Change in State Government To Come If People Want It

ANTRIM, Jan. 26 — Thursday evening, Attorney Gardiner C. Turner of Keene, spoke in the town hall on proposals for reorganizing the state government. Mr. Turner is majority leader of the House and one of nine members of the state reorganization commission, a non-partisan group five of whom were selected from the Legislature and four from the state at large.

Mr. Turner said since 1932, 33 new units have been added to the governmental program, none of which can be wholly eliminated. The purpose of reorganization is to consolidate various departments for economy and greater efficiency. The four main areas will include Public Works, Welfare, Finance and Control and Resources and their development. The other departments will become a part of these to secure greater efficiency without duplication.

In closing Mr. Turner stated that reorganization will take place only if the people want it, and that to survive the state demands economy, efficiency and citizen co-operation.

RECEPTION HONORS GERMAN BRIDE

HENNIKER, Jan. 26 — An informal reception honoring Sgt. James A. Boyd, Jr. and his German bride was held Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the Rumford Coffee House, Concord. More than 100 relatives and friends gathered to greet the couple who were married in Oberrot, Germany, October 15, and who arrived in Concord on New Year's Day. The ceremony was held in the Lutheran church with Rev. Emil Walker officiating.

Sgt. Boyd is the son of Mrs. Grace Blodgett Boyd of 91 Washington, St., Concord, formerly of Henniker, and Col. James A. Boyd, USA retired, of Wellesley, Mass. Mrs. Boyd, the former Erna Schuh, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schuh of Oberrot.

Sgt. and Mrs. Boyd were assisted in receiving the guests by the former's mother and brother, Mrs. Boyd and Richard K. Boyd. John Davie and George Murphy, classmates of Sgt. Boyd at Concord High School were ushers. The guest book was in charge of Miss Marian Brown of Henniker, cousin of the bridegroom.

At the close of the reception a family dinner party was held at the Coffee House.

The marriage of Sgt. and Mrs. Boyd was the culmination of a romance which started while the Concord man was in Germany for three years with the Headquarters' Company of the 26th Infantry. He was graduated from Concord High School and is a member of Rumford Chapter, Order of DeMolay and St. Paul's Fellowship.

Mrs. Boyd was educated in schools in Germany and trained as a dental hygienist. They are at present staying with the bridegroom's mother.

Snow or No N.E.C. Plans Winterproof Carnival For February

HENNIKER, Jan. 26 — A weatherproof Winter Carnival, which will not depend on snow for the enjoyment of its programmed events, has been blueprinted by the students of New England College here for February 3, 4 and 5.

The Carnival's officials, one from each of three New England States, would like to have King Winter's cooperation of at least a few inches of snow, but such suspicion is directed toward this erratically behaving fellow, that the officials, John Plizga of Franklin, N. H.; Ann Ranger of Brookline, Mass., and John Martinoli of Ganby, Conn., have been planning for a continuance of the prolonged snow "famine."

N.E.C.'s Carnival, and this is the second annual affair, stresses novelty, since the College's student body numbers only 308, a figure which represents virtually a handful of fraternities on the type of campus where ivy is deep-rooted. But among the 308 are a number of genuine showmen who demonstrated last year that the unusual can compensate largely for the grandiose.

The 1949 inaugural put a good deal of the Courier & Ives flavor into the program, and this home-spun quality will again be relied upon, although the committeemen have selected a far earlier era, the American Revolution, to serve as pattern and theme. The latter is "The Spirits of '76," purposely made plural by its enthusiastic coiners.

On Friday, February 3rd, the bulk of the Carnival guests will entrain at 9 a.m., in Boston's North Station. Prior to leaving the N.E.C. Marching Band will play the guests aboard the train. Two "honor guests," John and Priscilla, will transport the official Carnival flag figuratively from Bunker Hill to Craney Hill, the latter Henniker's most prominent elevation.

A reception of official character will be tendered the guests upon arrival in Concord, and their advent in Henniker will set off an elaborate flag-raising ceremony in Proctor Square, named in honor of Edna Dean Proctor, prominent American poetess of the late 19th and early 20th Century.

Sports event, a satire on the College's student assemblies, a banquet, and a basketball game between N.E.C. and North Adams Teachers, will serve as prelude to the colorful Sock Dance in a West Henniker barn.

