Coming Events

Don't forget that the Center Club is planning a jolly evening for you Saturday, August 20, at the clubhouse. Mr. Niles Stevens will show some of his beautiful pictures, and there will be a Scotch Auction and a social get-together.

Meet your old friends on Old Home Day, August 27, at Community Hall, where the Ladies Aid is serving luncheon at 12 noon. Everybody knows the good Methodist cooking. There will be plenty of baked beans, salads, and all other things that go with them.

D. A. R. Card Party

The Pierce Mansion was gaily decorated with summer flowers for the card party held there by the Eunice Baldwin Chapter, D. A. R., last Saturday. A goodly number of players were present from the village and the surrounding countryside, including eight ladies from Manchester, four from Concord, and other summer visitors. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge: Lottie Harvey, Harriet Grimes, Mildred Wallace, Ruth Derby, and Grace Perry. They considered it had been a very profitable and pleasant social afternoon.

A Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gove and children enjoyed a two weeks' trip to Scott Air Force Base, Illinois, to visit their son, Jimmie, who is stationed there. They took the southern route going out, but came back near the Great Lakes and Canada. The base is very near St. Louis, Mo., where they spent a good deal of time. Jimmie was delighted to see them. Also Allen Hilliard, who is there with him. Judith especially enjoyed the trip.

Worry Never Pays

Last Saturday, when the rain began, I enjoyed every minute of the showers. But at the same time I kept thinking about Washington and its Old Home Day parade. But when the boys returned home, they said that the rain interfered with the celebration very little. Worry never does pay.

The plans are progressing for the Congregational Church Fair. There will be table of candy, food, white elephant, grocery basket, fancy work, and several more. There will be music by Mrs. E. Black on the electric organ in the evening. The fair begins at 2:30 and continues into the evening. Attractions for young and old.

Mrs. Frank Young's daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Fred Bennett and son and daughter of Great Lake's Training Center, left for home last Friday.

Mrs. Phillip Traxler returned home from the hospital on Monday. She has been under treatment there.

Mrs. Ede Danforth has returned to town for the rest of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lyons and family are in camp at the lake in Bradford.

Mrs. Robert Powers is in the hospital in Boston.

Mrs. Maude King of Connecticut spent a week with her brother, Raymond Sheldon.

Miss Effie Braid of Boston will return to her work in Boston Monday.

Mrs. Robert Herrick and son plan to return home this week Tuesday. Mrs. Dora Eaton plans to remain if possible.

Mrs. Harry Ross returned last Friday from her visit in Boston.

Master Calvin Pope returned on Sunday from his week in Boston.

Mrs. Mike Carroll was taken to the hospital last week to be treated for numerous bites and scratches inflicted by a pet cat.

Maynard Sargent and daughters of Lynn, Mass., were in town on Tuesday.

ANTRIM

Letters have been mailed out this week to Antrim residents in connection with the annual appeal for the N. H. Children's Aid Society. The Antrim committee sponsoring this appeal to help New Hampshire children is headed by Mrs. Alwin E. Young as chairman, with Mr. Hugh M. Graham and Mr. H. E. Wilson completing the committee. As the Children's Aid Society is a private organization, with no support from public funds, it is largely dependent upon the generosity of those individuals throughout the state who are in sympathy with its work and wish to share in it. Contributions in any amount are welcome and may be sent to Mrs. Youn of Highland Ave.

Hillsboro Guard To Get Tanks

Brig. Gen. Charles F. Bowen, right, is at the controls of a new 35-ton medium tank delivered to the New Hampshire National Guard, Concord Armory, Monday, from the Watertown Arsenal at Springfield, Mass. With Gen. Bowen inside the tank is Capt. Eugene Theroux, and in the turret are Elmer Archibald and Maj. Donald Cooney. The tank is one of 12 destined for the Hillsboro NHHG tank company.

