Coming Events

The postponed meeting of the Improvement club will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Martin on Friday, March 10, at 8:00 p.m.

The League of Women Voters will entertain at a public Forum to discuss articles on the Hillsboro town warrant at Community Hall, March 8th at 8 p.m. All are welcome.

Recently I indulged in my favorite pastime of asking questions. I wanted to know some facts about the publishing of the Messenger, and thanks to Bella Leach, who answered my questions, I learned quite a bit. Maybe you'd like to know of my increased knowledge.

More than 1,300 copies of the Hillsboro Messenger, Antrim Reporter and Henniker Weekly Currier are printed each week. Eight hundred copies are mailed to subscribers in foreign countries, Greece and Japan, the District of Columbia, and 23 states, including Florida, Maine, California, Texas, and Arizona and 18 other states in between. 100 or more summer residents receive the Messenger, including Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Dr. Eleanor Campbell, in New York City, Dr. D. B. Dill in Edgewood, Md., and Senator Tobey in Washington, D. C. Three hundred or more copies are sold here at Boardman's Store. Don Powers of Bennington, Butterfield's Store in Antrim, the drugstore in Henniker, at stores in all the Weares, at Washington and the Villages.

A large number of Messengers are read at second hand. Subscribers send them to their families or friends out of town, especially boys in the service and college students. I know of one case in which three families, living miles apart, read the same Messenger.

The Messenger serves the community in many ways, it prints the affairs of the churches, schools, clubs, other organizations, and civic matters, private parties, and the doings of individuals. There would be more of the last two named, but for the New England conservatism. Any small town paper is what its people make it, of course some people are not interested in the ads, but editors are not in the business just for the fun of splashing ink around, but to make a living for their families, and ads bring in the money.

The office force consists of the Editor, John Van Hazinga; there are two full-time assistants, Harry Rogers, and Russell Wadleigh, Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Phelps, who work only part-time.

There are correspondents in all the surrounding towns and villages except Hillsboro Center and Bradford whose interests lie elsewhere.

So send in your items of news, but do not forget to sign your name.

Ethel's Scrapbook

In her young days, Ethel must have spent hours clipping items from the newspapers, especially the Messenger and the Enterprize, both published in Hillsboro at the same time.

The Editor of the Enterprize was Hiram Smart and his office was in Marshal Derby's present rooms and also across the street in what is now the Cobbler's Shop.

There was great competition but the Enterprize existed for only three or four years. Although Mr. Smart did the job printing longer.

Some of the clippings in the scrapbook are interesting to read now. In the days when movies and automobiles were barely known and radios undreamed of, people provided their own entertainment.

Ready for the Ride Up

Some of the fifty participants in the recent High School Winter Carnival are lined up in this picture ready to ascend the top with the assistance of the tow rope.

Ready to grab the rope is Bruce Bonnette of Hillsboro with Scott McLain of Deering and Maurice Cote of Hillsboro next in line. In the distance can be seen the finish line with Harry Nissen standing nearby. Also visible is the Deering Ski Tow Snack Shack and the town hall. The tow operates weekends and on Wednesday nights, weather permitting.

"The Church and Youth" To Climax Fellowship Series

HILLSBORO, March 2 — "The Church and Youth" will bring to a close this series of Sunday evening Fellowships at the Hillsboro Methodist church this Sunday evening.

The evening will begin at seven o'clock with a brief worship service in the sanctuary. The youth will then speak on different aspects of how the church relates to youth.

A Good Friday tragedy, "When Mothers Meet" by Bert Crocker, will be presented by Mrs. Marion Hilliard taking the part of Mary, and Mrs. Margaret Eaton taking the part of Salome.

A campfire service will climax the evening's program, followed by recreation and refreshments. Members of the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will be hosts.

ANTRIM

World Day of Prayer was observed Friday afternoon in the Baptist church vestry. The service based on the theme, "Faith for our Time," was arranged by Mrs. Roger Floyd representing the Baptist women and Mrs. William Richardson the Presbyterians. Mrs. Floyd was leader. Mrs. Benjamin Tenney sang, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Others participating in the service included Mrs. Fred Dunlap, Mrs. Raymond Grant, Mrs. David Bassett, Mrs. Arthur English and Mrs. Alwin Young.

A group of former shopmates from Abbot Co., gave a post-stork show for Mrs. Maurice Wilson at her Bennington home Thursday evening. Mrs. Wilson received many useful and attractive gifts.

Two bus loads of high school students and town's people went to Townsend, Mass., Tuesday evening where they saw several fine games. Antrim was selected to play by defeating its rival Hancock. Townsend high was the opposing team and defeated Antrim 63-55 in an exciting game.

Mrs. Lawrence Carl and her daughters, Polly and Susie, visited her mother, Mrs. Charles Butterfield, part of last week.

Mr. G. H. Caughey is again suffering with shingles.

