

What Hillsboro People Were Doing The Past Weekend—Some Of Them

The above snapshots were taken Saturday and Sunday on the new Polaroid Land Camera.

This new type camera produces a print one minute after the picture is taken. Most of the people had heard of this advancement in photography, but were surprised to see the good results when presented with their picture. After the picture is printed an engraving must still be made before the pictures can be used in the paper. The Messenger engravings are purchased out of town since engraving remains an expensive process. Only one newspaper in New Hampshire has the financial resources to have its own plant. This delay in getting engravings rules out the possibility of picture scoops but the new camera should make more pictures available for engraving.

Our first picture this week is of Mrs. Harold G. Wells, Mrs. Albert Kern, and Mrs. Stella Rynsik, three of the ladies who helped on the committee for St. Mary's annual Fair. Next is a picture of Leon Dennison (Uncle Cy), who posed for the cameraman and Edward Trotter, reaching into the Fish Pool opening.

In the next panel is a work crew of men, who vacation at Long Island Pond, Washington, and who this past Sunday afternoon layed a culvert on the road leading to their camps. Shown in the work party are Fred Hill, Sr., Claude Shutta, Fred Hill, Jr., Frank Fowle, Oscar Hill and Glendon Cawmichael (head not shown).

In the remaining pictures left to right are John Peter and Cynthia Van Hazinga and Stephen Fowle. Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fowle of Newton, Mass., who have a camp on Long Island Pond, Washington, N. H.

Mr. Henry Raleigh is at his home in Bennington after a two and one half weeks at the Peterboro Hospital, where he had a severe operation for gall stones. He is still under the doctors care.

At a special meeting of the Antrim School District held Thursday evening in the Town Hall, voters present refused to vote an appropriation of $32,000 to complete the Elementary School building on which construction was begun a year ago. One hundred fifty-nine votes were cast, 85 voting no. and 74 voting yes.

An abandoned automobile with Massachusetts license plates was found at the junction of Elm and

Bradford Parade

Last Wednesday many people attended the Pageant Parade on the John Stark road in Bradford and report a very wonderful time. Rep. Hugh Moore of Bradford requested Hillsboro to enter a float, so Gay and Gould remembered that a replica of the Pierce Mansion, used at Concord at New Hampshire's Sesquicentennial some time ago, was stored in the Pierce barn. They enlisted the aid of Heath's Garage, who supplied a new truck to carry the little house, and the help of Cedric Gilchrist, Alvah Hilliard, George Broadley, and Leo Demag in putting the house together and leading it on the truck. Alvah Hilliard and George Broadley drove it in the parade. Among

Petitioners Told Board Powerless to Effect Special District Dissolution

HILLSBORO, Aug. 11 — At a meeting of the School Board of the Hillsboro Special School District held August 3rd, it was decided that the Board was not in a position to take any action on the petition presented to it by Robert Boardman and others, seeking to dissolve the Special District under section 36 of Chapter 138, New Hampshire Revised Laws.

While section 36 permits a Special School District organized by a special act of the legislature to dissolve itself by independent vote of the district, it has been, so far, impossible to establish that the Hillsboro Special School District was ever established by a special act of the legislature. Just how the district was established it not yet clear but a careful study of legislative proceedings over a period of years has not shown up any such needed act pertaining specifically to Hillsboro.

The School Board instructed Superintendent McCormack to notify the Agent of the Petitioners, Attorney R. Wayne Crosby, of its decision.

It is possible that similar relief may be sought through section 37 of the same laws, but this section involves agreements by both the dissolving district and the parent district and consequently is more involved. No further action on this specific petition is to be taken by the School Board.

Antrim Center

The weekly Grange - Legion Square-Round dance will be held at Grange Hall, Friday evening. A public supper will be served Friday at 6 p. m. by the Ladies Aid Society of the Antrim Center Church.

Antrim Grange entertained the children at a picnic at their last meeting. There was a program of games and refreshments were served.

Mrs. May Fuggle was a recent guest at the home of Mrs. Charles Butterfield.

Mrs. Bertram Barnes of Cambridge, and Miss Dorothy Sawyer of Boston, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCapot and two children of Roxbury, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mulerke of Newburyport, Mass., recently enjoyed a weeks vacation at the Maxwell cottage, Gregg Lake.

Mrs. Laurence Black and Miss Lulu Cilley, both teachers in Pierce School, Bennington, are attending the summer session at Keene Teachers College.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holt have purchased a home on Pleasant St., and will move there soon.

State Troopers Give Scouts Firearms Demonstration

ANTRIM, Aug. 11 — Sergeant John Conti of Milford and Trooper Roger Hilton, members of the State Police force, were luncheon guests at Camp Sachem on Thursday.

Through Major Comstock of the State Police, arrangements were made by Camp Director Philip Johnson for the two officers to visit Camp Sachem. Following lunch at noon, some 175 Scouts and leaders assembled on the new camp rifle range.

The guests were introduced to the assembled Scouts by Director Johnson. A talk was given to the boys on firearm safety.

Following this, Trooper Hilton gave a pistol shooting demonstration, using both heavy and light side arms, which included trick shooting of cigarettes, candy wafers and a final feat of splitting the edge of an ordinary playing card.

Trooper Hilton also demonstrated the methods of disarming an attacker with either gun or knife.

The two officers then explained to the Scouts the working of a two-way radio with which all police cars are equipped.

Camp Sachem in its 19th season at Gregg Lake, is operated by Sachem Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in Lexington, Mass.