Hillsboro Resident to Be Teacher in Greece

HILLSBORO, Aug. 18 — Miss Edna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Johnson of Valhalla Farm, Windsor road, has accepted a faculty position in a girls college in Athens, Greece. She will teach English.

Miss Johnson has taught in the local high school and has taken an active part in Smith Memorial church activities during the past several years. She will leave in a few weeks and expects to make the trip via steamer in about nineteen days, with stops along the way.

Want Antrim, Henniker Officers for Hillsboro Guard

HILLSBORO, Aug. 18 — Heavy Tank Co., 195th Infantry Regiment of the N. H. National Guard is holding weekly drill every Thursday night 7 to 9 at the Precinct Hall. Enlistees must have reached their seventeenth birthday to join the guard. Interested persons may inquire at the weekly drill. Any previous officers or 3 grades may be considered for appointment as new officers. Capt. Lester Rysnik would like to have an officer from Antrim and Henniker in the Company.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

On Tuesday evening, August 30, at 8 p. m., in the Community Hall, Miss Edna Johnson will present an informal illustrated lecture on experiences and impressions during a recent visit to the United Nations at New York, and Institute at Mt. Holyoke, Mass. The meeting is open to the public and is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Hillsboro.

Fortnightly Club Plans Old Home Day Activities

HILLSBORO, Aug. 18 — The Fortnightly Club held a supper Thursday evening, August 11. A goodly number were present to enjoy the delicious meal prepared and served by Mrs. Hulda Johnson and daughters, Echa, and Mrs. Lillian Matthews.

After the supper, members gathered on the large screened porch for a business meeting. It was announced that the Fortnightly Club room in the Community Building is to be open on Old Home Day. It was also reported that Mr. Radford is now working on tables and benches to be placed in the Beard Brook area as part of the club's "Build a Better Community" project. It is hoped that they will be ready for Old Home Day. The Club also plans to enter a float in the Old Home Day parade.

The reports of Mrs. Dorothy Orser and Mrs. Mildred Wallace showed that the four food sales and the rummage sale held to raise funds for the Beard Brook project were most successful.

The annual report of the club's accomplishments was read by the secretary, Mrs. Frances Bennett. Mrs. Frances Sweet, auditor, read the treasurer's report in her absence.

After the business was transacted, the retiring president, Mrs. Helen Keast, handed the gavel to Mrs. Stella Martin, the incoming president.

Old Home Day will be observed in historical old Hillsboro on Saturday, August 27, the home of the 14th President of the United States, Franklin Pierce; founder of the American Express Company, Benjamin Cheney; birthplace of Benjamin Keith, greatest showman of his day, for whom a chain of theatres received its name; homes of two Governors - Goodell and Smith and other notables.

The program starts in the morning at 9, with a street parade in charge of William Dumais. All participants are requested to be at Grimes Field by 8:30. Cards were mailed out this week to every organization, business concerns and enterprises requesting representation in the big parade, for without cooperation of everybody the events scheduled will not be possible.

"Bill" says that we are to have four bands and perhaps as many floats as we had in 1941 which were 60. He has a difficult job and needs the help of everybody but leave it to Bill, for he has the experience and the ambition to carry it through to a successful conclusion.

The master of ceremonies is Thomas Hines and his son, Atty. James Hines, is the treasurer of the Old Home Day committee. Both are very well known and highly respected and they have lived in the community for a long time. The guest speakers are Hon. Charles Tobey and Hon. Styles Bridges and we are assured that politics will not be the subject of the day.

A baseball game follows the addresses of welcome and the speaking, to be followed by a two hour sport program including a horse pulling contest. This contest is in full charge of Leon Fitch of Rosewald Farm. The sports program is directed and managed by Louis Andrews. Prizes will be awarded the winners in all contests.