A group of friends gave Mrs. Maurice Helpem a surprise stork shower at her home on Main street, Saturday evening, at which she received many useful and attractive gifts. The hostesses, Mrs. Ralph George, Mrs. Donald Brown and Mrs. Leo Sweeney served sandwiches, assorted cake and coffee. The table favors, hand-painted cradles, were made by Mrs. John Lawson. Others attending were Miss Betty McBrien of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Philip Woodbury, Jr., Peterboro; Mrs. Bartlett Lund, Mrs. Wallace K. Flood, Mrs. Alfred Chandler, Mrs. William Laughlin, and the honor guests' mother, Mrs. Jessie Rutherford, Antrim.

HILLSBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Webber have received word of the serious illness of Max Webber in Ohio. Mr. Webber has been in a shock induced coma for five weeks.

Democrats Revive, Nominate Ticket; Article Seeks Concord Hospital Aid

HILLSBORO, March 2 — The town warrant posted Saturday by the Selectmen contains a few articles that may be debated pro and con, come town meeting. Article 8 refers to the town contribution to the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Regional Association. Article 13 relating to funds for Grimes Field is blank this year. Last year's suggested appropriation of $200, was upped to $700. Article 16. To see if the town will vote to purchase the Maple Avenue cemetery and the Mary C. Atwood farm for town cemetery purposes, and raise and appropriate money for the same may cause some discussion. It is generally felt that town purchase will be a good thing.

There are 21 articles this year and several of them will call for appropriations, including town officers' salaries and expenses, street lighting, repairs and maintenance of highways, bridges, culverts and sidewalks. The sum of $400 is asked for white blister rust control, $60 for band concerts, $150 for Memorial Day observance, $700 for a special traffic officer during the summer months, $4,500 for purchase of a fire fighting truck for forest fire fighting, $1,000 to be applied to the salary of the district nurse, Mrs. Anna Bailey.

The controversial article of last year to change the system of town election to a non-partisan system is absent from the warrant this year.

Strongest feeling is centered on Article 20. To see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $1,800, to aid the Concord hospital, at Concord, N. H. Last year a similar request was voted down at town meeting.

Henniker Woman's Club Plans Minstrel Show

HENNIKER, March 2 — The Women's Club met Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Ross Robertson, presiding. The minstrel show to be given on March 8 was discussed. It was also announced that another card party will be held in April.

Mrs. Clarence Edmunds of the music department presented the program featuring Mrs. Robert Knapp of St. Johnsbury, Vt. Mrs. Knapp who had written a skit with "Rosewood Spinet" as the theme sang various songs. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Phelps, accompanied her at the piano. Richard Everts played several violin solos. Mrs. John Hollis was his accompanist. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clayton Straw, Mrs. George Adlington, Mrs. Willis Munsey, Mrs. Jennie Brown and Mrs. Camille Comire.

MARION ESTHER ELDRIDGE

Mrs. Marion Esther Eldredge, age 52 years, passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Christie Ann Prebble, at Franklin, on Wednesday morning, March 1st. She was born in Franklin, the daughter of Russell Merrill and Etta Ann (Hancock) Ban.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Evelyn Poor of Concord; a brother, Russell Bean, Pecos, Texas; sisters, Mrs. Lillian Eva Shaw of Gile, N. H.; Mrs. Grace Ellen Bartlett, Mrs. Sadie Etta Worthington, Mrs. Christie Ann Prebble and Mrs. Ida Pearl Conture all of Franklin; and Mrs. Edna Gibson of Hanover; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held from the Woodbury Funeral Home in Hillsboro on Saturday, March 4th, at 2:00 p.m. Burial will be in the New cemetery at Henniker.

HILLSBORO, March 2 — The nomination of Democrats augur well for heightened political interest in the town elections March 14. This is the first time since 1944 that the Democrats have made an organized effort to secure local offices.

Heading the Democratic ticket is young Everett B. Feldblum, a war veteran and native of this town; Edwin S. Baldwin, proprietor of the Square Market and long time Democrat, seeking the office of Town Clerk; other candidates are Mark E. McClintock, for Town Treasurer, also a veteran Democrat and at present a post office employee; Donald T. Bonnette, candidate for Tax Collector, is the son of the late Samuel Bonnette, for many years a Hillsboro barber, he is a World War II veteran and active Legionnaire; Miss Susan H. Pierce, a descendant of Franklin Pierce, is the parties choice for Library Trustee; Harry Jordan, a local mason contractor, is the candidate for Trustee of Trust Funds.

Everett Feldblum said that the revised Democratic organization would promise activity in this election in the future and that he will make a serious campaign for election. He said that if he didn't want the office he wouldn't be a candidate.

The Republicans will caucus next Monday to select their candidates. No candidates were nominated for Chief of Police or Road Agent.

