Music Club

The Music club held its regular meeting Community hall Monday, March 13. After the business meeting, Mrs. Olive Landrie, program chairman for the month, presented the High School glee club under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Jewett of Antrim. They sang the following numbers: "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Abide With Me," piano solo by David Wood, "Golly-wog Cake Walk," and "Little Shepherd." The glee club sang again, "Stout Hearted Men," and "The New World on it's Way." Chorus singing was enjoyed by all. Refreshments of cupcakes, coffee and candies were served from a green and very attractive table with Shamrocks, and other Saint Patrick Day decorations by the following hostesses: Mrs. Olive Landrie, Mrs. Ernest Marcy, Mrs. Cyrus Phelps and Miss Madeline Gilmore.

Improvement Club

The Improvement club met at the home to Mrs. Henry Martin for its regular meeting last Tuesday. The attendance was not large, but all spent a very happy evening. In response to roll call Irish jokes were told. There was no formal program but each member brought one or two small gifts for a grab bag. They paid ten cents for each grab, making a neat sum for the club. Refreshments of ginger bread and whip cream with apple sauce were served by Mrs. Martin and assisting hostesses: Mrs. Emma Mills, Mrs. Emma Janowsky and Miss Kate Duseau.

When the snow began falling on town meeting day we are all reminded of another town meeting day, March 11, 1888. Walter, with several other Hillsboro boys, came home to vote for the first time, but he didn't. The train left Manchester around one o'clock. They should have reached Hillsboro a little after four, but instead a very tired train load of people pulled into the station Wednesday forenoon. The train managed to get through Henniker but after leaving that town they were stuck in the drifts. Walter and two other boys walked home through the unbroken roads late Wednesday in the afternoon. As they neared the present Fox Farm they heard Frank shouting at the three or four yoke or oxen as he was turning around to go back home. It had taken all of that day to get from the farm down there. Some tired boys climbed aboard the sled and got home in time for supper, after their two and one half day trip from Manchester.

Hillsboro Grange

The regular meeting of Hillsboro grange, No. 342, was held last Wednesday evening with Master, Amos Harrington, presiding. The third and fourth degrees were conferred on one candidate. At the business meeting invitations were read to meet with Bennington and Lake granges and also the 75th anniversary at Wyoming grange in South Weare. The following program was given: Song, "America," by the grange; address by George Boynton and the required discussion of the town warrants which created much interest and discussion by several speakers. During the social hour old town and school reports were reviewed dating from 1852-1950.

Refreshments of cake, cookies, and coffee were served. The next regular meetin, March 22, will feature a St. Patrick' program. Bernice Merrill, Lecturer. Camp Life

When the Windsor Mountain Camp new camp folder was read to me I almost envied the small boys who will be overflowing the place before too long. Some of the attractions like swimming, boating, etc., would not appeal to me but it would be enough to be there and roam around and study the birds and flowers and all the side lights. I see that Dr. Achorn is to be there this summer and I could keep him busy answering questions about the things I found. Some of the boys are going to like the nurse in charge, Miss Ardell Call, for she is a Hillsboro girl. But I guess a boys' camp, even with the tolerant Tom Hines a head of it is not for such as I. STATE HOUSE JOURNAL —

Gov. Adams To Commence Special Session April 4

By Enoch Shenton

Governor Adams announced the special session of the Legislature would convene April 4, and promptly scheduled a series of Sunday afternoon radio talks, the inference was clear. The governor will again take his story direct to the people. He'll tell them about reorganization—what it will save in taxes, what streamlining can do for state services, what the alternatives are.

The story of reorganization will be thoroughly aired on four consecutive Sundays before the lawmakers are called to Concord to vote on the issue. When they get here, they'll have a pretty good idea what the folks back home think about reorganization. The senators and representatives themselves will be better informed, as a result of the governor's broadcasts.

Rep. Richard F. Upton of Concord speaker of the house, also did his bit toward preparing the special session. He sent a questionnaire to all of the 385 House Members, asking them what they did and did not want to consider at the special session. He got 280 replies. They represented a majority of both political parties.