MYERS-PRESCOTT AUXILIARY ENJOYS PICNIC MEETING

ANTRIM, Aug. 11 — Members of Myers-Prescott Unit, No. 50, American Legion, enjoyed a picnic Monday evening at the summer home of Mrs. Howard Humphrey, Gregg Lake.

During the business meeting which followed, the unit voted to cooperate with the Legion on the defense demonstration in September. Members who can sew should contact the president, Mrs. Benjamin Griswold. The unit voted also to have a nickel march at the next meeting. The president appointed Mrs. Ralph George, Mrs. Albert Zabriskie and Mrs. John Warren to serve on the nominating committee. A report of the activities of Girls State given by Miss Edythe Fournier, the unit's representative. Officers will be elected at the next meeting Monday, September 12, in Library Hall.

Mrs. Charles Butterfield is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Carll in Peterboro.

News Items From Bennington

Mrs. Maurice C. Newton
CORRESPONDENT

The big news for Bennington this week is of course the coming fair on August 20th and Old Home Sunday on August 21st for the Congregational Church. Big plans are in progress for both events. There will be lots of things for sale at the fair and as for Old Home Day, well over a hundred cards have been sent out and we hope all the towns folks will turn out to greet old home folks. Sorry we were out of town when St. Patrick's Church fair needed advertising.

Miss Effie Braid of Boston is with Mrs. David Braid this week and last. David Braid who is ill in the hospital is reported doing very well indeed.

Mrs. Robert Powers enters the hospital in Boston for an operation for hypertension this week. The Power's children will stay with Mrs. Power's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cody and daughter attended the Putnam reunion in Vermont on Sunday last.

Mrs. Mae Knowles Wilson is doing very well getting about with two crutches. No pain in her broken leg.

Miss E. Lillian Lawrence, who had a fall last Thursday, is recovering from her hard bump.

Calvin E. Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton G. Pope, is spending the rest of this week in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sawyer of Lawrence, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer this past weekend.

Mrs. Harry Ross returned to Auburndale, Mass., with her guest, Mrs. Annie Pierce, who returned home on Sunday.

Antrim Baptist Church is closed for the remainder of August.

Presbyterian morning worship Sunday, August 14, 11 a. m., Rev. Reece Y. Henderson, pastor.

Center Congregational Church morning worship Sunday, August 14, 9:45 a. m., Rev. Harrison L. Packard, pastor.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. NETTIE LEONA HARRIS

ANTRIM, Aug. 11 — Funeral services were held for Mrs. Nettie Leona Harris at her home on Friday, August 5th. Rev. Harrison L. Packard and Rev. Reece Henderson officiated. Bearers were William Vose, Vernon Greeley, Chester Dutton, and Robert Nylander. There were many beautiful floral tributes from her many friends and neighbors.

Lorraine Rose Clark Weds Londonderry Man

HILLSBORO, Aug. 11 — Miss Lorraine Rose Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Clark of West Deering, became the bride of Quentin D. Ellinwood, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Ellinwood of Londonderry, at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon, July 31, at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her twin sister, Mrs. Priscilla Clark Harris of Pomona, California, as matron of honor. The best man was Wayland Ellinwood, brother of the groom.

The bride wore a dark blue suit with a corsage made of a red rose and babies' breath. The double ring ceremony was held under an attractive archway decorating a corner of the living room.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present. Among the fifty-three guests were relatives and friends from New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, Florida and California.

Following the wedding, a reception was held on the lawn, and refreshments were served. There was a beautiful, five-tier wedding cake.

Mrs. Carroll Greene had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Fred Greene and Mrs. Howard Whitney served the refreshments.

After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon trip in Vermont and Canada. Upon their return they will reside at their home in Londonderry.

The bride attended local schools and the First Congregational church of Deering.

Interment was in Maplewood Cemetery at Antrim. The Woodbury Funeral Home was in charge.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

BY EROEN SHENTON

You can see and do a lot in 17 hours, even if you take four hours out to sleep. A big National Guard plane, Brig. Gen. Charles F. Bowen's personal C-47, picked me up at Concord airport a little after 11 o'clock that night. Two other reporters for daily newspapers already were aboard. I had been invited to represent the weekly press of New Hampshire. Our pilot was Lt. Walter Ruf of Manchester, a member of the NHNG squadron. The air was clear as crystal all the way down, but ground fog almost forced us to turn back when we got there. We landed at Otis Field, part of Camp Edwards on Cape Cod after some 50 minutes in the air. One slight bump, and we were in. It was midnight.

"Charlie" Bowen and his entire state headquarters staff met us on the parking apron of the field. The welcoming committee included Col. George W. Holloway, superintendent of schools in the Pittsfield-Wolfeboro union and the general's assistant adjutant general. Also there were Lt. Col. Herbert J. Geary of Concord, Maj. Irving W. Herse of Durham, and a handful of other majors and captains. There even was one lowly second lieutenant - my next door neighbor, Wendell Morrison of Concord.

Three staff cars and a jeep took us through the vast encampment to the New Hampshire area, where 1,500 bone-tired Granite Staters were sleeping off the effects of 12 dusty hours on maneuvers in the hot sun. They took us to a bettered one-story gnap building labelled "North Library." This, said General Bowen, was the officers' club. They gave us sandwiches and refreshments. Everybody wanted to talk, and did. It was 2 a. m., before they finally showed us to rooms in a nearby barracks.

Out of the sack again at 6 a. m., a quick shave and scrub, and we were breakfasting with headquarters detachment. Bacon, two fried eggs, sunny side up (I don't like eggs), coffee, milk in individual sanitary paper cartons, and French toast with syrup - it was the biggest breakfast I had eaten in a dozen years as a reporter. Thence to the state headquarters office for a quick briefing by the general on the who, what, where, when, and why of the National Guard's summer maneuvers.