In the early evening a band concert by our own town band will be given and a street dance from 9 to 12 follows to bring to an end the (Continued On Page 4)

Pictures of Hillsboro People at Work and at Play the Past Week—Some of Them

Not exactly play, but for the day (it was a humid evening) good exercise. Work or play, you can recognize Mrs. J. F. Keast, president of the Fortnightly Club, Mrs. Frank Orser at her side, Mrs. Wilfred Dupuis, in the background. Also present at the shovel and rake party were Mrs. Paul Leedham and one gentleman (who refused to enter the picture, but really did a good job). Others come later.

The next two panels are views of the cleared grounds looking toward the ladies' dressing room and toward the island. Gentlemen visible in the picture were vacationists who said they enjoyed the water immensely, as did the others present last Sunday.

Our next panel is that of Ed Baldwin exchanging the time of day with Frank Gay. Frank doesn't look exactly happy but told the cameraman that he wished everybody felt as well and good as he does - save for his lameness. The question seems to be whether or not Frank will wear his rubber boots at the horse pulling contest.

Our final picture (we hope it looks as good Thursday as it appeared to us Sunday morning) shows Homer Piper and Mrs. Gert-rude Morrill superimposed on a Diner background. Homer has leased the diner from Mrs. Morrill and Thomas Brooks and will actively manage the enterprize with the assistance of Mrs. Morrill as cook.

Homer intends to keep the Diner open from 6 a. m., to midnight with a special dinner daily for 70 cents and up. Turkey dinners will be featured on Sunday at $1.00.

The best coffee obtainable is used at the Diner as well as the choicest meats and vegetables.

ter Road, sent me recently some old letters she found in the drawer of a sewing machine she had bought at some auction. The machine must have come from the Gammell family, for I recognized the names. Two envelopes were addressed to Miss Malinda Burbank, Franklin, N. H. One bore two three-cent stamps, and one was marked "Paid 6 cents." One letter was dated March 10, 1874, written by S. C. Gammell to his future wife. He wrote her about the big snowstorm that had fallen on April 30. On the first of May he had gone on a sleighride. This must have been the storm in May that my mother often told me about. She said that Mr. Wilkins came down cross-country, over stone walls from his farm where the big apple orchards are now, and landed just back of our barn. It seemed to me an impossible feat, but I have heard other stories about that storm better than that. Not all of the letter was as chilly a story as that one, and it was easy to read between the lines, as I know that they were married the next year and lived for many years in the present Devoy house at Concord End.

The John Tasker family spent a day at Hampton Beach last week. Carol told us she had a good time that the ocean was "salt-pepper," and that she stepped over the waves.

Alice Dutton, Maria Webster, and John Tasker, Jr., are attending the Youth Institute, held this week at the University of New Hampshire, Durham.

Alfred Stanley of Winthrop, spent a few days the last of the week with his mother, Mrs. Herbert Stanley. He came back again late Tuesday night to bring his sister, Mrs. Mildred Porter, who has been visiting her son, Fred in Albany, Georgia, for over a month.

William Hart, son of Nelson Hart of Central street, was married sometime in July. He and his wife came from Grahamville, N. Y., to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hart at Lake Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sawyer of Ludlow, Vt., and son, Dr. William Sawyer, wife and two children, of Potsdam, N. Y., ate their picnic lunch with the Honeywells at their cabin in the Well Piece after making us a call. William is leaving Clarkson University at Potsdam to head the Department of History at a small college in Winchester, Kentucky this fall.

Mrs. Amy Rowe, of Wakefield, Mass., is spending the summer with her brother, Frank Nichols, and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Elburton Farrar, of Henniker, and Mrs. Frank Dunsmore of Manchester, called on friends in town on Saturday.

Miss Shaughnessy of Walpole, a former popular music teacher of Hillsboro now teaching in Fall River, Mass., visited Mrs. James Leach last week.

Mrs. Raymond Davis has been ill at her home on Walnut st. Her sister, Mrs. Warren Evans, of Nashua, and sons, Nelson and Bruce, have been staying with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Livingston, of Andover, Mass., came up to see Walter Gay on Monday.

Cyrus Phelps was in Peterboro last Saturday, taking pictures for the B. U. Sargent Camp.