The poll was unanimously in favor of considering reorganization of the state government. Upton points out that's what the special session was called for, anyhow. Five legislators were opposed to considering teachers pensions, the rest favored it.

The lawmakers were luke-warm to the idea of considering changes in the salary classification system for state employes. Only 144 voted in favor of action on reclassification, 136 opposed it.

State aid to local schools is "out." By a margin of 200 to 80, the legislators indicated their opposition to giving any consideration to the school aid issue. Actually, there was more sentiment in favor of considering new taxes than for reviewing the state school problem.

On the matter of whether or not new taxes should be on the agenda for the special session, 172 voted "yes" and 108 voted "no." Of those voting in favor of the new taxes, 55 wanted action on the sales tax and 42 wanted a chance to vote on a state income tax.

—An Income Tax — Of Sorts

Few people realize it, but New Hampshire has a rudimentary form of income tax already in force. It is the tax on interest and dividends. March 15 is the deadline for filing tax returns under this law, just as it is under the federal Internal Revenue law. Any person who had income of more than $200 from dividends, stocks, or interest from notes, mortgages or bonds in 1949, must file a state return.

Income from these sources are taxable by the state. The tax rate is determined by the average tax on real estate in the state. It was 4.31 percent last year, may hit 4.5 percent this year. After the state collects this tax, it turns around and distributes the income to the cities and towns from which it is collected. Last year, this "melon" amounted to $1,100,000.

Zoning Law Defeated At Antrim Town Meeting

ANTRIM, March 16 — There was a large attendance at the afternoon session of the annual town meeting. The Junior and Senior High School students were interested observers.

Many of the articles were passed in record time; a few brought some arguments. Showers in the Town Hall were finally voted for, but an amendment was added to the original article calling for a committee to be appointed by the moderator to confer with the selectmen on a proper location for them.

The moderator will also appoint a committee of six, three men and three women, to confer with the different civic organizations in town and report at next year's town meeting on the erection of a suitable World War II Memorial.

The zoning article, an appropriation for eradication of Pine Blister

Rust, and employment of a full time police officer were defeated.

It was voted to return to the Australian Ballot System of voting. Total appropriations are $78,298.62, an increase of approximately $3,600 over last year.

Some appropriations voted are: $148, Monadnock Region; $2,500, street lighting; $1,500, oil burner for Town Hall; $47,740, schools.

Total number of votes cast 262. Town officers: Moderator, Hiram W. Johnson; selectman, 3 years, Everett Chamberlain; clerk, Archie M. Swett; treasurer, Leander Patterson; tax collector, William Richardson; road agent, Elmer W. Merrill, all reelected; library trustee, William Nay; chief of police, Rupert Wissell; park board, Stanley Canfield, Howard Humphrey, Jr., and Arthur English; trustee of trust funds, William Hurlin.

HILLSBOROUGH VOTES TO PURCHASE CEMETERY AND FOREST FIRE TRUCK

FELDBLUM ALMOST UPSETS GOP APPLICANT

HILLSBORO, March 16 — A total of 688 town voters appeared at the polling booths town meeting day, 85 of them new voters.

The voters returned all the Republican candidates to office and approved of beano, 309 to 119. Everett Feldblum, Democratic candidate for selectman, came within 34 votes of defeating incumbent selectman, Olo P. York. He received 324 to 358 for Mr. York.

There were 688 votes cast: 315 straight Republican and 103 straight Democrat and 8 spoiled ballots.

The votes were: Selectman - Olo P. York (R) 358, Everett B. Feldblum (D) 324; town clerk - Marshall A. Derby (R) 494; Edwin S. Baldwin (D) 184; town treasurer - Ronald A. Buttrick (R) 530; tax collector - Robert S. Boardman (R) 541, Donald T. Bonnette (D) 136; highway agent - Raymond O. Harrington (R) 555; chief of police - Arthur G. Jackson (R) 547; library trustee, 2 years - Grace M. Crane (R) 454, Susan H. Pierce (D) 206; trustee of trust funds, 3 years - Selwen A. Davis (R) 419, Harry Jordan (D) 231.