MRS. NETTIE L. WHITE

HILLSBORO, March 2 — Mrs. Nettie L. White, 79, died at the Hillsboro County General hospital in Grasmere, Sunday.

Mrs. White was born in Moore's Forks, N. Y., the daughter of Carlos J. and Lois (Allide) Wheeler.

Survivors include two sons, Truman and Clifford Sizemore both of Antrim; a daughter, Miss Theresa Sizemore of Westboro, Mass.; three brothers, Silas E. Wheeler of Brookline, Alvin A. Wheeler of Nashua and Albert Wheeler of Antrim; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Poland of Keene and Mrs. George Smith of Antrim; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

She was a member of the Methodist church and the WCTU of Hillsboro.

Funeral services will be held at the North Branch chapel in Antrim, Thursday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in North Branch cemetery, Antrim. The Woodbury Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

GEORGE EDWARDS FUNERAL

Funeral services for George Edwards, 80, were held on Friday morning at the Congregational church with Rev. Thomas Billings and Rev. Harrison Packard officiating and Miss Edith Lawrence organist.

The profusion of flowers attested to the esteem that Mr. Edwards was held in by his fellow townsmen. Bearers were J. Prentiss Weston, Frank Wilson, Joseph Diamond, Lawrence Parker, Sr., Carl Abbott and George Blanchard.

The burial took place in Milton, Mass., with the Rev. Morrison Boynton in charge.

The Woodbury Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

HILLSBORO

The state foresters were hosts to maple sugar and syrup producers at an afternoon meeting in the Community building Tuesday. Highlights of the meeting were the illustrated lecture and panel discussions. Perley Crane, Washington, was program chairman.

News Items From Bennington

Mrs. Maurice C. Newton CORRESPONDENT

JAMES CASHION BENNINGTON, March 2—James Cashion, 47, died at the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston on Sunday.

Mr. Cashion was born in Bennington, the son of Patrick E. and Kate (McGrail) Cashion. He was a member of St. Patrick church and was employed by the Monadnock Paper company.

He is survived by his mother; two brothers, Patrick E. and Paul J. Cashion; three sisters, Mrs. Theresa Gibson of Bennington, Mrs. Mary M. McAdams of Hillsboro, and Mrs. Katherine Flanders of Bedford, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held from St. Patrick's church on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock with burial in Mount Calvary cemetery. The Woodbury Funeral Home of Hillsboro was in charge of arrangements.

John Lindsay is reported as gaining in health. He had not returned to work last week.

Mrs. Andrew MacDonald has been housed with a bad cold.

C. Dudley Kochersperger returned to Lowell, Mass., on Monday having spent a week with the Newtons.

Little Charles Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lyons, spent part of his vacation with his grandparents in Manchester.

Mrs. Patrick Shea is reported as more comfortable in the past few days. She was returned to the Peterboro hospital for further treatment.

Miss Mae Cashion of Manchester returned home Monday having spent a week with Mrs. M. E. Sargent.

The Bennington Woman's club will present a musical revue "On Stage," on Thursday and Friday of this week. There will be many features to the show and dancing will be enjoyed. Lee Collins is directing and producing the revue. He has had vast experience in this sort of work. Part of the proceeds will be used by the Woman's club for the vitamins for school children. Reserved seats are being sold. Contact Mrs. Amy Doe.

There was not a very large crowd on Friday evening, Feb. 24, at the grange hall to hear the wonderful concert given there. It was a Woodin production. The Gerasi Ensemble furnished sweet music all evening. There were five violins and the piano. It surely was a treat to those who were fortunate enough to attend.

The Men's club and the Woman's Guild are agreed to combine their next meetings on Friday, March 17 at 6:30 p.m. Each person attending is to bring their own silver and china, also bring a covered dish for the supper. Rev. Thomas Billings has been asked by both groups to speak on Japan, hence this combined meeting.

Mr. Hughes, father of Mrs. James Dempsey, returned to New York on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey took him to Boston on Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Sawyer has been appointed local chairman for Bennington in the 1950 Easter Seal drive, according to Lawrence F. Whittemore, state chairman of the campaign. Proceeds from this 16th annual fund raising appeal will go towards the work of the New Hampshire Society for Crippled Children and Handicapped Persons, which maintains two rehabilitation centers and a state wide program of service. Members of the local committee are Mrs. Arthur Sawyer, Mrs. E. C. Black, and Mrs. Amy Doe.

SPORTSMEN'S COLUMN

by GEORGE S. PROCTOR

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONSERVATION OFFICER
Phone 104 Wilton, N. H.

Did I get a real thrill the other day when I got a letter from that grand old lady, Mrs. Edward MacDowell of Los Angeles, Cal., where she is spending the winter. She is of the famous MacDowell Colony of Peterboro. She writes a swell letter even if she is in the nineties. Miss Rose M. Ellis, secretary of the National Junior Audubon Society of Temple, reports that her club is feeding a lot of winter birds. Leo Aho of Fitchburg got a bobcat on Temple Mountain last Sunday.