Mrs. Pearl Flint returned home Saturday from the Concord Hospital and is regaining her health as fast as can be expected.

Miss Patricia Phelps will attend the West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon this year, instead of continuing her course at the Keene Normal College.

Old Home Day activities.

It is hoped that car owners will use Grimes Field for a parking lot and remain off the main streets, particularly along the line of march. Most of the events of the day will be held at the field, including the carnival and from this vantage point you will have plenty of room to see what is going on from 10 in the morning to 9 in the evening. Will you kindly cooperate and help us and the hard working traffic officers?

Invitations to be present for Old Home Day have been mailed to Rev. Father Charles Leddy and Rev. Father William Blankenship, who have assisted in many celebrations in the past, and have so very many friends in the old home community.

Visits during the day to the Pierce Mansion at the Lower Village, the Community House on School street and the historical Center are urged, and you will enjoy visiting Beard Brook swimming pool and other points of interest while in town.

Voting for the king and queen of Old Home Day is now going on and ballots are given with each button. There are no candidates for the honor, select the boy and girl of your choice. We play our favorites although we have our own ideas on the subject. Place your ballot in the box provided at Boardman's Store, Central Square, and do it today. The votes will be counted on August 25.

The committee has added George Johnson, who is in charge of publicity and the others are chairman, Wilfred Dupuis; treasurer, Atty. James Hines; Secretary, Paul Scruton; music, Royce Sleeper; parade, William Dumais; sports, Louis Andrews; master of ceremonies, Thomas Hines; honorary members, George Gould and Frank Gay.

HILLSBORO

Mr. and Mrs. John Zeludanz and son of Pinardville, are visiting his mother and friends in town. John was one of the fastest base runners ever to wear a Hillsboro uniform. He is employed by the Public Service Co.

The Hillsboro County Forestry Advisory Board will hold a public meeting to discuss the minimum cutting standards on Thursday evening, August 25th, at the Methodist Church Vestry (next to the Post Office) in Milford. All interested selectmen, assessors, and woodland owners and others interested in the future of New Hampshire's forests are invited to attend.

UNKIND WORDS

It has been reported that the permanent live community Christmas tree has died. Its once beautiful green is now a deathly brown. If the tree has died, it's probably because of the unkind things said about the trees' stature and the motives of the trees sponsors by park bench critics.

SAMPLE BALLOT

The results of the ballot printed in last week's Messenger is 20 in favor of the carrier system, 6 in favor of the present box system and one write-in vote favoring abolishment of the Post Office.

We do not feel that enough votes were cast to make the poll a deciding-factor. However, there appears to be a large majority who would like carrier system. Proponents of the idea will get their real test when they start circulating petitions.

To The Editor:

In regard to the discussion concerning a change to a carrier system of mail delivery, it seems to me before any decision is made that some official information should be given to the townspeople as to what exactly would be the conditions to be met by the people and what they would be obliged to do if a change is made. So far there seems to be some confusion or at least lack of understanding as to just what the conditions would be.

I can see where many people might like to be served by having mail brought to their door. But added service always means extra expense. It seems to me that the cost of living is high enough now without any more added to it. If the rate of local postage is raised from one cent to three I am sure that personally I shall have to use my time and my feet to visit people to say what I wish to tell them instead of sending a letter as I have neither car or telephone. A personal call takes more time than a letter and is not nearly as convenient.

Also I suppose that each household will have to buy a mail box, have it set up and keep it in repair and shoveled out in winter. Where I live beside Grimes Field and the grandstand, that would mean rather constant services of a carpenter as probably the children would take the mail box to pieces on an average of three times a week to throw the parts at my apple tree when the supply of rocks gives out or they might use it to throw at the electric light bulb on the corner which they break every few days.

If there is some person always at home to bring in the mail as soon as the postman leave it the system might be all right but where a person lives alone and sometimes is away all day, if a parcel post package comes which is too large for the box it would hardly be safe to have it left on the ground all day and in case of rain or snow by the time one reached home to take it in the contents might be spoiled. I should feel safer to have my mail in the post office until I could take care of it myself.