There were a few written candidates for the office of highway agent and chief of police.

HILLSBORO, March 16 — Town meeting in Hillsborough lived up to expectations. Lively debates and remarks arose over several articles but the meeting was advanced with decor and fairness by Moderator Robert S. Boardman.

As per usual the hall was packed with some of the town orators holding sway.

Most of the arguments centered over the Grimes field appropriation article ($1,000 was voted) and the manner of the expenditures at the field last year. The article was amended to have a board of trustees supervise the expenditure of the money raised.

Dr. H. C. Baldwin supplemented the reports of officers by a report of the industrial commission.

Senior citizen George Boynton moved the adoption of the first article to be acted upon article 2 to accept the reports of town officers. (Article 1 was the voting article under which voting took place during the day).

Article 3 to raise $40,426.76 for current maintenance expenses of the town was carried upon motion of selectman Ira C. Rbach.

Articles 4, 5, 6 and 7 regarding appropriations for highways, cul-

Prolonged Henniker Town Meeting Votes Down Concord Hospital Aid

HENNIKER, March 16 — A prolonged town meeting characterized by many lengthy arguments did not recess until nearly 5 p.m. There was a fair attendance with 333 ballots cast for town officers and 151 for school officers. William Childs who was elected treasurer for his 47th consecutive year, polled the largest amount of votes, as he always does with a total of 317. Other officers were elected as follows: Selectman, Clarence Fitch; clerk and tax collector, Charles H. Tucker; road agent, Oliver Parker; library trustees, Clarence Edmunds and Silas Rowe; trustee trust funds, Norman Parmenter; auditors for town and school, Forest Dowlin, Lester Connor and Alfred French.

School officers are as follows: Moderator, Lester Connor; clerk, George Sanborn; school board, Beulah Colby.

A total of $84,277.92 was raised to defray town and school expenses, or $1,807.68 more than last year. $54,267. was for schools and $30,010.92 was for the town expenses.

The town voted to indefinitely postpone action on the articles relating to Concord hospital, the Municipal Budget Law, to buy a tractor with mower and loader for the highway department, to employ a night police officer, to increase membership of the Fire Department and to relocate the Proctor Memorial Fountain. Gardner Tilton of Concord was present once again to speak for Concord hospital.

The meeting instructed the school board, selectmen, and moderator to appoint within 30 days of this meeting a town budget committee of nine members to be patterned after the Municipal Budget Law provisions which provides that four-fifths of its members be property tax payers and with authority only to discuss and advise.

The selectmen were authorized to sell property acquired by tax sale, also the site of the old dump. It was voted to install a stop light in Proctor Square if given permission by the highway department, if not to install a blinker light.

The town voted to petition the Public Service Commission to permit a foot path be made through the underpass on Route 114, not only for pedestrians but to have easier access to the water main located under there.

The town voted to legalize beano by a vote of 194 to 106.

Weare

Mrs. Irene Flanders
CORRESPONDENT

Captain for North Weare in the Red Cross drive is Mrs. Margaret Wood, assisted by Mrs. Lucille Waterman. The other co-captains will be at work by the time this is in print.

The Diamond Jubilee of Wyoming grange will be held at Osborne Memorial Hall, Thursday evening, March 23; the exact anniversary date. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, with the program starting at 8 o'clock. An elaborate program is planned, befitting a 75th anniversary. The High Priest of Demeter is expected to attend.

"Hostess" parties and "Paper" parties vie with each other, when spare evenings can be found. Either furnishes an enjoyable evening with friends. Mrs. Etta Rhodenizer was hostess at a paper party one evening recently, at Mrs. Lois Earle of Dunbarton demonstrating, "Yankee Swap" and "7" were two of the popular games enjoyed. Refreshments in keeping with the stormy weather were served: hot "westerns," pickles and angel chocolate cake and coffee. Especially on a cold night, lunch is half of the party.