The statistics alone were impressive: 1,335 non-coms and enlisted

Lower Village

Mrs. Dorothy C. Orser
CORRESPONDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Grinnels of Weare were guests of Miss Doreen Daymond at her "Cozy Cove Cabin" on Contention Pond over the weekend.

Mrs. Franklin Dodge entertained at her camp, "The Squawlas" on Loon Pond over Sunday. Mrs. John Church and two children and Mrs. Bill Richards and to children from Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Irving Jones will arrive Friday at "Jonesmere" on his vacation which lasts until Labor Day.

Mrs. Fred Miller, Miss Kittie Townsend and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen of Hampton Beach were the guests of Mrs. Irving Jones on Tuesday at "Jonesmere."

Mrs. Frank J. Orser accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Paul Menville to Guilford to the Arts and Crafts Fair on Friday. They made the trip by chair lift to the top of the Mt. while there.

Guests at George F. Scotts over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ryan and son and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Godfrey from Lebanon, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis left Tuesday for a vacation in Vermont taking Mrs. Robert Niven and two children of Concord with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ward from

Mass. were at their camp on Beard Brook Road last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker were at their camp at Gleason Falls over the weekend.

Mrs. Frank J. Orser will be the soloist at the Presbyterian church in Antrim next Sunday morning. "Aunt Emma Sees It Through," will be repeated August 26th at the Center Club.

There was a very interesting horse pulling contest at Durgin's Mill last Sunday afternoon. Many spectators from Hillsboro and nearby attended. The free for all prize was won by Bob Putnam's team of Deering. Other prizes went to Robt. Prentiss and Mr. Blanchard of Franklin.

Mr. Lewis White is enjoying his furlough from Army duty at his home here.

Juniper Farm Auction Set In Center Sandwich

CENTER SANDWICH, Aug. 11—Juniper Farm, the historic homestead restored by Robert Grosvenor Hutchins, will be sold at auction Aug. 19, it was disclosed today.

The farm and furnishings were described in an article written for the Christian Science Monitor several years ago by Carl Greenleaf Beede. The furnishings, including many antiques, will be sold during the four days following Aug. 19. O. Rundle Gilbert of New York will be auctioneer.

Need Enlarged Parking Area for Beard Brook Pool Project

HILLSBORO, Aug. 11 — As August began the work of clearing the brush from the pool area at Beard Brook was completed. Work has begun on the picnic area. Benches and tables are being built by Mr. Radford and others.

A summer resident of the Lower Village rode down the Beard Brook Road one evening, having grown up in this vicinity she was pleased to see the work that had been done around the pool that she sent $5 to help carry on the work. These expressions of approval by visitors and townspeople are greatly appreciated by the Fortnightly Club.

While cleaning off one spot a week ago Tuesday night a very handsome, almost new, cotton blanket was found in the underbrush. This has been cleaned and may be claimed by the owner by identifying same and paying the cleaners bill. If not claimed it will be sold to go into the pool fund.

Sand has been drawn by the Highway Department to fill in holes on the beach. This was spread by the workers last Monday evening when businessmen helped with the shovels and rakes.

The boy scouts with Mr. Charles Hunt spent Monday morning preparing the brush for burning as soon as it rains. Assisting Mr. Hunt were Bobby Thomas, Billy Beapre, Edward Dodge, and Donald Heath.

There are a couple of dead trees still to be taken down by the town and the selectmen are now considering ways to provide more parking space, as the pool is becoming more and more popular. The Red Cross is giving swimming lessons three days each week.

Have you seen the "skating doll" in Taskers window this past week? On Wednesday she moved to the P. X., where she will reign for a week. Be sure to see her and her skates. She is helping make this pool project possible.

The last Wednesday Food Sale held these past four weeks at Boardman's Store was last Wednesday. These had brought in a nice sum of money for the project. Over $100 has been earned so far by the committee. It is hoped to have $200 when all funds are in and the donations have been received from those who couldn't help in any other way, who have promised to help with cash.

It is the hope of the committee to have the pool area in good order by Old Home Day. Picnic tables and benches in place.

Last Monday a silver bracelet was found on the beach. This may be had by phoning Mrs. Frank Orser, Upper Village 8-23.

WASHINGTON OLD HOME PROGRAM, AUGUST 13-14

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — The dates August 13 and 14 have been set for the first Old Home day celebration here in many years. Over 700 printed programs have been sent out to residents and non-residents of the town.

Hillsboro band will furnish the music for a parade Saturday, August 13.

H. Maurice Fridlund of Tenafly, N. J., and a summer resident here will be guest speaker Saturday afternoon. Frank Hartwell will give the welcome.

Rev. A. A. Madsen, resident of Washington, will lead the church service Sunday morning at 10:45 assisted by Rev. Howard Burkle, summer pastor. Music will be furnished by the children's choir, and Miss Eleanor Provencher of Concord, guest soloist. Miss Margaret Hoyt will be the organist.

Washington is the scene of much activity these days. Folks are scurrying about getting things cleaned up and decorated for Old Home Day. The band stand has been painted this week, the School house has been shingled, and the Town Hall is being painted. Many of us will be plenty busy before the week is over.

A week ago, Mr. and Mrs. John Safford and their son, Dr. Minot Safford and wife, spent the weekend in Montreal.

Dean Safford and family of East Long Meadow, Mass., spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Safford, last week.

Mr. Sheldon Cary of Philadelphia, Pa., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Bell.