Saturday, February 4th, is regarded as the "big day" of festivities. Paul Revere, abetted by ringing bells (one in the Congregational church is a Revere bell) factory whistles, and other devices will awaken the villagers who will witness a "battle" between the Minute Men and the Red Coats. An old-fashioned New England Field Day will take up the better part of the morning.

At noon, John and Priscilla will return in as comfortable fashion as the caboose of a freight train will permit, and they will preside at the farm wagon in Proctor Square around which town and gown will congregate to enjoy Baked Beans ala Henniker, made by 35 women of the village from a favorite recipe. Winter sports events will follow. Parties in town will prevail if no snow is on the ground.

Coronation of the Carnival Queen will take place at a semi-formal dance in the evening, and several distinguished guests are expected to attend, including Governor Sherman Adams and Mrs. Adams.

On Sunday church services and socials will be climaxed by the lowering of the Carnival flag, signaling the end of the three-day program.

In the expanded Carnival scheme, this year's Queen will have Ladies-in-Waiting and they and Her Majesty will be showered with gifts.

N.E.C. students and townfolks are already raising some choice beards to give credibility to the Colonists who will "recapture" the village from the Red Coats.

Next month is Gentlemen's Night in the grange hall at 8 p.m., on February 17. Please keep the date, time and place in mind. A surprise is promised.

TIME-PLACE-FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

"The call of the oil paint box" is being heard by more of us each Wednesday evening and with paint in our hair, and under our nails, and the urge in our hearts to put color on canvas Stuart Bruce is having quite a time keeping us on the conventional path. As Lisabel Gay so aptly says, "Between the Pine Tree and Me," there is quite a bit of "The call of the wild in the old oil paint box."

Our chef, Clyde Wilson, did the honors on the model stand last Wednesday night. Dressed in white uniform, carving knife and frying pan in hand, smile on his face, and twinkle in his eye it was Sylvia Van Hazinga who got a splendid likeness. The rest of us meant well, had a grand time, and were given a good lecture.

In the February issue of Friends magazine that comes to us through the courtesy of the Chevrolet dealer is an article entitled, "Living Masterpieces," and is an eye opener in community cooperation. Quoted: "Fine Art comes to life at the Pageant of the Masters," held annually at Laguna Beach, arts and crafts colony south of Los Angeles, Cal. In a natural amphitheatre, masterpieces of art are reproduced with living models, expertly made up, authentically costumed, and posed against backgrounds painted to scale and enclosed in huge gold frames. About 60 paintings and sculptures are presented each season, including works by artists of the past and moderns. The pageant is a non-profit community effort. Local people appear in the pictures and work on costumes, make-up, props and lights. On display too are water colors, drawings, ceramics, weaving, jewelry, leatherwork, and photography. For junior visitors there are puppet shows, and children's art classes, where youngsters are encouraged to try their hand with a paintbrush.

The festival had its birth in 1932, when the Laguna art colony decided to invite outsiders to view its work. Visitors to the first showing made it known that they would like more of the same the next year, and thus the festival has grown into a local tradition. It's a toss-up now as to who has the most fun at the show, the artists and craftsmen who spend months preparing for it, or the thousands who come to town each year to see their work." Unquote.

In Yankee magazine this month and a little nearer to home is the story of Art in Athol, Mass. It is a story about people who are like you and me, friendly, neighborly people living regular everyday lives in a middle-sized town, and doing arts and crafts, paintings, clay figurines, artificial flowers, miniature animals, weaving, tray painting and so on. It is impossible to come away from a visit with this group without feeling excited and exhilarated. We kept thinking, "Thine own heart makes thy world." You do not sit wistfully wishing for opportunity, or culture, or civilization, or beauty, or whatever -- you start generating them wherever you are." In this place, too, men have found the materials of life. I wonder when visitors to Hillsboro will say this about us?

TIME: 8 to 10 p.m., every Wednesday evening.

PLACE: Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel.