The grand finale of the basketball season is planned for Thursday of this week, with a banquet for the members of both teams, the cheerleaders and leaders. By preference there will be a roast chicken dinner, and at the High school.

The caption on this should be "Miss Bachelor Makes Good Again." Everyone attending the prize speaking last Friday evening will agree. Nine volunteer speakers were on the program, which was followed by a short comedy, all Junior High pupils, and Miss Bachelor was the coach. Applause for the speaking was enthusiastic, with the decision of the three judges, Headmaster, Roberts Edwards, of Henniker High, and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Dunklee, also of Henniker, giving the first prize to Sylvia Bruyneel, in "Sisters in Law," second prize to Cynthia Marshall, in "Listening to the World Series," and third to Lanny VandeBogart, in "Little Brother." Honorable mention was given to Raeline Wood, "Dropping in Around Meal Time." The contestants chose their own pieces, which were very well selected, and have rehearsed at school for some time.

The other entrants were Jane Flanders, "Mrs. Tubbs at the Sewing Circle;" Teresa Hight, "Miss Dorothy Entertains the Minister;" Raymond Banks, "The Little Outcasts' Picnic;" John Fields, "Casey at the Bat;" Ruth Leavitt, "Children are Children."

The play, "Amelia in Reverse," had as cast, Janice Wood, Sylvia Bruyneel, Jane Flanders, Raeline Wood, Wilder Tenney, Paul Hadley, and Robie Farmer, and was very well done, keeping the audience in almost continuous laughter. Music was furnished by "The Thomsons." Between acts Irene Merrill presented Miss Bachelor a gift from the cast, as a gesture of appreciation. Prizes were awarded by Gordon Trevor. Worthy of mention as the fact that both Cynthia and Sylvia are members of troop 1, Girl Scouts, and Lanny is a member of troop 24, Boy Scouts. The Legion sponsors this contest each year.

Are we careful enough of the stones we use for the building of our lives' structure? We must build according to God's laws, because if we do not no matter what we put into the building for expense, it will surely be of no avail and will surely fall.

From the Bible we can get the real blue prints of the structure we need, and in God's house we can if we will go there, find the peace and the spirit to want to use them, for our peace and the betterment of all mankind.

On The Street-by P. S. Scruton

Diversified industry is one of the most important subjects for discussion in this fast moving world, being next in importance to our preparadness program. We do not believe in agitation but we certainly should not be caught napping or have another "Pearl Harbor."

To get back to the subject of diversified industry, in our travels we naturally see many interesting little home industries. Take for example a man who is nearing 70 years of age. This gentleman has a big barn, has installed a nail machine and manufactures nails. Each morning he oils the machinery, starts the motor, sees that the big coil of wire is adjusted and soon the nails are dropping into a keg.

Plastic toys and novelties is another little industry which gives employment to three men and a woman, the year around. There are several women we know who fry doughnuts in their own kitchens and have a steady market for their products.

the corner, Gen. Frank D. Merrill, state highway commissioner, issued a warning to truck owners to cooperate with his department in preventing a break up of road surfaces. Truck owners will cooperate or else.

General Merrill made it plain he had no intention of banning heavy trucks from New Hampshire highways. He has the power, under an old state law, but doesn't want to use it.

"We want truck owners to cooperate in saving us a lot of expense fixing up the road this year," Merrill said. "If truckmen don't cooperate, we'll have no choice but to ban them from some highways likely to be damaged when the frost comes out of the ground."

The worst offenders in this line is the overloaded truck. These are largely owned by one-man operators who haul logs, lumber or pulpwood.

About New Hampshire New Hampshire architects are being invited to enter their plans and designs in a competition for the contract on the new administration building to house the Highway, Motor Vehicle and State Police departments at Concord. May 15 has been set as the deadline for architects to submit their plans for the building.

This winter the state Highway department has provided plowing and sanding services on 3,150 miles of road. The state does winter maintenance on 1,553 miles of Class I road, and 1,597 miles of Class II road. That's 863 more miles than the Highway department had to take care of 15 years ago.