The state of Indiana has started a Crow contest. Many of the western states are having these crow contests and we think that's the reason we have so many less crows here in the summer. These crows do a lot of damage to crops and wildlife in the west. I have had a lot of trouble with them the past few years eating my duck eggs when the duck is off the nest.

Warning comes up from Nashua that an epidemic of distemper is raging in that city. Be sure to watch for signs in this trouble. First signs are a cold and running at the nose. Hustle that animal to a vet before it's too late. They can stop it if taken at once.

If you see me walking down the street with my hat cocked at an angle of 45 degrees you will know that I feel so good in getting a couple of letters from ladies 87 and 90 years old, saying they enjoyed the column. I sure got a big thrill from those two letters: Mrs. Edward MacDowell of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Lillie J. Chase of Hardwick, Mass.

A picture of a wild boar in the G. E. News from Lynn, shot in New Hampshire by a Mr. Hobbs at Cornish Flats attracted big notice. Letter and picture sent to me by G. H. Gilchrist. Better come to New Hampshire for big game hunting.

Would you be willing to give a good home to a two year old female English setter? Partly trained on birds. Will tell you where she is.

Nice letter from Philip M. Tirrell of Morristown, N. J. He with his son, Roger, and his brother, Fred, went hunting in Canada and New Brunswick and got six deer, and one 4 point buck in New Hampshire. He sends a picture and newspaper clipping to prove it. They were gone three weeks. All shot with one shot. Mr. Tirrell is a former Lyndeboro resident. He used a 721 rifle, calibre 270. Mr. Tirrell is an employe of the post office in that city. Some venison for one family.

Here is a man that hopes spring is just around the corner. It's costing him a buck a day to feed the grosbeaks. They won't eat anything but sunflower seed and at two bits a pound four pounds and more vanish at one feeding.

Thanks for the clothing sent in last week. I just passed it along where it will do a lot of good. Senator Cummings of Lyndeboro caught a brown weasel in a trap a few days ago. We find that some weasels do not change to white in the winter. This is a rare case, however.

A crow flew over my house last Saturday and we hear them talking all winter in the Whiting woods nearby. Some of them stay during the winter in those woods.

Mrs. Edith Turner of North Weare writes a nice letter telling of the many kinds of birds at her feeding station this winter.

ed some years ago from the Flat to the John Kemp property on Water street. Still in good condition and bearing the names and initials of many spotters, the building could again be moved to a strategic position with little difficulty. Hillsboro now has its armory, motorized equipment, and well-trained personnel.

Robert S. Boardman, who served so efficiently as moderator at town meeting last year will again seek the nomination of the Republican caucus for the office of Tax Collector which he has held the past two years.

The annual N. E. Spring Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society will be held at the Mechanics Building, Boston, March 12-18.

Lt. Col. William G. Proctor, public relations director at West Point, and Jesse Mortensen, head coach of track and cross country at the Point, were overnight guests Wednesday of Col. Proctor's family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Proctor. They are enroute to the Heptagonal track meet at Boston Gardens, Friday.

The Fish and Game club will hold a meeting on Friday evening at the Knights of Pythias Hall. An oyster stew supper will be served at 7:00 o'clock which will be followed by a business meeting. The program will close with motion pictures shown by Harry Dufresne of Kittery, Me. All members are urged to attend. Members of the supper committee are George Beardsley, Clayton Goss, Allison White and Cecil Wright.

Stanley Bracy, Clayton Meade, George Fisher and Louis Gardner attended the St. Anselm's-M.I.T. basketball game in Manchester on Saturday evening.

Several former Henniker residents attended the basketball game between Weare and Henniker at Hanover last week Tuesday evening. Among them were John Carmichael of Keene, Robert Lovely of New London and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gould of Concord. C. Wayne Hancock, former local headmaster, was also there in an official capacity as he was a scorer for the tournament, thus giving him an opportunity to visit with many of his old friends and pupils.

Joe and David Patenaude, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Patenaude, were hospitalized in Laconia on Sunday as the results of accidents while they were skiing at Gilford. Joe, who scraped one side of his body quite thoroughly was released after treatment. David returned home Monday afternoon, a large piece of flesh in the posterior section of his body which had been gouged out was sewn back on with about 20 stitches.

Deputy and Mrs. Willis Munsey, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Champagne, Mrs. Eugene Levesque and Fred Connor recently attended a grange meeting at Weare Center when Deputy instruction was given. Mrs. Munsey participated in the program. Mrs. F. L. Chase has been ap-

LISABEL GAY'S COLUMN

I found especially interesting. It was held in Odd Fellows Hall, and a grand dilloquent description of the decorations was given. There were 200 electric lights used, a star of red, white, and blue lights was suspended from the ceiling, Masonic emblems were framed with colored lights and in conspicuous places. Pictures and mirrors adorned the walls. These Balls always began with an hour's concert, given by the orchestra, and sometimes outside soloists. The men of the orchestra always wore their dress suits. I can see them now, Frank Rumrill, Leon Hill, and Leon Dennison, and all the rest. Many came for the concert only.

