal x-ray findings, so they may have the benefit of a full clinical examination. Although this service is rendered primarily for the purpose of detecting tuberculosis, many other chest conditions can be detected and the individual benefited thereby.

The individual to be x-rayed fills in an application card at the x-ray unit, or preferably prior to the units arrival. Anyone 15 years and over interested in the chest x-ray is asked to contact the district nurse, Mae Maillette, R. N. There is no charge for the x-ray pictures taken on the Mobile Unit. It is not necessary to undress but there must be no metal objects such as pins, or corset steels above the waist.

On The Street

by PAUL S. SCRUTON

A big city store in a country town is the Eaton Furniture Emporium located in the Edson Tuttle block on West Main street. Modern as tomorrow the store is a credit to the community and Joe Eaton is to be congratulated on his achievement and Mr. Tuttle on his building. Joe is a modest cuss who passes along the credit for his increasing business on the general public and says that if it were not for his many customers the new store would never have been a reality.

We favor a state lottery, strange as it may seem and also new blood in the law making organization. When a man gets to be past the middle bulge in life he winds his watch at 10 o'clock, puts his pants across the back of a chair and uses Bum's soap to keep his feet in condition. He is too set in his ways of thinking and too sure that he is right in his way of living. That is why new ideas are regarded as tricky and what was good enough for father is good enough for me.

The state needs money and it is evident that a state tax or sales tax is to be offered to give increased revenue. We favor betting on the horses and what is the difference between horse betting and a state lottery? Life itself is the biggest gamble and if you want to invest a dollar in a pyramid club who should care? A state lottery would bring in plenty of dough and once in a while some lucky individual would receive a donation. You gamble every day whether you know it or not, even when you attempt to cross the street, pat the strange dog, drink proverbial moonshine or leave off your heavy underwear. You gamble on dropping dead of heart disease or being rushed to a hospital for something or other you never heard of before. Those law makers of ours are either too old or they speak only for themselves rather than the voters.

One of the Deering boys who has lived all his life in these parts said that our Hillsboro cops should stay on their feet and he advises the use of clubs if necessary to keep them upright. He thinks that our police force should not be assaulting on occasions and suggests that trouble makers come to Deering where the vigilantes will welcome them with open arms and pick 'em up unconscious, cart 'em out to the reservoir and dump 'em in the creek.

Gay and Gould, those old timers who have put Hillsboro on the map with celebrations in the past are again cooperating to make the 50th Old Home Day celebration something to write home about, come next August-27. It is good to know that Bill Dupuis if the P. X. is general chairman and some new blood is being injected into the Old Home Day program. It is none too early to start the ball rolling and the cooperation of everybody will make the 1949 celebration a reality. Just now conditions are poor in more ways than one but eventually the mill will start again and we hope before many weeks have passed. With confidence in the future and having lived in cycles and circles we know that the sun will shine again and prosperity will surely return before we observe Old Home Day.

A gentleman who has lived in Hillsboro all his life said that the trade at home policy we have always advocated may be a fine thing but he had to go out of town to buy things he needed that Hillsboro stores ought to carry. He also said that the stores in which he attempted to buy the things he wanted did not even offer to try and get 'em. Better take stock.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

by ENOCH SHENTON

nor has hinted strongly he'll veto the budget bills, if the legislature appropriates money without raising an equal amount of income to pay for it.

As for the state income tax proposal, it's considered an equally important part of the administration's "one-package" tax program. It now calls for a flat one-percent tax on income, with personal exemptions of $1,000 for single wage-earners, $2,000 for heads of families, and $500 for additional dependents. This is estimated to produce $1,200,000 a year. If the sales tax is scuttled, and the state must depend entirely on the income levy, however, the rate may have to be raised as high as five percent.

Stock-in-Trade Repeal
Governor Adams is preparing to sponsor, as an administration bill, a measure to repeal the unpopular stock-in-trade tax. To compensate towns and cities for lost revenue, he would impose a one-quarter of one percent tax on the gross receipts of all manufacturers (that's the total value of their manufactured products.) This move has the support, officially, of the N. H. Manufacturers association. But plenty of disagreement over the merits of the plan is reported within the association.

Dr. John Sly, of the Princeton, N. J., tax expert who helped draft the state's new tax program, investigated the stock-in-trade tax situation for the Manufacturers association last autumn. What he discovered was such a surprise that his report to the directors of the association never has been made public.

His principal finding, according to reliable sources, was that New Hampshire industry as a whole was NOT overtaxed in relation to the industry of other states. His report showed the stock-in-trade tax was not the terrible burden that everybody, including the State Tax commission, thought it was. Only in localities where tax assessments were out of line with the state average, he reported, did any segment of industry suffer from the stock-in-trade levy.

Hence the divided opinion among manufacturers over Governor Adams' proposal to substitute a gross receipts tax for the stock-in-trade levy. Companies that benefit from low assessment on their stock oppose it; those hit by high local assessments want it. Quick-turnover companies don't like the proposed switch; slow-turnover firms favor it.

Senate Districts
The House Judiciary committee surprised observers Tuesday by bringing in a favorable report on House Bill 420, an act redistricting the New Hampshire Senate. The same bill was killed in the 1947 Senate, after being approved by the House. An interim commission found the present districts completely out of line with constitutional intent. The Senate, by basic law, is supposed to be districted so that each district will contain approximately one-twenty-fourth of the total amount of taxable property in the state. At present, no district meets that standard; some of them have barely half the property they should have, others have two and three times the average.