The University of New Hampshire, short of funds because the Legislature cut $101,000 off its budget last year, is appealing to alumni give $20,000. That's a technique often used by private colleges, but to this writer's knowledge the state university never did it before.

owners which keep the craftsmen busy most of the time.

One of the interesting home industries is the hand knitting of men's hosiery. The work is done on a hand cranked knitting machine and we have seen this woman turning the crank with one hand and reading a book at the same time.

Another woman bakes 20 loaves of bread every day and the demand for this home cooking is greater than she can supply to a hungry public. She plans to hire an assistant this summer.

Two fine old ladies keep busy making paper flowers in their own home and the flowers look so real that you almost sense the rare odor of the originals grown by nature.

Believe it or not another woman well past 70 makes hats for women in her own home. She was once a milliner in New York City and the designs we saw look like 5th Avenue styles.

We know of a Hillsboro woman who makes filled cookies that are just too delicious for words and there is always a steady market for the product.

Clever people, these Yankees whom we know and they're their own bosses too. Another home industry is the most interesting to us for the reason that the man still uses a jackknife to whittle life like little wooden dolls and then skillfully paints them. He recently sent a shipment to a department store in New York City and has an order for many more from the same concern.

There are other diversified industries but we have stuck to the home work entirely in this simple little tale of what some folks do in the environment of their own premises to help out the family budget or to pay all their expenses and save a little money for a rainy day.

All these plan country folks are artists in their chosen fields of endeavor, skilled craftsmen in diversified industries, and finding happiness in creating and building for the future.

On Monday evening, March 20, Waverly lodge, IOOF, of Antrim will confer the second degree on a class of candidates for Valley lodge, IOOF, at Hillsboro, and members are requested to be out in full force for the special occasion.

The business session will be in charge of Noble Grand, Louis Cutter of Valley lodge and part of the degree staff will be represented by its members. Following the degree work refreshments will be served in the dining hall by the following committee, Arthur Mills, George Gregg and Pearl Flint.

As of January 1st, Valley lodge had 78 members on the rolls, an increase of 16, during the past seven years. Of the total number there are 26 who live out of town, but pay their dues regularly.

Invitations to attend the Monday evening special meeting are extended to Antrim, Deering, Henniker, Washington and Weare, so everybody out on March 20. The precinct meeting is on the same night but come late if you must, but come anyway.

TIME-PLACE-FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

Last Wednesday evening the Art Class was certainly a lively spot. With Stuart Bruce all over the studio trying to din color into this one, composition into that one, and something else into tother!

Mr. James Dowling "affectionately" known to all as "Jimmy" was a most comfortable looking model. He has an art all his own, that of relaxation, and one that we would all do well to simulate and coming down to the Cellar Studio Wednesday evenings is one way of doing it, and doing it easily.

John Rowen of Boston painted with us and his brother-in-law, Francis McDonald, worked with us too. It is fun having so many of the commercial men who have a regular route through Hillsboro stay over here on Wednesday nights just to join our Wednesday evening painting and drawing group. Mr. McDonald also contributed very generously to our treasury which like Mother Hubbard's proverbial cupboard, is always bare!

Mrs. Lothrop Herrick wrote me a very appreciative letter of thanks for our interest in the town meeting poster contest that the League of Women Voters ran for the fifth and sixth grade pupils.

The Model Railroad group wish our group to do some painting on their model railroad set in the Manahan building. It would be good experience but at the present time it seems impossible to get our group together the extra night in the week that it would take to do this painting.

The High School Manual Training School has a wonderful exhibition in Tasker's window. Be sure and look at it and study it. There is a basis right there for the Hobby Show, woodcraft, metal work, wrought iron work, electrical work, plastics, practically everything you can think of is represented there. Am still harping and hoping that in the near future we may have a group called the Hillsboro Home Industries, all under one roof. How about it? Let's put Hillsboro on the map!

From Hudson, N. H., last week we had a young visitor, Alfred Guimond. It was his mother, Mrs. Guimond, who was up a few weeks ago and posed for us part of one evening.