At nine o'clock the grand march was formed, this time led by Dr. and Mrs. Fred S. Piper. I used to like to have Frank lead the grand march, for he had us prancing up and down the hall in rows of 16, and more or less confusing in getting straightened out again. The grand march, always ended with the Portland Fancy, with Billy Roach "calling off" as he did for all square dances. We always had dance orders beginning with a waltz followed by two-step, schotische, Newport, Polka, and several others. Later on waltzes and two-steps were sometimes the only dances.

At intermission we sometimes went to the hotel for supper or someone served a supper elsewhere. At this Masonic Ball adjectives were used copiously and some of the expressions like the "elegantly attired ladies" sound really funny because my name was in the long list given. The ladies did not wear evening gowns, but just their dress-up costumes, which about this time consisted of very fancy colored silk waists and a very long black silk or any dark skirt. There were no sleeveless or plunging neckline dresses. Most of the collars were very high sometimes boned.

Those balls were very grand indeed and everybody had a good time.

Hillsboro Grange

The regular meeting of Hillsboro grange, No. 342, was held last Wednesday evening with the Master, Amos Harrington, presiding. The first and second degrees were conferred on one candidate, the first degree for Instruction by Deputy George Gilbert of Ezekiel Webster grange of Boscawen. It was voted to accept invitations from Bear Hill and General Stark granges on March 21, and April 7 respectively. A short literary program was given: Piano solos, "Minuet in G," by Fern McNeal; a quiz on automobiles by George Gould; and song, "Smile, Smile, Smile," by the grange. Remarks were made by visiting officers.

The next meeting on March 8, will feature a discussion of the town and school warrants.

JOYCE—BUCKLEY

In a candle-light ceremony Tuesday evening, February 21, at 6:30 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckley, Marilyn Florence Buckley became the bride of Francis J. Joyce, son of Mrs. Mary Schroder.

The couple, with Rev. Charles Maurer officiating, used the double ring ceremony. Decorations were baskets of spring flowers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a navy check suit with powder blue accessories, and corsage of red roses. She was attended by Dorothy London. The groom's brother, Richard Joyce, was his attendant.

Following the ceremony, those present including immediate relatives, went to Six Acres, in Manchester, where a wedding dinner was served. At the dinner Mrs. Rita Buckley, sister-in-law of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

The newly married couple left on a trip to New York City. Upon their return they will reside in Derry.

Another sport season is ended for Weare High with the closing of the basketball season. This year the boys were able to enter the tournament at Hanover, which all basketball fans considered very good, as the ten boys on the team were chosen from the entire High school, which has only 15 boys.

Two busses went to the tournament from Weare, as well as many cars. It was estimated about 150 attended from Weare. One side of the gym was filled with fans from Weare and Henniker, and the game was fast and enthusiastic. The cheer leaders from both teams were on the floor as often as possible, the Weare girls in blue and white, and Henniker in green and white. Near the end all of them made a line down the hall, green and blue alternating, and put on one big cheer, running off the floor together, laughing, which to the spectators showed sportsmanship of the highest order.

At the end of the first half it was 20-19, in favor of Henniker. The last half the score went to Henniker, but the whole game was played fast and very interesting. The Weare team, as many readers do not know, is comprised of two seniors, six-foot, slender, Glendon Drewry, forward; Nathan Sawyer, one of the smallest and fastest forwards; George Sawyer, center and Gordon Brown and Arthur Wade guards. Substitutes are Carroll Carter, Charles Brown, Marvin Colburn and Alberto Davis. Fourteen games were won, out of sixteen played. Weare was very fortunate to be able to use the gym at Henniker, for their home games. Their coach is Lester Rysnik, to whom great credit goes for the record of the Weare basketball squad of 1950. The game brought out several Weare ex-residents. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Peaslee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Annis, Mr. and Mrs. John Dodds, former headmaster.

WOLF HILL GRANGE NOTES

The regular grange meeting was held Monday night with 38 present. Deputy George Gilbert was present for instruction. The 1st and 2nd degrees were worked on a class of candidates.

A dime march was held for the benefit of the home and community welfare committee, the prize of 5 lbs. of sugar was won by Bernice Williams.

Several invitations to attend, presiding masters and overseers night were read and accepted. Two members were granted demits, having moved out of town. Sister Hilda Wilson is reported ill.

Two re-instatements were read who desire to come back into the grange. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served after the meeting. At the next meeting the 3rd and 4th degrees will be conferred on the same class of candidates.