Someone has suggested that any one could keep their post office box if they preferred. That may be true but I should doubt if that would be possible if the carrier system is adopted. That is one of the points which should be cleaned up by official information. It seems very doubtful to me if the office would be willing to run both systems at the same time. I imagine it would have to be either one or the other, not part of both methods.

I have to walk half a mile to the post office and carry heavy parcel post bundles but I should prefer to do that rather than pay the higher expenses, run the risk of losing mail in bad weather and have a fight continually to keep the mail box standing and in condition to be used.

Marion A. Colby

To The Editor:

The writer is compelled to reply to your editorial comment stating that the issue of increased costs of the carrier system of mail delivery was not squarely met.

I repeat, that the slight additional expense under the carrier system would hardly burden anyone. You state that "local patrons would pay $3000 more for mail service." Is it possible that you have overlooked the box rents which are being paid for under the present system? I understand there are about 600 boxes now rented in the post office at 60c, 75c and $1.00 per quarter. Now, to be conservative, let us figure these 600 boxes at the lowest rate, namely 60c. This would amount to at least $1440.00 per year. Subtract this $1440.00 from your $3000.00 and you have $1560.00. I understand the population of Hillsboro is about 2200. Divide $1560.00 by 2200 and the net increase per capita would be slightly less than 71c per year. Dividing the 71c by 52 would make the weekly cost of the increase, per capita, less than 1 1/2c per week, which is only a fraction of the cost of a daily newspaper. In the opinion of the writer, this increased cost could hardly be termed burdensome.

One other point. The carrier system would also provide additional employment for someone in the town and the money they would receive as compensation for their services would undoubtedly be spent in the town.

TIME-PLACE-FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

Reading in my book on water-color technique, the chapter concerning trees and foliage, it says that in order to paint them with feeling and to be able to make them belong in the picture, one must understand their structure and character. Get the sketch book habit - observe and make notes and drawing of the various differences and types of trees - study their anatomy in the months that they are bare and their shape and masses when in full leaf.

Who could have a better opportunity than we in Hillsboro, the home of the Fox State Forest, to study at first hand all types of trees and foliage. With its 522 acres of mixed pine, hemlock, hardwood, spruce and pastureland, 4 miles of well marked trails for hiking and bicycling and leantos provided with open fireplace and water supply it is a wonderful spot for picnics and overnight camping and the privilege of fishing and berry picking is unrestricted. Plan to spend an hour this very afternoon in the peace, quiet, and coolness of this lovely forest.

Allen Seymour was a splendid model for us last Wednesday evening and keeping up our practice of shorter timed poses is getting results. Even our younger artists are getting the swing of it with more action showing in their drawings. Elsie Edwards, Jeannette Hersey and Danny Bliss were all on deck.

Old Home Day, the 50th observation of it in N. H., will soon be upon us. August 27th, to be exact as you probably are well aware after seeing and reading all of Paul Scruton's clever cartoon posters in the store windows in and about Hillsboro. Whether it be a horse, a dog, a cat, a goat, a bicycle, or the finest of floats, put it into the parade that Saturday morning, whether it be funny or serious, big or little, the best and biggest celebrations, are all made up interested individuals. Let's all get behind Bill Dumais and show him the old town 'ain't what she used to be, she's what she IS' and that's what YOU, and YOU, and YOU make it.

Read Your Policy

Your insurance policy is a contract between you and the company. It specifically states the hazards against which you are insured and the exceptions which the policy does not cover.

Exceptions are put into the contract because, were the company to include these except hazards, the cost of such insurance would be prohibitive.

You should have a clear conception of your contract so that you know exactly what coverage you have, to avoid any possibility of your suffering an uninsured loss.

If there are any parts of your insurance which you do not understand we would be pleased to explain them to you. Call us at any time.