Under the bill brought into the open on Tuesday, only District No. 1, northernmost in the state, would remain unchanged. Every other district has been revamped completely.

Effect of the bill would be to shift 84 of the state's 298 towns and wards from one senate district to another.

About New Hampshire

For the first time this session, a bill was given a second chance by the House this week. House Bill 331, an act to allow first-class restaurants to serve liquor by the drink, made its second trip into the lower chamber on Tuesday. It made a prior appearance there two weeks ago. But the delay didn't change anybody's mind, it seems. A majority of the Liquor Laws committee still considered it "inexpedient to legislate." The committee minority, which wants restaurants to have the right of serve mixed drinks, tied on a neat compromise this time. They proposed a local option law, so that towns voting in favor of the beer referendum on the biennial election ballot also would be allowed to have liquor sold in their restaurants.

Harold Trombley, director of the state Veterans' Council, is one of the most popular state officials in Concord. When April Fool's Day rolled around, some wag stuck a miniature barber-pole outside Trombley's office on the fourth floor of the State House annex. As soon as the word got around, Trombley's phone began to ring. Everybody, it seemed, wanted an appointment for a haircut, shave or manicure. Point of the Joke: Trombley used to be town barber in Meredith.

The House and Senate passed a bill last week legalizing salmon and golden trout fishing on Lake Sunapee on April 1. The new law reached the Governor's desk March 31, but he was attending a conference in Manchester, so it didn't get signed right way. Nimrods in the Sunapee area began to telephone the Governor's office and Fish and Game department to find out whether or not they'd be pinched if they started out to fish the lake on April 1. Governor Adams was informed. He rushed back to the State House Thursday night to sign the bill, so fishermen could start out bright and early Friday morning.

New K-F "Traveler" Is Two Cars In One

SOMETHING NEW in the automobile industry is the "Traveler," a lower-priced '49 multi-purpose sedan being introduced by Kaiser-Frazer dealers. To all appearances it is a conventional four-door model. But the rear seat cushions fold away and the entire back opens to provide access to more than 130 cubic feet of cargo space. When not in use as a carry-all, the "Traveler" is a deluxe, six-passenger family sedan. The cutaway view shows how the seat cushions and hinged rear panels function.

The Granite State Gardener

A few years ago a visitor from northern Scotland told us that the people of his country didn't need a deep freeze; that they could go out any time during the winter and harvest carrots, beets, parsnips, salsify, onions, cabbage, broccoli and other hardy crops. Because of our severe winters, we in this country are not as fortunate. We find it best to do our harvesting in fall.

However, in looking over our variety garden we found a number of vegetables that remained edible during the winter. They included both the Model and Guernsey varieties of parsnips. The Model is the commercial variety; long, straight and white when washed. The Guernsey is shorter and stubbler and sweeter in flavor.

We also found two varieties of Korean or Japanese onions of the Welsh onion type. They are a distinct species of onions, perfectly hardy and are propagated by root divisions, like the Multiplier. The larger of the two was milder in flavor.

There was some Elephant's Leek, but most of the Leek was frozen. I don't care much for Leek; I think that onions are preferable. Onions have a more sprightly flavor and are more tender and chisp. We cooked some Leek last fall and didn't like it.

We also found Hamburg or turnip-rooted parsley. We diced some of it and made a cream soup that was really very nice and a pleasant change from tomatoes or celery - also the salsifies, both the black and the Sandwiche Island. The black salsify is sometimes called Sconzoneira. To my surprise, it was much nicer raw than the ordinary salsify. It had long straight, dark colored roots which had a crisp flavor, resembling perhaps a bit of coconut. I would like to have some of it cooked sometime, although I certainly liked it raw. There are two objections to the ordinary salsify: the side roots which make it hard to clean, and the milky juice which is hard to wash from the hands.

We also harvested a few spinach plants of a variety that came from Korea. It is a spiny seeded spinach which has been discarded in this country. It went to seed rapidly, reseeded itself and lived all winter. Apparently it is the hardiest of all varieties of spinach.

Bright and early Gordon and Arthur Chase were on the lake, the first boat out and the first fish was caught by Gordon, "only" five pounds, and about 21 inches long. They got three others, which averaged about two pounds apiece.

Governor Asks Support To Defeat Cancer Disease

HILLSBORO, April 7—Governor Adams today issued a proclamation urging support for the work of the American Cancer society. He designated April as cancer control month.

In Hillsboro the Fortnightly Club will again sponsor the cancer drive. Miss Ruth Ryley is in charge of the campaign and is enlisting the support of women in the various sections of Town.

The proclamation: "Whereas: The tide of cancer continues to mount relentlessly throughout this state and the nation:

"Whereas: Even the most pessimistic prior estimates of cancer deaths during recent years have fallen far short of the eventual number of cancer fatalities;

"Whereas: At long last, modern science has been mobilized against this ancient disease in scores of the nation's finest laboratories, employing the keenest minds;

"Whereas: Basic Science is providing an ever-more-powerful array of weapons to beat this disease;

"Whereas: Medicine has demonstrated a vast improvement in the techniques of diagnosis and treatment of cancer; and

"Whereas: A Beachhead has been established against this formidable enemy of all humans, because a considerable part of our citizenry have dedicated some of their time, their talents and their money to the American Cancer Society's program of research, education, and service;

Now, therefore, I, Sherman Adams, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1949 as Cancer Control month, and ask the people of New Hampshire to lend their full support to the mighty effort now being made by the American Cancer Society to defeat this disease."