Richard Larson, nephew of Ren Philbrick, was unfortunate enough to collide with a car while sliding this past week. X-rays showed a cracked bone in his left hip, but he is able to go to school as long as he doesn't engage in active sports. He will have to go back for X-rays next week.

Next Monday evening, March 6, the annual school meeting will be held at the town hall. A good attendance is hoped for, as the school meetings are important. The subject of a new school for the town of Weare is still not settled. There is no question of the need of one. The Weare Center school, with John O'Brien, teacher, has nearly 45 children crowded into a room that has been said to have a capacity of 32, and the other small schools are far from modern, as to convenience.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Sweeney and two children, Sherman, Jr., and Raymond, were recent weekend guests with Mrs. Sweeney's mother, Mrs. Carrie Cleveland.

The Junior High prize speaking contest, and play, will be held soon. A possible date is Friday night, March 10.

The senior class is hard at work on the "Reflector," with Diana Colburn as Editor, and George Sawyer, and Marilyn Bancker assistants. Shirley Colburn is the assistant from the junior class. A special page is being reserved for the Alumni, with Virginia Hartleb and Erma Chase in charge. Sylvia Colburn is Art Editor. Mrs. Lambert is the class advisor. The out of town ads are about all taken care of, and they will now concentrate on their Weare friends. At the same time they are starting on their yearly play, which is set for Friday, April 14.

On The Street—by P. S. Scruton

On the East Washington road leading to the village of Washington stands a small house set back from the road, owned by Norman Fletcher and for years known as the Craig place.

There is nothing unusual about the exterior of the house, except that passersby realize that it must be at least 150 years old and for years had the appearance of being deserted.

The interior of the place however, is interesting, due to the fact that an artist back in 1887 painted a huge eagle on the ceiling of the front room, which is rather unusual to the layman. The blackened ceiling however must be cleaned to bring out the rather cloudy eagle in its darkened foreground, and the present owner intends to give the work of art its original appearance, if possible.

Door panels in the house also seemed to have given the artist his undivided attention to detail. On one panel he has painted what he claimed was a Chinese fish and on the same door its second panel has a Japanese fish in color. The artist therefore from a Sherlock Holmes angle must have been a sailor or a traveler in his younger days. His name on the ceiling is printed, H. C. Fern, 1887.

On the panels of another door in bold relief and colors is King Neptune and Lady Godiva, although the lady in question is without her horse and wears a few clothes. Evidently using a small fine brush the artist has also done some fancy paneling in short and long wavy lines, which would require hours of effort and thought in the finishing touches.

Old timers say the artist was an eccentric fellow and did all his painting at night with a kerosene lamp for illumination, in fact he would do no painting if anybody was around to watch his creations, and waited until members of the household had retired for the night. It is claimed also that he painted for his board and room and wandered about the country returning at intervals for some years.

Little is known about this traveling knight of the road or whether he painted the big eagle while standing in a chair or lying prone on a plank or two on an improvised staging, but the fact remains that the paintings are unusual, interesting and well executed.

The Safest Way

TIME-PLACE-FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

For the first time since summer Marion Lundberg worked with us, getting in on the tail end of three consecutive Wednesday evenings of our using the same model, Mrs. Mary Rains. Progress is beginning to show in the fact that our pictures express feeling rather than just a face or a figure. Learning to mix colors, to combine them, and touching on composition and background too has made this last problem very interesting. This Wednesday for the sake of variety we will have short, quick sketches.

From the youthful magazine "Seventeen," March issue, come an explanation of the "isms" in Art, classifications used to describe a type of a painting, a technique, or philosophy or a historical trend, a painter's expression of himself, his response to life. There seems to be approximately eight of these isms.

Realism, means portraying people, nature, or objects in a familiar recognizable, and accurate manner. Impressionism was the first breaking away from exact representation by introducing the technique of painting with small brush strokes of brilliant color to suggest shimmering light on a scene. Post-Impressionism was the translating of natural forms into angles and planes. Outgrowing of this were Fauvism, (Fauves, wild beasts, was the name given to a group of painters who in 1905 shocked critics by their use of brilliant colors). Expressionism was concerned with the inner world of feeling, not the world of facts of the realists and impressionists, and cubism was concerned with dynamic pattern of lines, cubes, and cylinders, merely suggesting the subject. Then came nonobjectivism, the discarding of all reference to actual objects, abstractionism concerning on mood, simple outlines and color planes, and lastly surrealism creating an illusion of reality by using a surreal, meticulous technique and using the unreal world of dreams and fantasy as their subject matter.

TIME: Every Wednesday evening, 8 to 10 p.m. PLACE: Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel. FACTS: You are welcome as a worker or a visitor and Stuart Bruce is our instructor.

