The Caroline A. Fox Bird and Garden Club, in common with Garden Clubs throughout New England, has a limited number of admission tickets to the Spring Flower Show to be held in Mechanics Building, Boston, March 12 to 18 inclusive. Anyone planning to attend and desirious of securing the reduced rate, (a saving of thirty cents on each ticket), may get in touch with the club president, Mrs. Ilene Parker, or its secretary, Miss Emma Janowsky, not later than March 8.

Benevolent Society

The Benevolent Society of Smith Memorial church met in the vestry usual business meeting the members sewed on the layette prepared by Mrs. Irving Read and her committee. Mrs. Ida Ellinwood, acting president, served coffee and cakes. Among the items discussed was the Society's participation in the World

Day of Prayer exercises on Feb. 24. It was decided to join with the post dance, town hall. church women of Henniker in an evening service. At this service, Mrs. Chester Fisk of Hanover, director of the Hanover Rhythmic Choir, will present her group, assisted by members of Henniker college choir. All women are welcome to join with the Society in attending the meeting in Henniker. If a sufficient number are interested it is planned to charter a bus for the trip, leaving the center at 7:30. Mrs. Ida Ellinwood may be contacted for reservations or information.

Much Ado About A Small Matter Those old cigars will probably ruin my reputation for veracity. A clipping from an old Messenger tells the truth, branding me a prevaricator on all points. It reads as

"Smoke Cigars Made in 1865"--Hillsboro, N. H. Product Relic of Enterprise. The stirring reconstruction days of the Civil War and an example of Yankee enterprise were recalled recently when F. E. Merrill of this town passed to some of his friends a box of cigars bearing the date of 1865 and which were not only made in this meeting. New Hampshire town, but the tobacco from which they were made were in Concord Saturday to attend fertile farms. The cigars had a remarkably fine flavor and the smokers sighed when the last wreath of smoke curled away from the clinging white ash...

"The relics of bygone days were found among the effects of the late Mrs. Emma Merrill Locke, who died recently at Hillsboro Bridge, by Mr. Merrill, a cousin, and executor of her estate. After trying one of the cigars himself, Mr. Merrill passed some of them out to the older inhabitants of the town, who recalled Hillsboro's one venture in the tobacco raising and cigar manufacturing business."

Tobacco may have been raised most anywhere in town, for all I know, but for these particular cigars, the tobacco was raised on the Clark farm, now the upper Rosewald farm.

Hopes of Hillsboro Fans, Students With Maroon and White At Tournament Today

HILLSBORO, Feb. 23 - Tournament fever has reached its peak in our town as the Hillsboro Basketeers are heading for their fourth consecutive Class B Tourney and we think, their first State Championship. Yes, this is the year they should do it. Hillsboro has the coach, the club, and the support of everyone in this area. What else is needed?

As usual the Maroon and White have received a minimum of publicity from our larger newspapers and will probably be lightly regarded as they step onto the huge floor of the Lewis Field House in Durham. However, we are content to let their record speak for itself. Sixteen wins as against only one defeat gives them a firm hold on second place in the Class B ratings. They have beaten such clubs as Conant, Towle, Milford, Peterboro, and Exeter, a worthy achievement in the eyes of even the most critical

INSURANCE EXCHANGE

ARTHUR N. BRUERTON With a deep sense of loss, we Telephone 36-21 the members of the New England Insurance Exchange record the passing of Arthur N. Bruerton on October 28th, 1949.

Arthur was born and educated in Malden and was an outstanding baseball player in his high school days. His enthusiasm for baseball was carried through his entire career. His father, James C. Bruerton, was one of the pioneers in the organization of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters and the Insurance Library Association, so Arhur's footsteps were naturally inclined towards an insurance career. He was for several years a member of the firm of Bruerton, Kimball & Smith, Boston managers of the Hartford Fire. In 1920 he became associated with Rogers & Howes, Boston managers of the Great American. In 1927 he became associated with Russell & Fairfield and in 1929 became a Boston Metropolitan Special Agent for the Boston Insurance Company and the Old Colony Insurance Company. He was elected an active member of the New England Insurance Exchange on April 23rd, 1940; on January 24th, 1947 he resigned and was elected an honorary member.