Remember the Fashion Show at the High School Auditorium, Thursday night, March 23. The cooperation of a great many of the merchants in town makes this an outstanding event of the spring season. Be sure and go and pick out your new Easter outfit.

TIME: Every Wednesday evening from 8 to 10 p.m.

PLACE: Cellar Studio at the Valley Hotel.

FACTS: You are welcome as a worker or a visitor and Stuart Bruce of Washington is our instructor.

To The Editor: The telephone did jangle—"B. M. S.?" a voice asked with glee: And as I recognized Uncle Cy I knew something was coming to me. So with this week's Messenger I looked for his retort-- And by gum, sure enough-- had one from the "port." Tho' some of us--like turtles-- toward our goals do plod, it takes a sense of humor To get us o'er the sod-- I'm handing you the laurels-- Uncle Cy--it's plain to see. You'll always have a comeback For amateurs like me!

SOCIALISM

It seems odd that no one arose at town meeting to oppose the purchase of a town owned cemetery as a socialistic move. Some of our free enterprisers are born in non-profit hospitals, (socialism), purchase government printed envelopes at the post office (socialism), call on the town owned fire department (socialism), drink water from our municipal water system (socialism), and it now appears some of them will be buried in the town owned cemetery (socialism)!

DO WE WANT IT?

On next Monday, March 20, the Public Service Commission of N. H. will open the rate hearing case for an adjustment (up) of the electric rates.

Atty. Eugene S. Daniell, who will represent the City of Franklin at the hearing, made the following statement at the Franklin Council meeting last week:

"I think the mere fact that the Public Service Company has the crust to ask for a rate review is evidence of the weakness of the Public Service Commission," he continued.

"In this case, the Public Service Company is following a procedure a Hillsboro girl. But I guess a boys camp, even with the tolerant Tom with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nissen in charge, would be better for me but I am not likely to send in my application for either right away. But if I had a dozen children I would send them to either one or the other as soon as they were old enough. Camp life in the summer can be as valuable as school life the rest of the year.

Between Me and the Pine Tree

The road beckons and I am off on a wild flight of fancy far into the future. The object of this trip is to note the progress made in roadside beautification during the last half of the century. Ever since the B&O and Garden club has set out lilacs on either side of a short stretch of road and called it "Lilac Lane," general interest has been shown in making the country roads more attractive. All the clubs and organizations and even individuals began to make tentative plans right away. In order to avoid confusion a committee of five individuals with one of the selectmen and road commission exofficio to keep records straight and a map of all the country roads. Before long Maple avenue, Pine and Elm roads were soon in evidence. The natural beauty of the roadside was left intact and augmented in other places. Where there were too many rocks, in special spots, grape vines and other native vines were planted and trained to grow over them. In special places azaleas, elderberry and blueberry bushes, were planted to augment those that grew naturally. Some of these special roads were used as club memorials for deceased members. At the cross roads and other special places wild flowers were encouraged to grow. This was usually done by the school children of the town. The general effect of all these different places made Hillsboro the most attractive town in the region. Automobile accidents grew less and less through the years because people drove slowly to admire the beauty around them. The town became known many miles away as Hillsboro the beautiful.

Mrs. John Tasker and son, Edward, went to Boston Monday for a few days.

Dr. Phoebe Clover of Westfield Sanitarium visited us over the weekend.

Miss Selena Greenlaw visited her small niece, Sandra Colby, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Colby, over the weekend.

Mrs. Weldon Sterling slipped on the kitchen floor and fell breaking her wrist on Saturday. She has with her the boys of her son, Franklin, who with his wife is on vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts and daughter, Louise, were in town on Sunday and visited the Parker home on the old Sturtevant place.

Mrs. Burt Smith and a party of ladies from Henniker were in Boston Monday to attend the Flower Show.

Mrs. Marie Wells and Miss Angie Marcy were in Peterboro one day last week to call on relatives of Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Lucie Macdister and her sister who is 91 years old. They live by themselves with a man coming in to fix the furnace and do errands.

Walter Colby is employed by an electric company of Manchester and began work Tuesday morning.