TOWN MEETING

Town meeting March 14 will be heralded in the newspapers, most of them, as democracy in action, the people speaking and guiding the towns' business.

The thing wrong with town meeting is that this parliamentary procedure is not held often enough. Most of the town governing is done before and after the meeting by the selectmen. The important part of town meeting therefore is the election of selectmen and town officers. Your contribution to town government can best be made by making an X behind the candidates of your choice.

Because of this belief we made the personal attempt last year to change the system of election to a non-partisan local election method. Such a change would better offer a choice to the voters.

This year the advent of the Democratic ticket may provide that opportunity.

Regarding Article 20 relative to the appropriation of $1,800. for the Concord hospital it is our observation that specialized services are enjoyed there by Hillsboro people - types of treatment not available in the County hospital. Our townspeople and doctors have elected that hospital to be theirs by the fact of patronage. It would seem only right that we in Hillsboro should share proportionately in the deficits of that hospital.

Such support is better given by the community as a whole through a town appropriation than by hit or miss unfair personal solicitation.

It goes without saying that this community should be represented on the governing board, perhaps by one of the selectmen.

KENNETT WINS CLASS B CROWN IN TOURNAMENT OF UPSETS

DURHAM, Feb. 25 — A big, rugged gang of basketball players from Kennett High of Conway, knocked off favored Groveton and St. John's and marched on to beat Somersworth for the Class B crown.

On opening day Kennett defeated Groveton. St. John's beat Woodbury. Somersworth edged out Hillsboro and Exeter fought off a last period rally to knock off West Lebanon.

On the second day Kennett took St. John's and Somersworth measured Exeter easily.

In the finals Kennett squeaked by Somersworth in an overtime as Exeter won over St. John's in the consolation.

That completes a quick rundown. Now for the Hillsboro-Somersworth debacle. Somersworth jumped into an early lead and were never headed as Michel, Boulay, and Jankowski led the way. Somersworth outran, outpassed and made Hillsboro look bad throughout the contest.

It was not until little Kenny Murdough hit his stride that the Maroon and White made any headway at all. Murdough was all over the floor, taking rebounds, fighting all the time and displaying deadly accuracy from the foul line.

In the fourth period Sully and Murdough staged an uphill fight as Hillsboro outscored the Blue and White 16-11. Their valiant efforts fell short and they trailed 48-47 as the gun sounded.

POST-MORTEM

There's an old proverb that says, "Rats always desert a sinking ship." It is too bad that a few "loyal" Hillsboro fans joined this group as the boys went down to defeat. Remember, the team lost without crying as they played their poorest ball of the season. Those few fans who slammed them the hardest seem to have forgotten the 16 wins compiled during the year.

The inspired play of Kenny Murdough, second string forward, will long be remembered. Quite seriously injured early in the season, he came off the bench to fight all the way when the chips were down.

Raoul Sullivan Declared N. H.'s Finest Athlete

A spectacular high school basketball career was brought to a close as Raoul Sullivan netted 26 points for a losing cause and was elected to the Class B All-Tourney Team for the third consecutive year.

It seems hard to believe that the greatest ball player in Hillsboro's long history of outstanding athletes has scored for the last time.

Considered by such notables as Referee Jackowski, Umpire Padden and Bump Hadley, WBZ sports commentator, to be New Hampshire's finest all-around ball player, big Sully has carried four Hillsboro teams through very successful seasons only to be beaten in the Tourney.

Throughout his five brilliant years he has amassed a startling point total although frequently guarded by two of his opponents.

Throughout this entire period Raoul has been the mainstay of the Maroon and White, an invincible, unconquerable giant who came through when all others failed. It was said by many that, "As Sullivan goes, so goes Hillsboro."

With his departure Hillsboro stands in great danger of losing its place as a Class B power. There probably will never be another, but as long as basketball is played in Hillsboro the name of Raoul Sullivan will be remembered.

Hillsboro Girls Lose Championship to Pittsfield

PEMBROKE, Feb. 28 — The Hillsboro Farmerettes fought all the way but finally dropped the decision to Pittsfield 45-37. This game decided the league champions as Hillsboro and Pittsfield ended their seasons in a tie for first place. Main cog in the Pittsfield attack was Heose with 25 points while Cynthia Gilbert paced the losers with 15.

In other contests the Red All-Star girls edged out the White in a close game and Lou Shopes' Gold All-Stars lost to Devine's Maroons. The boys were presented the League Championship Trophy and Ellen Feldblum was victorious in the girls' foul-shooting contest.

GROANING, CREAKING muscles are the order of the day on a hundred or more scattered baseball diamonds from California to Florida.

The major league baseball squads, and many of the minor league squads, have started spring training. There may be as many as 4,000 aspiring ball players working out at the various diamonds, and that's big business. It's big business, too, to the cities and towns which play host to the spring training camps.

HADLEY

The host cities, of course, make money, not from the ball clubs and athletes, but from the tourists the clubs attract.