Weare

Mrs. Irene Flanders
CORRESPONDENT

Our Messenger gets around: one copy goes from Weare to Hatch, N. M., to the Air Force Base on Okinawa.
Larry Moore, pastor of North Weare Federated church, had for his sermon Sunday morning, "Driving Between the Ruts." Each Sunday this month Mr. Moore's topic has been on the subject, "Living, Day by Day," sermons aimed at the little problems of daily living. Special music was planned, but Mr. Moore hopes to be able to have special singing every Sunday later.
Last week was another busy week for Weare residents. Monday evening Perkins Bass spoke on reorganizing the state government; Tuesday evening was Visitation for the Rebekahs, with Mrs. Winkler, vice-president of the Rebekah Assembly inspecting; Wednesday evening the PTA held a public meeting, with Supt. Lewis Foote, present, with plans of several new schoolhouses to be inspected and discussed.
Thursday the Community club held an all-day meeting at the town hall, with the usual card party in the evening upstairs, and the square dancing class downstairs. Friday night Weare grange met as usual, and the Saturday night dance at South Weare ended the week's activities.
Silas Rowe of Henniker was a Weare visitor on Friday.
Several poultrymen and their wives attended the Boston Poultry Show last week, most of the ladies spending part of the time shopping. Although a poultry show, there were some beautiful peacocks, and turkeys; also a big display of rabbits, some pigeons, guinea pigs, golden hamsters which look a lot like a chipmunk, and about the same size; as well as a Jersey cow and calf, which had in the same pen a turkey, a hen, chickens under a small hover. Two of the ladies went to a style show at the Hotel Lenox, the principals being hens, and a rooster. Most of the contestants coming from Massachusetts, the ladies were pleased to find first prize going to a rooster, dressed in a white sport suit, and belonging to Mrs. Ralph Canney, of Rochester, N. H. The hen's costumes were mostly afternoon costumes, some with hat, bag and three toed shoes to match, in green, yellow, red and flowered patterns, and one bride, in white, with a white veil.
The Sunday night sing met with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reade, in spite of a snow storm. Mr. and Mrs. John Reade were guests, with the younger Mrs. Reade as pianist until she went home, when the hostess finished playing the rest of the evening. The refreshments were "super," homemade ice cream, cake and coffee, and Julia Reade always uses clear cream for her ice cream.

You have seen Girl Scouts around town in their smart green uniforms and bright kerchiefs. The program under which all groups function had a distinct carry-over value into adult life. Household management, handicrafts, health, outdoor activities of all kinds, and community service are only a few of the lists of their interests. In building good citizens Scouting makes a definite contribution to America's program of long-term defense.

Mrs. Della Clement, chairman of the local March of Dimes, has been working very hard on this drive, getting committees together, and making plans for a big entertainment, at which organization will contribute. Mrs. Clement spoke at last week's Community club meeting, and announced it will be next Monday evening, January 30, at the town hall. There will be several ways of entertainment; a card party upstairs, and dancing downstairs; a lunch will be available, and there will be a food table, a pie parade, a hat parade, and chances on a basket of food.
Weare's quota they hope to double, and everyone knows the severity of last year's Polio epidemic. Mrs. Clement thought, as people have always been so generous, that a program such as planned for Monday night would give a little in return for their generosity, and the work should not be confined to the few canvassing the homes. Our small towns enjoy get-togethers, and having an evening together makes a drive like this immediately more personal.

GRADE ONE

Carroll Greene had 100 percent in her second vocabulary test. In our first vocabulary test in "Fun with Dick and Jane," Donald, Glenda and Edith had 100 percent. Fred, Barbara and Carroll had 95 percent. James and Donna had 90 percent. In our third vocabulary test in "Fun with Dick and Jane," James, Nancy, Patty and William had 100 percent. Donna had 95 percent. Mary had 96 percent. Anita had 94 percent. Russell had 92 percent. We are sorry Neil and Jack are ill again. Mrs. Phelps visited our room.

GRADE TWO

The following children have had perfect attendance during the second marking period. Darlene Dumais, Richard Ellsworth, Brenda Hill, Theodore Holley, Robert Mills, Jeannette Randall, Karen Rasmussen, Charlotte Reed, Ralph Whitney, Keith Wing and William Yeaton. These children have had one hundred in spelling every week for the past nine weeks: Barbara, Bonita, Charlotte, Jeannette, Karen, Norman, Richard Ellsworth and Theodore Holley.