Mr. Theodore Nickels and three children of Philadelphia, Pa., are staying in Mr. John Bell's camp on Island Pond this week.

Mr. Roy Heath and five children called on his mother, Mrs. Hattie Heath, last week. It was the first time Mrs. Heath had seen her son and family in two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fenton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis and son, Bobbie, of Penacook, N. H., spent the weekend here at the Davis camp.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dodge at Half Moon Pond were Dr. and Mrs. Off and son, and Dr. Off's mother of Nashua, Mrs. Evangeline Hall of Dunstable, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tastvin, Jr., and Sr., and son of Nashua.

Miss Mary Davis of Watertown, Mass., a school teacher, has been visiting Miss Margaret Hoyt several days this week.

Mr. Clair Hoyt, Concord, has been visiting his aunt, Miss Margaret Hoyt, this week.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell were Mr. and Mrs.

Joseph O'Donnell and family of Newton, Mass., and Mrs. Charles N. Schwarz and two children of St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Miller of Danbury, Conn., spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tweedy. Things really got warm here Sunday afternoon; the Town dump burned up. A little added expense for the town, but not a great loss to anyone.

All who plan to attend our Old Home Day celebration please remember the parade starts at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, will form at 10:30 up on the Lempster road. Picnic lunch at noon on the common. Bring your own lunch, coffee and tonic sold on the grounds. At 4 p. m., the speaking program with music in the Church. Those who have programs, would be wise to bring them along with them. A good time is planned for all.

More news next week, we hope!

Deering

Mrs. Marie H. Wells
CORRESPONDENT

Ernest Hutchinson of Hillsboro is employed as carpenter at the home of Dr. D. A. Poling.

The school board has engaged Miss Mary Schoff of Colebrook to teach the East Deering school for the coming year.

Q. M. C., and Mrs. Richard B. Taylor and son of Florida are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Allan Hilliard and little son of Bellville, Ill., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooper at their home, Chick-A-Biddy Farm.

Q. M. C., and Mrs. Richard B. Taylor, their son, Ricky, and his mother, Mrs. Helen G. Taylor, were in Manchester on Tuesday.

Mrs. Harold G. Wells attended a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Warren Wheeler at Antrim on Monday.

Ermin Barnes has had the town water piped from the Hillsboro line to his land.

Mrs. Donald Foote and son, Robert, and three foster children of Bow are visiting her mother, Mrs. Wm. P. Wood, at Twin Elm Farm.

Mrs. Louis Lefriere of Manchester and her daughter and granddaughter of New York, who have been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Archie Cote and family, returned to their home last Thursday.

The Homemakers held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Helen G. Taylor last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Velna Putnam, president, conducted the business meeting at which time plans were made for the coming year's program.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Holden and son of Milford spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. A. A. Holden and family.

Quite a number from this town attended the annual fair and bazaar at St. Mary's Parish Hall last week.

DR. NAIRN ENTERTAINS COUSIN FROM SCOTLAND

HILLSBORO, Aug. 11 — Dr. and Mrs. William J. Nairn are entertaining the doctor's cousin, Mr. William More of Glasgow, Scotland, this week.

Mr. More is in America on a combination business and pleasure trip, having flown the first of July from Glasgow to Montreal and New York, then to San Francisco and Vancouver, British Columbia, where he visited relatives. He returned east by plane the latter part of July and he will fly back to Scotland the latter part of August. He has also been entertained by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fairgrieve, in Newport, N. H.

Mr. More spent more than a year in Cuba about twenty-five years ago at which time he paid a visit to New Hampshire.

PROGRESS MEANS CHANGE

town gains a new taxpayer and Mr. Businessman has a new customer.

There are reasons why some towns increase their populations over a period of years, while others show decline, and being progressive is one of them.

BEAR HILL GRANGE HAS PRESIDING LECTURERS' NIGHT

HENNIKER, Aug. 11 — Bear Hill Grange met Tuesday evening with the master, Mrs. Arden Moody presiding. Presiding Lecturers' night was observed and the following lecturers filled the chairs: master, Mrs. Beatrice Bean, Derry; steward, Mrs. Charlotte Allen of Sunapee Lake; assistant steward, Norman Eves of Jaffrey; chaplain, Miss Carol Olds of Lempster; gatekeeper, Henry Whitney of Bennington; ceres, Mrs. Doris Tucker of Lovell Grange.

Invitations were accepted to attend Neighbors' night at Goffstown on August 17 and at Jaffrey on August 23; to attend Presiding Lecturers' night at Weare on August 5, at Sunapee Mt., on August 13 and at Merrimac River on September 2; to attend Past Masters' night at Boscawen on August 23 and Presiding Masters' night at Hallowe'en Grange on August 23.

The following program was presented: quiz by Mrs. Bean; chorus by Sunapee Lake Grange; original skit by the Jaffrey members; piano solo by Mrs. Helen Young of Bow; special feature by Miss Olds of Silver Mt. Grange; reading by Edward French of Bennington; cornet solo by Alfred Tandy of Lovell Grange; recitations by Sylvester Higgins of Sunapee Mt. Grange.

The lecturer's march was won by Gerald Dotem of Jaffrey and the door prize was won by Mr. Tandy. There were ten granges represented with fifty visitors and twenty-three members of eBar Hill Grange present.

Old Home night will be observed at the next meeting of Bear Hill Grange on August 16 in charge of the Graces and the Home and Community Welfare committee. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. Albert Champagne.

of the Old Testament will not be published until next year. A picnic lunch was held in the grove at noon but a sudden shower prevented any activities in the afternoon.