TIME-PLACE-FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

We are indebted to Miss Abbie Wyman for a years' subscription to the colorful magazine "Arizona Highways." The February number just received contains some magnificent studies of Indian Art and Clara Lee Tanner, a professor at the University of Arizona tells about them. Art has been an intimate part of the life of the Indians of the Southwest since the time of the cave dwellers and by the watercolors featured in "Arizona Highways" this month can see that art is an intimate part of our Indian culture today. Come in and take a look at these reproductions of Contemporary Indian Art. The Southwest Indians of today are surprisingly fine artists and well over a hundred artists, some of them with international representation made a superior contribution to the modern scene in American painting. Typical of Indian Art today is its new materials, age-old tradition, greater variety and range of color, impressive repetition, simplicity, straight-forward depiction, youthful vigor, strength, and spontaneity.

May I ask a pertinent question? Is there any town in the state cat. compareable to the size of Hillsboro, that has no Protestant cemetery in which to bury its dead? That is dependent upon an adjoining town. Do we want another privately owned cemetery? Those whose loved ones sleep in Maple Avenue, I think, will say no. Also there are those who wish to buy a plot within the limits of the know what he am making?" town. What is their wish? Take a look at Maple Avenue cemetery! To whom will it belong! single survivor, on the stormy night of November 26, 1898. Well I remember that weekend: A Boston school teacher who had spent Thanksgiving with us went back to Boston on the four o'clock train on Saturday, and I went with her. We must have gone directly to the theatre, where we saw "Way Down East." There was no sign of snow when we went in, but when we came out it was snowing furiously, and such heavy, wet snow! We had to wait for a Dorchester car and so everybody was plastered with snow when we boarded the last car out for Dorchester and the water ran off of everybody's hats onto everybody else, especially those who were lucky enough to get a seat, from the mens hats particularly, which meant that all were dripping, and then when we got to Dorchester, we had to walk a block or two, with our long skirts dragging through the snow. Of course we were soaking wet when we reached the house. It snowed all day Sunday, but Monday my friend started out for school, soon returning as there was no school. I managed to get a car in the early afternoon and went out to Fitchburg, walking through some more deep snow. It was a bad day in Hillsboro, but it didn't begin to snow quite so early.

Bailey Twins The Grenville, S. C., High News gives the information that there are six sets of twins in the High School, including George and Joan Bailey, who are well-known in Hillsboro. The News has a short sketch of the Bailey Twins, who are seniors. George expects to go to Furman and Duke, and then to practise medicine. Joan intends to take a nurse's training. It is a custom of this High School to choose an outstanding boy and girl as "Students of the Month" on the basis of their contributions to the school. George was chosen for this honor for the month of January.

BEFORE THIS column reaches print again, the major league baseball squads will be assembled in the deep south and the far west, preparing for the 1950 pennant races. There will, as always, be a lot of new, young, hopeful faces in the training camps, and a lot of old familiar faces in new camps. There isn't much doubt but what the Boston Braves have done more to strengthen the team for the new campaign than any other team in either league. The Braves have acquired no less than eight new players by trades and purchase since the end of the 1949

The Braves have bought Louis Olmo, Sam Jethroe and Paul Addis from the Brooklyn Dodgers; Will Marshall, Sid Gordon, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb from the New York Giants; and Gene Mauch from the Chicago

In addition to these players, the Braves have high hopes for a half-dozen rookies, coming up through their own farm system. These include first baseman Hank Ertmann, second baseman Roy Hartsfield and pitcher Normie

The Red Sox, of course, didn't make so many changes. But the Sox also will have some newcomers, whom they hope will im-prove the team. The Sox pur-chased catcher Buddy Rosar from the Philadelphia Athletics, pitcher Al Papai from the St. Louis Browns, and pitchers Ralph Gillespie and George Copeland from minor league clubs. Then from their own farm system, the Sox have brought up pitchers Mike Palm, Will Nixon and Gordon

Within the next few weeks, you'll hear all about the rookies . . . n several thousand words.