GRADE THREE

Jacqueline Maine and Daniel Marchand went to a hospital in Manchester Wednesday to have their tonsils removed. We hope they will be back with us soon. On Wednesday afternoon we saw a movie which showed us what traveling in a deluxe trailer is like. We saw some very beautiful and interesting views of our national parks. When we returned to the classroom many members of our class were inspired to draw pictures of the trailer we had seen. We have been learning about the different kinds of cloth from which our clothing is made. When we studied cotton, Judy Fogg brought in a real cotton ball for us to see.

GRADE FOUR

June Beaupre, Catherine Teixeira and Roberta Poluchov are the ones chosen to decorate the boards. We had a nice picture showing a modern trailer. It passed through a beautiful part of our country. We are glad to have Albert back with us. He works very hard. The first division in reading are doing well in their workbooks.

GRADE FIVE

Shelia, Norman, George, Joan, Beverly, Patty Yeaton, Leo, Hank, Walter, Robert, Fay, Theresa Dugan and James had perfect attendance for the last nine weeks. Mrs. Gile was ill one day last week and Mrs. Murdough took us over for the day. We enjoyed being in Grade 6. We are dramatizing a play called "The Birth of an American Industry." This play tells us that we could really give Eli Whitney the inventor of the cotton gin, some credit for the automobile industry; because his idea of making machines in that age led to the development of many mechanical ideas.

Miss Harriet Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Baldwin, of Hillsboro has been chosen for the Northfield Ski Patrol at the Northfield School for Girls. The Patrol is made up of ten advanced skiers for leadership, to mark out ski trails and danger spots and to help skiing students in difficulty. Nearly 300 students from the Northfield School for Girls will attend the National Ski Jump Tournament in Brattleboro in February, to watch leading American and European ski jumpers compete. Mr. and Mrs. John Van Hazinga attended the N. H. Weekly Publishers' annual meeting Friday at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston. Mr. Van Hazinga also attended the session of the New England Press Association at the Copley-Plaza on Saturday, where the group were luncheon guests of Boston University.

Walter C. Sterling, Jr., and student friends of St. Paul's visited with his parents Sunday. Michael Gillette has received his Navy discharge and is staying with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Sferlazzo, for the present.

The January meeting of the Youth Temperance Council was held with Mrs. Frank Verry, January 9. Awards were given to Virginia Johnson for getting new members and to Joyce Wheeler, Rita Nickerson and Gayle Bennett for perfect attendance. A Valentine party will be held Feb. 13.

About 20 members of the Loyal Temperance Legion gathered at the home of Norma Heath for their January meeting, Jan. 19th. After devotionals and regular business Mrs. Verry gave a short talk about Jesus feeding the multitude. Awards for perfect attendance were given to Norma Heath, Kathleen Johnson and Brenda Hill. Norma Heath also received a gift for the largest number of new members. The group will have a Valentine party, February 15.

Hillsboro seems to be getting typical March weather this month. More snow is promised this week, however. The Deering Ski-Tow has not operated at all this winter.

Vincent Palhof reports that his father, while visiting in Norway, looked over the winter sports facilities of that country, possibly with a view of doing something in the same field in Hillsboro when he returns.

Watch this paper for the announcement of a giant Amateur Contest to be held in the near future. This program is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 8270. Plans are progressing rapidly and more definite information with regard to time, place and date will be announced later.

GRADE SIX

The people who have had perfect attendance for the last nine weeks are: Billy Beaupre, Walter Buswell, Beatrice Chase, Ellen Clough, Bruce Jordan, Richard Lane, Maxine Teixeira and Anna Troutman. We enjoyed having the fifth grade spend all day Thursday with us. Each grade had their own lessons then we ended up the day with a few square dances for both grades.

We are giving money for the "March of Dimes." Some of us are selling tickets for the March of Dimes Dance. Frank Bennett visited us on Friday and we had a lovely time. The only drawback being we didn't know his name and he had come calling without letting mother know.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

OUT OF TUNE

The Sunday papers reported the first 1950 campaign speech of Winston Churchill, Conservative leader. He stated that "Socialism is out of tune with the times"—that Socialist restrictions have paralyzed Britain and blocked her path to recovery. He added that Britain should follow the path of Europe, Australia and the United States adding that Socialism in all countries has been the weakest defense against Communism.

The opposite is the truth—no Socialist governed country has ever gone Communist, no Socialist country has ever gone Fascist. It was the absence of a real democracy under capitalism that brought on the plague.