Percy Lantz of Milton, Mass., a summer guest in Hopkinton was the speaker at the Quaker meeting House on Sunday afternoon. He told of his work among the unattached Jewish people of Boston. The speaker next Sunday will be Rev. Donald Macomber of Epsom, who spoke twice last summer.

Margaret Alger observed her fourth birthday with a party on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. J. Bishopric who was assisted by Mrs. Donald Alger.

Guests were Linda and Sonia Hazen, Mrs. Myron Hazen, Sheila and Robert Davis, Mrs. Stillman Davis, David and Allen Brown, Mrs. Francis Brown and Jeanie Knapton. Refreshments were served.

Many townspeople were in Bradford last Wednesday afternoon to attend the parade which featured the naming of the General Stark Highway. Most of the floats featured the settling of this country. First prize in the organization class was won by Davis-Woodman Post, American Legion which had decorated a truck to represent a ship on which Ocean Born Mary was born. Children represented her mother, the captain of the ship and pirates. General Stark's parents were on this ship.

Mrs. Pearl Flint underwent a successful operation at the Margaret Pillsbury hospital last Saturday, and is making a very good recovery.

Jack Tasker has been suffering with a very bad throat, although he had to attend to his livestock twice a day.

Mrs. Leota Marshall of Boston spent the weekend with her father, Alton Colby and family. Bruce Evans of Nashua is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Raymond Davis, of Walnut street.

Mrs. Bessie Whitcomb went to the Daniel Webster School in Franklin last Saturday to begin her year of teaching on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dodge and two sons, Richard and Robert, of Cincinnati, N. Y., were weekend guests of their aunt, Mrs. James Leach. They had also visited her sister, Mabel, (Mrs. David Todd), and family in Arlington, N. J.

Miss Clara Buswell of Dorchester, Mass., and her friend, Mrs. Moon, came over from Crystal Lake, Gilmanston, last Monday, to see me. Clara and I lived in the same house and taught the same school in Polo, Illinois, a long while ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reece of Melrose, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. John Reece of New Orleans were overnight guests of Mrs. Grace Perry. They have been to Burlington, Vermont, to visit John's sister, Mrs. Grace Rock.

Mrs. George Taylor of Center Harbor was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Gould last week. The Goulds took her home on Monday.

Mrs. D. B. Peasley, Frank and Walter, Ellen McClintock, and friend were in New London Tuesday afternoon to see the parade.

For the first time in many years, Mark McClintock stayed home because of illness on Monday.

Misses Ellen McClintock and Ruth Dingee entertained a group of friends at a picnic at Stoddard Box on Friday, and also visited the Ocean Mary House in Henniker after the picnic.

The weather is still hot and dry. The mercury is rising into the nineties again, although it is not supposed to be as humid as it was a week ago. The Concord weather bureau reports that June and July were the hottest on record. We have had a few more showers than we did, but it is so hot and dry that they do very little good. We had a regular cloudburst for a few minutes about 4 o'clock last Thursday. But Mrs. Henry Huntington reports that they did not receive any of that shower in their section although they did have a lighter shower on the hill at 1 o'clock which the village did not get.

In the July issue of Good House-keeping there is an article entitled "Good Art in Good Prints," it speaks of how you can buy beautiful prints, old or modern, in almost their original colorings, frame them well, hang them at eye level, and be enriched by their company.

Also in the October '49 issue of Everybody's Digest, Edward Lindeman tells "How to be a Sunday Painter." "You can't draw a straight line? Neither can the artist without his ruler." All you need are materials (start with a few pastels, colored chalks), and a pad of paper, and a few ideas. Make up your own pictures, never, never copy. No matter how terrible they may turn out, at least, "they are your own terribleness." Go your own way, don't let rules rule you but like Grandma Moses (who started painting at 8 years of age) have FUN!

Tuesday evening was a night of nights and from the vantage point of the hammock slung under the old apple tree in the back yard, Hillsboro and its surrounding countryside was a sight to behold.

Up above, the yellow light from the brilliant, full moon lit up the eastern sky, down below, the valley and the river's edge were lit by squares of light from the hosiery mill. To the east the gay summer carnival lights glowed, and all this was the backdrop for the cooling swish of the falls, the balmy breezes, the tinkle of the merry-go-round music, laughter from the street, and the surge of the traffic.

To say "Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse" is not true, during an early morning arsing on Bear Hill. The report came to be of seeing two very tiny fawn, two grown deer, an enormous great blue heron, a duck, and a hawk, all at one time, guess the Indians had nothing on us.

Jean Hilliard was our very striking model last Wednesday evening. Tanned skin against blond hair was inspirational, for Mr. Bruce worked with us too and everyone in the large class enjoyed taking a minute now and then to watch him wield the pastels.

Remember to attend the Art Show of the Keene Creative Artists Association at the Marlboro Community Hall, August 13-21 inclusive. Mr. Bruce is to be one of three well known painters on the hanging committee and several of us in the Hillsboro Art Club will have pictures in the Show. It will be a large and worthwhile exhibition.

Remember the Time: Every Wednesday evening from 8 to 10 p. m.

Remember the Place: The Cellular Studio in the Valley Hotel.

Remember the Fact: You are welcome as a worker or a visitor and Stuart Bruce of Washington, N. H., is our instructor.

COMMENT

CHANGE NECESSARY?

This week two letters advocating the carrier system of mail delivery have been received and are published on this page. The arguments advanced are good ones, though the issue of increased costs is not squarely met. 150,000 one cent stamps are sold at the post office each year, and are used mostly in local correspondence since 3 cent stamps are necessary for out of town mailings.