At 8:00 p.m., the Hillsboro Farmerettes vie for the league crown with the Pittsfield lassies. The Farmerettes split with the Pittsfield girls during the regular season and were deadlocked in first place with only one defeat each in league play. Ruth Farmer's girls are confident of victory despite the high-scoring of Hess of Pittsfield.

In the final contest of the evening two All-Star teams consisting of boys from Hillsboro, Pittsfield, Penacook and Pembroke will battle

After the games foul-shooting contests will take place and trophies will be awarded. The Hillsboro boys are league champions and will bring at least one of the honors home.

Good sportsmanship awards will be given to one girl and one boy as well as foul-shooting prizes.

If the girls can bring home the bacon it looks as though Hillsboro has a monopoly on league trophies having brought home a good share of the honors for several years in

Yes, we have had our troubles, several times in January during a hot spell we had a visit from one of those black and white woods pussies. Something happened during the night and we had to get up and shut the windows so we could breathe. Must have run afoul of a cat or a dog as they never fire unless molested. This one had a full charge. No kidding.

Ask your Senators and Congressmen to support the new Dingell bill No. N. H. 6533. This will supply more income from fishing tackle for the Fish and ame Departments in the U.S.A.

Speaking of nifty booklets, you should see the one gotten out by the state of Vermont entitled, "Vermont Life". This was sent to me by my wife's sister, Mrs. Harold P. Parker of Montpelier, Vt., one of the best I ever saw.

You gardners want to get the ittle circular form Organic Gardening at Emmaus, Penn., entitled "Are Chemical Fertilizers Ruining Our Soil and our Health". Better get your copy.

A friend of mine wants to know who raises bassett hounds. Can you tell us? Thanks for the many that phoned me about the breeders of great danes last week.

Is your dog a nuisance? Does he stay at home or is he a roamer? Four dogs have been shot and one killed outright in nearby towns in the past few weeks. Nothing can be done about this as they were proved to be a nuisance. All these dogs were licensed but that license is a tax and not a license to become a nuisance. Better check on your dog and see where he spends his days if not at home. The other day I ran in to have a look see at the nine Newfoundland puppies at the home of Atty. Charles Sullivan at Wilton Center.

Since the snow the pheasants are and 11 to a flock.

Since I put out my swinging feeding station that Phil Magoon sent down to me I have had a flock of evening grosbeaks, blue jays and a lot of smaller birds. I counted 15 grosbeaks at one time in the feeder. And how those males do fight.

Had a nice letter from Everett Bingham of East Jaffrey. How that man finds time to write a letter is beyond me. With the several hundreds of parakeets and the time for training doesn't leave much time for leter writing. However, he writes a nice letter.

Once in a lifetime is the sight that Dwight (Ford) Dart and Bill a new record for the difficult Fox a permit to trap your land. Put up Munhall, both of Peterboro, saw last Saturday while driving over Temple mountain. Four bobcats crossed the road in front of their car, two old ones and two kits. The cats were in on hurry, unafraid, and stayed near a stone wall 20 feet from the car while the men Hill (S). Slalom, 1. They were still there when the men drove away.

Why do they call them evening grosbeaks when they only come for feed in the morning?

A big bobcat was seen on Pead hill just a short distance from my home. Several years ago my neighbor_saw a pair and a young one at Fiske Corner on a stone wall. They paid no attention to him. Had a party last week that wrote to me about realsing some wild animals that had been taken very young and knew nothing of wildlife. It would not be right to turn them loose after so long in captivity. They would soon starve. This also pertains to all wildlife taken from the nest or den. Give them to some zoo where they will be properly

I guess by the number of letters I have received the past wek that property owners are beaver-minded. In all cases I told them it was their property and to do as they thought best. If the beavers were dogs have met their fate in crossing if damage is being done the only