The Scandinavian countries with their Socialist administrations are the most democratic countries in the world—and the farthest from the idea of totalitarian Communism.

The Conservatives conveniently forget that Socialism is democratic, that under Socialism the production of the country and its natural resources will be democratically controlled and operated. To cite an example the post office system would be governed by a directorate representing the postal users and the employees, there would be no political appointees. The business would not only be owned by, but operated by, and for the people.

Voted by Life magazine as the man of the past half century, Mr. Churchill is the man out of tune. Clement Atlee is the man of the next 50 years.

HOUSE DIVIDED

Three Questionnaires were returned this week.

Regarding Question one, (Taft-Hartley Labor Law): one felt the law should be made more stringent, the others said it should be left as is.

All favored no cuts in the expenditures for the armed services while generally taking up the axe to other government expenditures.

Two favored less income taxes for the lower and middle classes, one less for the higher brackets.

Two of the answers said yes to the question whether the nation was headed toward Socialism, the other said no.

Two answers favored increased liquor taxes, one said leave as is.

As to the important things Congress should do the answers were: Civil rights, repeal oleo taxes, aid veterans, tax relief, economy.

All polled were opposed to prohibition. Really folks we enjoyed the comments.

I hope the rest of our readers will make their remarks to their representatives in Congress.

CARD OF THANKS

Our deepest thanks go forward to our friends in Hillsboro and elsewhere for their flowers and greetings on the occasion of our 50th wedding anniversary. We shall never forget you. Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Chickering 15 Oak St., Tilton, N. H.

TEST YOUR I. Q.

1. What are the names of Britain's two leading political parties?
2. Are tall steel buildings dangerous during electrical storms?
3. Are porcupines born with quills?

4. Were all dinosaurs huge animals?
5. What are your chances of dying in an auto accident?

Answers to TEST YOUR I. Q.

1. Conservative and Labor.
2. No, skyscrapers act as their own lightning rods; such buildings are frequently struck by lightning, with the occupants being unaware of it.
3. Yes; porcupines have quills at birth, but they do not become stiff until later.
4. No; according to Encyclopedia Britannica, some dinosaurs were no larger than chickens when full grown.
5. Statistics show your chances of dying in an auto accident are only 3600 to one. But, be careful!

LISABEL GAY'S COLUMN

with those awful French heels. My earliest shoes, I remember were very sturdy which my father tapped a few times, pegging on the sole with wooden pegs, until he had to give up when I rebelled because they hurt my feet. I had kid shoes for best at that time but they were usually to "scuffed up" for anything but everyday wear. They were button shoes with usually a button or more missing. I was at a tender age when I began sewing on the buttons for myself. I was very glad when I found I could buy for a penny a button cord about a yard long, with a needle attached and I was happier yet as I got older that the buttons were sewed on by machine before they left the store. I wore all kinds of styles in toes, round toes, broad square toes, narrow square toes, very pointed toes, I only wore laced shoes during a short period of years. Life was too short to spend so much time lacing up shoes. More often than not the tip was broken or off. The first shoes I remember were bought at Steven Dannison's whose store was about where Feldblum's is now. He was such a big man I was afraid to go in there alone. The rest of the time I was in Hillsboro my shoes came from Kimball and Roach's store located where the First National is now. Carl Colby was a salesman then and I usually bought "Queen Quality", "Sorosis" and other makes of shoes from him. I wore 4 1/2 C and always paid $3.50 and no more for them. In the winter of 1917 other girls wore high laced shoes for which they paid $14 but no me. That spring I paid $7.50 for a pair of low shoes which was the most I ever paid for any kind of shoes. I never wore low shoes in the winter as everyone does now. In the late summer of 1917 I purchased in Boston a pair of high shoes paying $6.50 for them. I thought it quite cheap at the time but was probably because they were going out style, but I still have them in good condition.

Wacky Cake

This is the craziest recipe I ever heard of. It was given me by a serious-minded friend, who got it from her daughter in Hancock.

First set out the cake pan, but do not grease. Into a flour sifter put one and one half cups flour, one cup sugar, one teaspoonful soda, one half teaspoonful salt, three heaping teaspoonfuls of cocoa. Sift into the pan, with a spoon make three holes in the mixture, into one put a teaspoonful of vanilla, into the next a teaspoonful of vinegar, and the third five table-spoonfuls butter, over all pour one cup of cold water, stir well and bake for one half hour in an oven at the right temperature. Frost in the pan as desired, cut out in squares and serve.