One of Jack Tasker's sheep gave birth to two ewe lambs on Monday morning. Jack says mother and babies are doing well. Carol says, "the babies are cute."

The All State High School Festival is being held at Practical Arts High School, Manchester, Friday evening, March 13. Beverly Phelps and Cynthia Gilbert will sing in the chorus. Priscilla Nissen plays in the orchestra.

FOUR MEETINGS FOR HILLSBORO VOTERS

HILLSBORO, March 16 — With town meeting over the district school meeting at the Lower Village Thursday afternoon, the special district school meeting on Friday night at the high school building and the precinct meeting to be held Monday, March 20, voters are in for a busy time.

The precinct meeting will be held at precinct hall, with a new type of compressed air fire alarm system to be voted upon and an appropriation not to exceed $2,500 to be raised and appropriated. The garbage removal problem will gain be brought up for discussion and article 8 calls for an appropriation not in excess of $5,000 for the collection and removal and destruction of garbage and other waste materials.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters article 8 is certain to be discussed from every angle and it is expected that voters will back an appropriation less than stated in the article.

The present board of fire commissioners consists of John B. Tasker, Frank G. Rumrill and Marshall A. Derby.

In the report of the board of education is included the following: "We do feel very grateful to the late George W. Haslet for the gift of $75,000 the revenue from which is to be used for the benefit of the Hillsboro High School. The board of education includes Elwood Mason, Catherine Tasker and Henry Martin. Mr. Martin, the member up for election, has announced that he is again a candidate.

Mr. Haslet was president of the Hillsboro Woolen Mills and during his many years in the company he did much to benefit the town. The mill operated successfully and employed many men and women of this community over a period of 40 years. His wife died several years ago and much of the estate was left in trust funds for the benefit of the town and its schools.

The special school district meeting will be held at the high school building, School street, Friday evening, to choose a moderator, clerk, member of the school board for three years, a treasurer for one year, to hear reports of agents, auditors, and officers and to choose such personnel as may be included in the eight articles of the warrant.

Article 8 is the appropriation bill. The town district school meeting will be held Thursday afternoon at the Lower Village schoolhouse at 2 o'clock with article 8 to be the main topic for discussion at this particular time. It reads almost identically with the article for the special school district. Article 10 reads as follows: To see if the district will raise and appropriate a sum not to exceed $75,000 for the purpose of construction and equipping a new elementary school building and in order to provide the necessary funds to authorize the school board to issue coupon notes or bonds, in the district under and in accordance with the provisions of the municipal bonds statute.

End of Little Schoolhouses
If this article is accepted the four remaining little white district schoolhouses will be replaced by a modern elementary school building and the last of the little school houses will be eliminated forever.

To The Voters Of Hillsboro

I, Everett B. Feldblum, wish to express my appreciation to you 324 voters who cast your ballots in support of my nearly successful venture for selectman of Hillsboro. I am at a loss for words to show my appreciation for the trust you voters held in my ability to be your selectman.

I also wish to thank the 358 (of which number I could have used 18 votes) who cast their ballots for my opponent Ollo York.

I was satisfied with the 638 votes that were cast in the election but I believe you can do better. Let's try a 100% vote next year.

I, Everett B. Feldblum, at this time announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination in the caucus of 1951 for selectman. I again repeat that I do not want a life job and that I have the ability to make you an efficient selectman.

I fired the first round of my double barreled shotgun this year. Just wait until I fire the second round next year.

You Republicans had better get on the ball because the Democratic Party is really going to begin to roll this year and we do want competition as competition is what gives us efficient government. You have seen what 3 or 4 weeks organization can do, just wait until we have 52 weeks organization. The Democrats won a moral victory this year, next year we are going to win a victory.

I shall go out on limb at this time and predict that the Republican Party of Hillsboro will not dare to run the selectman whose term expires next March due to the close race this year. (The powers of the party are politicians and they are going to try and get a winner. They do not want a loser.)