Under the carrier system local patrons would pay $3,000 more for mail service if a 3 cent stamp is needed where a one cent stamp will do at present.

Whatever system is adopted should be one in which a majority approves. For this reason as a test of sentiment we are publishing a ballot in this issue. The results will be announced next week. Names will be kept confidential but are asked for to rule out the possibility of double voting.

To The Editor:

Your comment on the proposed new carrier system seems almost conspired to bring replies.

There is no reason why you could not retain your box if it is more convenient for you. Consider the conveniences of this service to the public as a whole. The aged, infirm, and busy mothers must depend on others to run errands. It is provoking for anyone to make the special trip to the post office only to find that there is no mail and rain or temperature extremes makes the situation that much more annoying.

I'm all for having my mail delivered.

Mrs. D. S. Baker

To The Editor:

"PROGRESS MEANS CHANGE"
 Efforts are being made by certain progressive individuals and groups in Hillsboro to improve facilities for its residents.

One of the reasons why many city folk are reluctant to take up residence in a small town is that they have become so used to the many services that city residents are accustomed to take more or less for granted, that they feel they would be taking a step backward by moving to a small community.

The theory that "you never miss what you never had" accounts for much of the opposition to progressive change in small towns and there is also an opinion, among those who oppose such change, that "if it was good enough for grandpa it is good enough for me."

It is true that many city conveniences would be too expensive for a small town to adopt. The majority of the taxpayers on real estate and business property, in a small town, feel that they would be unjustly burdened with heavier taxes if certain proposed improvements were adopted. Common sense must prevail in deciding what improvements are impractical from this standpoint.

However, some small towns have been able to attract new citizens and new industries by adopting as many progressive facilities as they could reasonably afford. New citizens and new industries provide new sources of tax revenue for the town, and this additional revenue could mean lower taxes for each individual, through wider distribution, and the means of adopting improvements in town services that had previously been considered economically impractical.

The substitution of a carrier system for the present system of boxes at our Post Office would provide an improvement in the town's facilities that would benefit many people. It would also help to relieve some of the congestion in front of the post office, due to folks parking to get their mail, and give would-be shoppers in the stores an added convenience in finding a place to park their cars.

The carrier system would be particularly welcomed by housewives who do not always find it convenient to get to the post office, and to those people who do not have the use of a car. As for the increase of local mail to 3c, this additional cost would not burden any particular group unduly, as everyone who mailed letters locally would bear this slight additional expense in direct proportion to their particular use. Those who prefer a post office box could still retain their box under the carrier system, if they preferred to receive their mail that way. Businessmen would find a market for many new products such as letter slots for doors, mail boxes to be attached to houses, house numbers and name plates for doors. Prospective new residents, looking for a place to retire, would remark: "My, but you have your mail delivered by carrier here! Isn't that fine." If they are elderly folk who find it hard to get around, this little convenience might help them decide on Hillsboro. Result: the Wilton, N. H.

Yes, there is such a thing as a rabbit cat. Mrs. Charles Stearns of Franklin writes me they had such a cat years ago. The front part was a cat but the hind quarters were a rabbit's, with the rabbit legs and a rabbit tail.

Here is a lady in Royalston, Mass., who wants to buy an Airedale puppy. She lives alone and wants a watch dog as well as companion. What have you got?

Nelson Maine of the Hillsboro Rifle club sends me a list of the winners in their third annual shoot. Quite a list. Their last shoot was a big success, attracting shooters from all over three states.

Speaking of odd requests: Here I have a letter from an up-state party that wants me to place two donkeys. I think I have them placed.

If you are looking for a nice cocker spaniel at a price you can afford to pay, see Louis Ingraham of Brookline. He has some nice ones. I saw some of his last week and he sure has a fine bunch. He will buy your whole litter.

Are you interested in cleaning out your favorite pond to make better fishing? Snapping turtles do a great deal of damage to a small pond. They eat a lot of fish and kill and eat small as well as adult ducks. And besides, they are good eating. Write to Robert G. Smith East Killingly, Conn., for his catalog.

Here is an unsigned letter from the home town. A farmer is losing from three to eight quarts of milk from three cows a day. Do snakes drink milk from the cows? Do fawn deer tap the cows?

We would be interested to know where those three cows are grazing. We might be able to go and check on the habits of those cows. We have heard the story of snakes stealing milk from a cow but we never quite believed the story. Who knows about this?

It's a good litter of puppies when seven of the litter of eight are males. This was at the springer spaniel kennels of William Eva at Hancock.

Young fellow up in East Jaffrey by the name of Austin has a water snake for a pet. He asks me what to feed it. I referred him to Marshall, the snake man, in Merrimack. If you want to see snakes, visit his place on the Daniel Webster highway. It's an eye opener.

Speaking of tree planting, I put out 250 pines a foot high this year. In fact they came when I was holding down a bed and the boys and girls planted them. I got them through a 4-H club member. I try to plant 500 every year for future generations to enjoy.

Several years ago a pig farmer in a nearby town had over 80 small pigs he could not sell. I referred to them in the Column as Rainbow pigs and they went like hot cakes. They went to see a rainbow pig and the price was so nice they bought.

Harold Grant of Greenfield reports a fine litter of English Setter puppies born July 4.

In the July number of "Outdoor Indiana" is an article on raising your own night crawlers and common worms. Here is a chance to have worms even in a dry spell. Someone has put me on the subscription list of this magazine and I have an idea it's my old friend, Will W. Burns. Thanks. It's a snappy little magazine, featuring fishing and hunting.

Alaska has closed the season on mountain sheep and has started an extensive wolf and coyote control program to save the depleted herds of mountain sheep which are found nowhere in the USA, but in Alaska.