One of the biggest problems at spring training camps, always, is the condition of the diamonds. No matter how hard the greenskeepers work, or how much money the municipalities may be willing to spend, they cannot duplicate the turf conditions that the ball players will encounter up north. The soil just isn't adapted to it.

I remember when I used to go south for spring training; I could work out in the gyms up here for weeks, and arrive at training camp in really good condition. After two or three days outdoors my leg muscles would tighten up and my feet get sore. After a month of pounding around on the sand and clay in the south, it's like walking on a thick carpet to get back into one of our northern ball parks.

NEC Skiers Win Osborn Trophy

INTERVALE, Feb. 25 — New England college of Henniker, in its first season of formal winter sports competition, won the Afa Osborn trophy here Saturday afternoon in the annual NEFC ski meet sponsored by Northeastern university.

The Pilgrim team downed nine competitors in this giant slalom of two runs on the local slopes when its four-man outfit, led by Capt. Neil Dearborn, made the best aggregate time.

Dearborn, the individual winner, was clocked in 1:49.26.

Ten colleges and universities in the New England area participated. The statistics are as follows:

- Combined times based on best four men on each team:
- 1. New England college 8:11.36.
- 2. American International college 8:13.66.
- 3. Northeastern university 8:20.59.
- 4. Brown university 8:36.04.
- 5. Tufts college 8:37.74.
- 6. Lowell Textile 8:43.40.
- 7. Babson institute 9:26.43.
- 8. Boston college 9:27.81.
- 9. Boston university 9:28.8.

Pilgrims Set For Season's Finale

Coach W. Scott Calahan's New England college cagers will end their longest and most strenuous cage campaign on Saturday night, March 4, on their home court in Henniker against Leicester Jr. college. Counting this final fray, the Pilgrims will have participated in 22 contests, including the recent charity tilt in Peterboro for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Facing the camera, left to right, front row are George Theodoras, Dover; Art Kendrick, Henniker; Hank Schoenfeld, New York; Robert Lanino, New York; and Al Madison, Clarksburg, West, Va.; second row,

NEC Cagers to Wind Up Season Saturday Against Leicester Jr., College

HENNIKER, March 2 — New England college will close its cage season in the Cogswell Memorial Auditorium here on Saturday night, March 4, against a fast and talented Leicester Jr. college squad.

The Pilgrims are hoping for a victory in the finale, which would give the royal blue and scarlet their best season to date. Against tough opposition, and the impediment of a long schedule, Coach W. Scott Calahan's charges expect to finish with a close to 500 percentage.

Now at their best form peak since the bristling overtime battle with Bridgeport university and the Winter Carnival feature game against North Adams Teachers, the Pilgrims are conceding nothing to the Bay Staters, although statistics favor the latter.

This past weekend, the Pilgrims journeyed to Northfield, Vt., and took the measure of a good Norwich Freshman outfit by a nine point margin, and then moved on to Plattsburg, New York, where they staged their annual encounter with the classy Champlain squad.

In this thriller, the Pilgrims prevailed to the tune of 58-54, coming from far behind in the final stanza to outshoot and outgame the New York Staters. At one stage, Champlain had a 10-point bulge, but this was whittled down to an even score in the last three minutes. The Henniker contingent, apparently inspired by their ability to overtake their opponent, turned on the heat and emerged on the long end of the count.

It was a gratifying performance for the royal blue and scarlet rooters, including their marching band which accompanied the team to Plattsburg, inasmuch as Champlain had beaten McGill university of Montreal, and McGill in turn had tripped the Pilgrims in a tilt a week ago in Manchester. A year ago this confusing puzzle of comparative strengths on the court ran the other way. McGill defeated Champlain, Champlain downed NEC and then NEC wheeled around and trounced McGill on the latter's home court.

At this writing, the Pilgrims have yet to play a return game with McIntosh. Excluding this contest statistically, the royal blue and scarlet courtmen have eight wins to their credit. Their victims are Champlain, McIntosh, Laconia Business college, Northeastern, Me.,

Marlboro, North Adams Teachers, Norwich Freshmen, and a strong American Legion team which met the Pilgrims in Peterboro for the benefit of the recent March of Dimes campaign.

On 10 occasions this season, the Calahanmen have tasted defeat. The conquests were by Keene Teachers in home-and-home contests, Dartmouth Freshmen, Gorham Teachers, Curry college, Merrimack college, Bridgeport university, Plymouth Teachers, McGill university, and Portland Jr. college.

Four Pilgrims will be playing their last game on Saturday night against Leicester Jr. college. They are John McKernan, lofty center, from Dover; Harris (Hank) Schoenfeld, New York City, and Reggie Curtis, of Manchester, both guards; and Warren Barker, of Henniker, veteran forward.

Six key men will return to the Henniker institute next year.