This cake tastes good and there are few dishes to wash.

Frank Gay went to Newport just for the "ride," he so seldom gets one, and Katherine Phelps went to keep the girls from being lonesome.

The simple ceremony took place at the South Main St. Congregational church, Manchester. The only attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. Gloria Colby, of Hillsboro and Mr. Walter Knoetter of Manchester. Fireworks Display to Climax Newport Winter Carnival

On Sunday night, January 29, starting at 7:00 p.m., the grand finale to the Newport Winter Carnival will be held at Mt. Sunapee State Park. This program will feature a skating revue on the skating rink; a torchlight slalom parade on the open slope and the climax of all, a mammoth fireworks show.

The Queen of the 1950 Newport Winter Carnival will officially announce the firing of the opening rocket of the fireworks show and from that moment on the heavens will literally be ablaze with dazzling lights of all colors and the hills will ring and echo to sounds of the aerial explosions. Tickets for this gigantic carnival show are on sale now at the State Park at Mt. Sunapee.

Uncle Gy-Says

I was driving through a town last summer, and I only saw one man on Main Street. I stopped and said, "This is a very quiet town, isn't it?"

"Quiet," says he, "It's so quiet that you can hear your hair grow. It's not only quiet, it's dead. The only time this town shows any life, is when we have a funeral."

I asked him if they had any labor trouble in town?

"Yes we do."

"How's that?"

"Yer see: There ain't nothin' to do, and we can't get no one to do it."

Our state tree is the "White Birch"—When we were kids we remember the "birch" but didn't know what its color was, but recollect that it left red marks.

See by the paper that the Chickadee, is a cousin to the English bird called the Titmouse. I wonder what "bird" figured that one out?

I remember years ago there was a fire at the minister's house one Sunday morning, and he said it started in a closet where he kept his sermons, and the only reason he could think of, was that being so dry were too near the chimney. Think this column is a fire hazard.

I picked a dandelion blossom the 4th of January, and some of the tulip bulbs I put in the ground were coming up through. I looked the other day and saw where the snow was heaving. Will let you know when they blossom.

The Christmas tree I put out in the front yard has started its second crop of presents. This sure is some winter.

Has Paul Scruton hibernated for the winter? He hasn't been "On the Street" for sometime. Whatsay we send him a card?

SPORTSMEN'S COLUMN

by GEORGE S. PROCTOR

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONSERVATION OFFICER
Phone 104 Wilton, N. H.

Mrs. Donald Hopkins of Greenfield reports that a flock of over 60 evening grosbeaks are spending the winter in that town and are well fed by the neighbors and herself. They are a beautiful bird. She says they love sunflower seeds.

This week I am calling your attention to two men that I want you to send cards to: Harry L. Carkin in Memorial hospital at Nashua and James Hoag at the County hospital at Grasmere. Thanks.

Charles Sullivan, who lives at Wilton Center, reports a litter of nine pure bred Newfoundland puppies, six males, three females. These are the cream of that breed. Mr. Sullivan is associated with Mr. Cheever in the law business.

H. C. Allison of Antrim had a funny experience last summer. He had a mallard drake and in the spring a wild duck flew in and they had a family of seven. Come fall, the Mrs. and her family flew away to the southland, leaving the father to spend the winter alone in the north. Ten to one she will come back in the spring, bringing her daughters with her and leaving the young drakes to pick up a duck in the south.

Wildlife conservationists recommend that foresters and farmers leave a few hollow trees in the woods as den trees for wood duck, raccoons, squirrels and other wildlife. The states of Massachusetts and New Hampshire last summer put out many boxes for the wood ducks and many of them were used by the ducks. Cutting off of woodlots has spoiled the nesting places of this duck.

The department of Interior reports that many farmers are setting up nesting boxes in their woods to reap the benefits of wildlife. Small owls use some of these boxes and owls are desirable birds to have on a farm as they eat great quantities of insects and mice. Other boxes are used by flying squirrels, fox squirrels and other small birds.

I was much interested in the beautiful calendar gotten out by the Transcript Printing Company of Peterboro. It shows a scene in the Monadnock Region and the picture was taken by my son-in-law, Gerald L. Sanford of Brookline, Mass.