Did you know that one person out of every six in the USA was a fisherman? Records show that 15,-

Two men from East Rindge were down to see me last Sunday to look over my turtle traps. They are to purchase a few to clean out some of their smaller ponds.

Stories of big turtles are coming in fast. A man over in Franconstown saw a huge one under a bridge in that town. Asked him why he did not get it? "Get it? Not me. It had a head as big as mine and was four feet across the back." Fishermen at Zephyr Lake, Greenfield, the other night saw a big one near their boat that they said was over three feet wide. When this big fellow showed up the fishing stopped. At Osgood pond in Milford, Ray Clouette reports seeing one so big it could not get into one of his traps and his traps are 25 inches across. When the fishing stops suddenly look for a big turtle.

The sporting magazines are making a great big plea to save wildlife. They say give the animals and birds a brake as well as a break. Use your brake when you see a mother grouse crossing the road.

The state of North Carolina has sold its Game Farms and goes in for habitat development.

Too bad I was not up in Keene the other night when seven baby black and white woods pussies held up all traffic while they played in the highway. Over a hundred cars were lined up 30 minutes. I would have liked one of those ladies. No harm to pick them up by the tail as long as their front feet are off the ground. Let me know if you see a stray one.

Are you interested in a real springer spaniel? W. J. Eva, Jr., of Hancock has a litter of eight. Seven were males.

Tomatoes should be peeled and cut quickly just before cooking or serving them raw.

Mrs. Irene Flanders
CORRESPONDENT

I've just taken a trip to Montreal and Quebec, by proxy. Scott Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bockus took a weekend trip to Canada, with those two cities their objective. Perfect weather, combined with a good itinerary, made a perfect trip. They stayed at cabins, carried their own food, and a small stove, and cooked their own meals, with the exception of one steak dinner, without which a trip is not complete. Leaving Friday, they were in Montreal late Friday night, and Saturday took a two hour, conducted tour of the city. The best remembered part was the visit to the famous wax museum, which is outstanding. Life-size figures, with beautiful costumes, and groups dating back to B. C. times, were very impressive. Especially noted were the costumes and colors of the present Pope and attendants. The home of the little people was very interesting, everything on a small scale for the small occupants. The last part of the trip took them to Quebec, where they drove about the town. Of course they visited Chateau Frontenac, the Citadel, and were quite impressed with the Old City and New City, and the different construction of each. To hear about this trip first hand is to want to take the same trip.

This Friday night at the Weare Band lawn party, there will be an added attraction, Audrey Davis, wife of Junior Davis, will be guest singer. Mrs. Davis is well known in town as one of the outstanding sopranos of the younger set. "Bill" Elliott, "Singing Cop," is already headlined as guest singer.

A little late is the news that Mr. and Mrs. John Tierney spent the weekend with the Chester French's. Not so well known is the fact their son, John, was recently ordained, at the Episcopal church in Sanbornville. Present at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Tierney, the younger Mrs. Tierney and their two children, Lee and Nancy Lee, Bishop Hall of Concord, and seventeen ministers, all friends of the new minister, attended, some taking part in the service. Young Rev. Tierney also has services in another church, nearby. Good wishes from all his friends and acquaintances go with him.

The Eddie Londons are making the most of summer vacation time. They spent a recent weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hurd, of Meriden, who formerly ran the store at Weare Center. Mr. and Mrs. Donahue, of Dorchester, Mass., who have a summer home at the Center, were Sunday night supper guests with the Londons. In addition to the usual salad and beans, served at an out-door meal, Mrs.

London had for the main dish, horned pout. The Donahues are having a three weeks vacation from their duties at Dorchester, Mass., and will probably spend most of it at their home in Weare.

The air is full of cheers for Weare baseball team. Sunday they played Goffstown at Flynn Field, and won, 11 to 3. Donald French pitched a 5-hitter, I hear, and it was a good game. Next Sunday, August 14, it is Weare against Sutton, at Weare.

The Sunday night Sing was held at Nettie Flanders, ten people present. Mrs. Hadlock, how is working in Hopkinton, and Mrs. Blanche Gunn were guests. Mrs. Hadlock and Mrs. Flanders were the pianists.

Swimming classes are being held every Monday and Thursday afternoon at Chase Park.

The first of the series of four sermons for August was held at the South Weare church Sunday morning. Rev. E. W. McGlenen, minister, Mrs. Ernest Roach, soloist.

Last Friday night was Presiding Lecturers' night for Weare Grange. There were forty-five present, a good number considering the hot weather, and an interesting program, planned by Mildred London. Lecturer. The roll-call responded to by everyone, was answered by "One thing I like about the Grange."

The musical part of the program included a piano duet by Barbara Willoughby and Beverly Martin, of Hopkinton, arranged by Mrs. Willoughby; a duet by Alice Pluff, of New Union and Mae Hadlock of Weare; a duet, "Forever and ever," by Ruby Sargent and Nettie Flanders, of Halestown; and a closing song novelty, "Down by the Old Mill Stream," which went over with enthusiasm, as the members were divided in two groups, each group singing one line, alternately, and rising to sing, sitting down as the other group stands. This is guaranteed to break the ice at any party. A quiz was led by Helen Champagne of Henniker. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by George Waterman, Gladys Waterman, Blanche Gunn, Mildred London, and Mr. and Mrs. Donahue.

Another weekend part was that of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Chase and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Flanders, who drove to Lake Umbagog, N. H., and Maine, Friday. They made their headquarters at Mr. Flanders camp, in Jefferson, spending some time fishing, and made the return trip home through Maine.

two service clubs, which between them have six dances a week. We saw the gyms, the indoor and outdoor swimming pools - nobody has time to use the gym near the N. H. area, but the pools are popular. We saw two movie theatres and bowling alleys.

The major took us out to the artillery range, where New Hampshire batteries are firing this week. We stood in the observation post atop a hill, the big guns behind us out of sight, the target a scrawny pine tree 2,000 yards in front of us. A youngster with a telephone in his hand said "On the way." We heard the shell whirper by overhead, then the boom of the gun, that fired it. Binoculars were focused on the target. A big puff of brown dust went up beside the distant tree. An officer said, "Over, right," and recited some figures. We heard the boom of the exploded shell. As we retraced the path to our jeep, Major Hersey told us the landscape was very much like Okinawa's. "A place like this would be lousy with Jap booby traps," he commented.

He made another observation. The 1949 summer maneuvers, he said, are probably the best the National Guard ever had. The troops are living in permanent barracks, instead of tents, so the emphasis is on military training rather than "housekeeping."

The Big Parade

The "general's review," the show we reporters were on hand to see, was at 11:30 a. m. But General Bowen told us we were supposed to be part of it. The band played and our 1,500 New Hampshire guardsmen massed in their battalions across the field from where we stood. The general had beside him on the reviewing line John High of Swanzey, department commander of the American Legion. Next was John Kananon of Keene, department commander of the VFW. Then came two of us newspapermen - one played hockey to take some pictures.

Using a public address system, General Bowen told the troops how proud he was of them and their officers for their speed in learning the problems given them on the maneuvers. He picked out three officers for special praise. He paid tribute to Mr. High and Mr.

Kananon for their services to the Guard. Then he picked up embarrassed reporters by name and thanked the daily and weekly newspapers of the state, which we represented, for their contributions to building the new postwar National Guard.

We even got a chance to inspect the troops, following the general all the way around the formation and back to the reviewing stand. My feet began to hurt. The troops passed in review. By special order, all officers fell out of formation after passing our position, and came over to stand with us and review the parade. The troops passed in review a second time. It was a wonderful show.

Chow call immediately. We had tasty meat-balls, good mashed potatoes (I'm fussy about my potato), fresh peas, boiled onions, milk, iced tea, bread and cookies. They had apple pie on the blackboard menu, but I didn't get any. Neither did the general, so I guess somebody slipped. The same C-47 picked us up at 3 o'clock, piloted by Capt. Roger T. Shaw of Nashua, another NHNG flier. We were over Boston Harbor 17 minutes later, landed at Concord at 3:43 p. m.

The reason for all this? The N. H. National Guard has only 1,500 officers and men. It must enlist its full strength of 6,100 within the next couple years. Publicity-wise, ex-newspaperman Bowen figures he has something that will attract young men with a hankering for the military life - in diluted form. The big job is to tell them about it, and the newspaper can help. Will, too, probably.

Two New Hampshire reserve officers were spotted on duty with the Regular Army post establishment at Camp Edwards. They are Lt. Col. Victor H. Smith, assistant executive officer and coordinator of reserve activities, and Lt. Col. Henry Hunt, camp adjutant, both of Durham.

Weare

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reade and daughter, Gertrude, attended the yearly Friends meeting at the old church in Unity, Sunday, leaving at 8 o'clock in the morning. With them were Mrs. Elsie Purington and daughter, Betty. In the group were Alfred Osborne, Henry Osborne and son, Lindley, and Mrs. Ellen Purington. They picked up Mr. and Mrs. James Cooney at Henniker. Mr. Cooney was the speaker at the 11 o'clock service, which was held in the church, which dates back from 1820, after which a picnic lunch was held on the grounds.

Mrs. Mildred London is papering this week, at the newly remodeled home of Mr. and Mrs. Ian McLean, at North Weare. I understand this will finish the work on the home and the young couple will be able to move in.

Mrs. Della Clement has invited the Friendship Club to her camp at Lake Sunapee for Tuesday. This being Monday morning, no one knows what the weather will be but looks as if the Friendship Club would have a good day.

men, 134 officers, 500 trucks and other vehicles, all packed into 119 assorted offices, barracks, garages and warehouses. The biggest unit was the 195th Regimental Combat Team, commanded by my old friend, Col. John Jacobson, Jr., of Manchester, one-time chairman of the state Water Resources board. "Jake" has in his regiment an assortment of infantry, combat engineers and field artillery. There are men from Newport, Littleton, Hillsboro, Haverhill, Lebanon, Peterboro, Milford, Keene, Claremont, Nashua and Manchester in his outfit. They were tickled to see a face from back home, though they had been on maneuvers only a week. They've already got that "veteran soldier" feeling.

Down the sun-beaten street I walked to the headquarters of the 197th AAA Group, commanded by another old friend and fellow newspaperman, Col. Albert S. Baker of Concord. "Bake" commands four batteries from Berlin, three from Laconia, two from Concord and one from Franklin. Everyone there looked happy and a little sun-burned. Were they healthy? "Healthy," boomed Baker, "why they're always healthier here than they are at home."

Change Pending

Smallest unit in the camp was the 237th Coast Artillery (Harbor Defenses) battalion, commanded mouth. This outfit is going to be converted soon to field artillery. All harbor defenses are being stripped out of the National Guard set-up.

Major Hersey drove two of us around the "perimeter" of the camp in his jeep. He showed us the thousand-odd buildings he said were jammed with 12,500 troops from New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island and Connecticut. We counted 14 chapels, each white-painted with a gray-green spire. We saw the