America's rarest goose shows population gain. The Ross snow goose is now believed to be at the 2000 mark, a big increase in the past few years. Last winter 4600 Ross snow geese wintered on the Sacramento National Wildlife Refuge. This information came from the noted British artist, Peter Scott, who with Harold Hanson went to Perry river country last summer to investigate their nesting grounds. They found 260 goose nests on five islands. All these birds need is a little protection.

Nice letter from James M. Carew, secretary of the new Deering Fish and Game club. This club has the following officers: president, Howard E. Whitney, Jr.; vice-president, Robert F. Putnam; secretary, James M. Carew; treasurer, Charles Williams. At the January 2 meeting they had two guest speakers from the Hillsboro club. President Earl Beard and Secretary Emory Phelps, to help them form the new club.

Was much pleased to receive from the Horeshoe Pond Fish and Game Club of Nashua a nice pin and membership card. It's nice to be remembered by a club.

Bob Elliot of Maine tells us that down in Maine they shot 55 deer that tipped the scales at over 300 each. A record for the whole country was a buck shot by Mrs. Merle Dwyer that weighed 356 and had 12 points. It was a season of big buck deer, so reports Commissioner George J. Stobie.

After this severe cold snap it would be wise to see that your favorite pond has a breathing hole. Fish must have oxygen. A few holes in the ice will do the trick.

According to S. C. Brackett of Milford there is a real shortage of worms in Ireland. He sends me a clipping from the Daily Mirror, Dublin, Ireland, which tells of the shortage. Very interesting clipping. Owing to the illness of my wife I had to miss the supper at Mont Vernon Purgatory Fish and Game club, the annual meeting of the Nashua Fish and Game association at Nashua, and the raccoon supper at Greenfield. Also a fine talk at the Peterboro club, with N. E. Wight talking on "Falconry."

According to "Hop" Cheney, the head Conservation Officer, the deer kill in the home town was just 50 and the whole state 9794, not quite up to the 1947 record.

Here is a case that calls for action. Charles Richardson, age 15, is lying at his home in Royalston, Mass., with a fractured hip. He went to the Greenfield, Mass., hospital for a cast. He is a sophomore in the Athol, Mass., high school. This makes 45 bones he has broken in his young life. A card to him, whether you know him or not, will be appreciated. Let's flood this poor fellow with cards. Thanks.

New Hampshire sold: resident 92,132, non-resident 48,012, fishing licenses between July 1, 1948 and June 30, 1949.

A large flock of evening grosbeaks have been visiting Wilton the past week. Mrs. Harold D. Cheever has been feeding a large flock on sunflower seeds.

The snowy owls have taken the city of Washington, D. C., by storm. Many have been seen in this neck of the woods. Oh yes, the goshawks also have come down to prey on our snowshoe hares. Must be a tough winter in the north to drive them down in such big numbers.

In a nearby town the little black and white woods pussies are seeking religion and are in for the winter under a church vestry. They objected to the noise of a church social; too much tramping around above them. Result: The ladies had to wash all the dishes and silverware.

New England College's student body currently number 308, which means that slightly more than nine percent of the students attained in the Fall Term the high average of two A's and three B's.

WEARE

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sawyer have returned from their wedding trip, which took them to Montreal, where they stayed at the Mt. Royal Hotel. They also went to the White Mts. making the whole trip by train. Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, of Lynnfield, Mass., who were at the Weare Center Store all week, returned to their home over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer have the best wishes of the whole town of Weare, both being very well liked.

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley
WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

THIS IS the week of Boston's biggest sports dinner, the annual dinner of the Boston Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association. In spite of the fact that the writers hire the biggest dining room in the city, not one-tenth of the persons who want to pay $10.00 for the privilege of listening to a few baseball talkers can procure tickets.

Thumpin' Theodore Williams, the controversial Red Sox outfielder, and the greatest hitter in baseball, is in Boston to attend the dinner and accept an award from the baseball writers. As a side feature, Ted dropped into the Boston Red Sox offices and signed his 1950 contract. The terms are not made public of course, but there's a bonus arrangement of sorts in the deal, and it's safe to say that Ted's baseball income will be close to $100,000 this season.

The annual Williams' contracts are quiet affairs, without fanfare. Entirely different from the old days when Colonel Jake Ruppert and Babe Ruth carried on a verbal discussion through the newspapers for weeks before signing. When the signing of the contract itself took place, it was one of the big events of the Hot Stove season.

But it's almost certain that Ted is the highest paid player in baseball today. If anyone equals, or tops, Ted's salary, it would be Joltin' Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. But, the Yankees have Yankee Stadium, one of the biggest parks in the league, and the Red Sox have one of the smallest in the league.

Which makes Ted's salary all the more amazing.

BENNINGTON ENJOYS BASKETBALL GAMES

BENNINGTON, Jan. 26 — The Recreation Association sponsored three games of basketball during the week of January 15.

Sunday afternoon Antrim vs Bennington resulted in a victory for Antrim girls in the first game, and victory for Bennington boys in the second game.

Thursday evening Henniker came to Bennington; our girls were defeated, the boys won.

Friday evening was the sports high light of the season. The excellent Philadelphia Colored Giants gave a superb exhibition in a game against Bennington R. A. The preliminary game was between two teams composed of 5th and 6th graders from Pierce School. A very close contest, ending in a victory for the whites over yellows in a two minute overtime period.

N.E.C. NAMES SOCCER CAPTAINS FOR 1950

HENNIKER, Jan. 26, — New England College yesterday elected co-captains to lead the 1950 Soccer team, it is announced by Coach Douglas B. Mann.

The choices were Leon Luger of Brooklyn, New York, and Edward Moran of Freeport, New York. Luger held down the right inside slot in the 1949 outfit and has played two years. He is clever, a good passer and field general. Moran, goalie for last autumn's Pilgrim booters, had an outstanding defensive record, allowing only 15 goals out of 230 attempts by opponents, or less than seven percent.

Underrated Towle Five Gives Hillsboro Battle Of The Year

HILLSBORO, Jan. 23 — A vastly underrated quintet from Towle High of Newport fought valiantly for three periods and forced the Maroon and White to come from behind before bowing 37-29.

With Waldo hooking them in from the corners and Evangelou clearing the defensive boards Towle seemed headed for a major upset over the locals. The Orange and Black moved to a 7-2 margin at the end of the first quarter, held a 16-14 edge at the half and widened the gap to 23-19 at the end of the third period.

Up to this time the Hillsboro forwards had not scored a field goal. This alone would have meant a crushing defeat for many high grade teams. However, Hillsboro differs in one respect from other Class B juggernauts. They have the greatest spirit and the finest offensive center in schoolboy ranks.

Raoul Sullivan netted 27 points in a spectacular uphill fight as he paced the Shopemen to victory, but it was not a one man show, it was five boys working as a unit. It was Carroll Warren, Dizzy Grimes and Walt Whitney fighting their hearts out under the boards and it was Mighty Mouse Taylor, Buddy Gove and Kenny Murdough feeding into the keyhole to the big boy.

In the prelim Hillsboro J. V.'s racked up a 32-24 victory over the Towle J. V.'s but they wouldn't have made the grade if Serge Bernard had been on the bench. Serge connected for his team's first eight points and then swished twelve more through the hoop for a grand total of twenty.

Why Should a Dollar's Worth of Travel Continue to Cost You $1¹⁵?

IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?" you were asked in 1941, when every inch of space was needed for troops and war supplies.

To discourage travel then, a tax was added on your travel dollar, a tax that grew to 15% during the war. The Federal Government collected it through the railroads. The Government still collects it, though your travel need not be rationed now.

Today, the original purpose of this tax is as obsolete as an Air Warden's helmet. But, four years after the war's end, YOU are still paying the Government at the rate of $250,000,000 a year in travel tax.

And, of the billion and three quarters collected since 1941, over half came out of your pocket after the green light on travel went on again.

You don't have food rationing today... you don't have gasoline rationing today.

Yet, a very real brake is still being put on travel. On a coach trip from New York to Chicago, for example, YOU are still paying $4.61 in Federal tax.

And the same with the goods that are shipped to your home community. On every dollar you pay for freight, you pay the Government an extra 3 cents (4¢ a ton on coal). That means YOU are still paying over $300,000,000 a year — freight tax alone.

This tax should be repealed NOW. There is no longer any reason you should pay $1.15 for every dollar's worth of travel... $1.03 for every dollar of railroad freight.