I, at this time, wish to thank William Bondar and Howard Wing who did such a wonderful job in driving the cars for the Democratic Party. A couple of more cars might have turned the tide, which is something for you Democrats to think about before the next election.

I wish to thank the Democratic candidates on the Democratic Ticket for the support they gave me in my nearly successful venture for office.

When you citizens of Hillsboro, Republican, Democrat, or undeclared, meet Mark McClintock, Charles Hunt, James Ellsworth Joseph Leazott, and William Cobb, Sr., members of the Democratic Committee of Hillsboro on the street or at their homes, congratulate them on what good citizens they are. Tell them you are proud of them for bringing Democracy back to Hillsboro, working diligently to give you another ticket so that you might have something to go to the polls for.

I again wish to thank you, the voters of Hillsboro, for the support I have received in my seeking the office of selectman.

"Here's the Pitch"

WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

SARASOTA, FLORIDA—There's no doubt but what rookie ball players invariably look good in spring training camps. For one thing, the rookies are hungry ball players. They are trying to take baseball jobs away from established players, and they know that they have to hustle to do so. The old timers are inclined to take things a little slower and easier. So you discount, to some extent, what the spring hitters and pitchers are doing.

But there's one rookie on the Red Sox staff I'm sure is going to stick this time. He should help the Red Sox pitching considerably. He's Gordon Mueller, a gangling six-foot-four right hander, who won ten while losing four for the Louisville Colonels last season.

You've heard of Mueller before, of course. He came up to the Red Sox at the end of last season and no less a batting expert than Teddy Williams admitted that Mueller was tough to hit. Then, during the off season, our old first baseman, Tony Lupien, now a Springfield, Vermont, laundryman, said that Mueller would make it.

Mueller is no kid. He's 27 years old, and has a world of poise. He has a deceptive motion, and his fast ball is sneaky. It's in on the batter, before you get a good look at it. He reminds me a lot of Ewell "The Whip" Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds. If he's half as good as Blackwell, he'll do all right.

Next week I'll file a report from the Boston Braves' camp at Braintree.

N.E.C. Has Banner Year On Skis, Wins Two Meets

New England colleges surprising ski team, in the first season of winter sports at the Henniker institution, has won two out of five meets and finished second in the others.

At Intervale recently the NEC Pilgrims defeated their New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference rivals, comprising many of the leading colleges of the New England area, to win the Asa Osborn trophy.

They also downed Keene and Plymouth Tecahers by a wide margin at Sunapee, and were runners-up in the Littleton Carnival, and the NEISC meets at Jackson and Acutney, Vermont.

In the giant slalom which highlighted the Acutney meet, NEC sponsors of the event, lost the services of Neil Dearborn of Woodsville, captain of the royal blue and scarlet. Dearborn, who had been the Pilgrims' top ski figure, injured his shoulder in a spill and will be out for the season.

Competitive target of the Acutney meet was the Harry McClintock Mug, donated by the Hillsboro businessman. Boston college, in spite of an inspired effort by the Henniker team, won the inaugural leg on the trophy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONSERVATION OFFICER
Phone 104 Wilton, N. H.

Several weeks ago I told you about a young fellow that was in the hospital and wanted you to send him a card. I got a letter from his mother saying the response was wonderful. He is now at Laleville Sanatorium, Middleboro, Mass. The name is Wayne Sweeney and he will be there for a month or two. Just learning to walk again. Let's send him another card to cheer him up.

Better check on your dogs. Complaints are coming in from several of the nearby towns that dogs are chasing deer. Remember if your dog kills a deer, it's the same as if you killed it yourself and there is plenty of fine.

Would you be interested in a real honest to goodness Airedale pup? I know of a litter just seven weeks old. These are the real thing and have the paper to show a long line of prize winners. Can tell you where they are in a nearby town. It won't be long now - the baseball fellows have started training in the south.

Yes, Dr. MacMurray of Nashua and Milford will find homes for that litter of not wanted puppies.

The vets in this neck of the woods are warning all dog owners to keep them off the streets as there is a bad epidemic of distemper waging in a nearby city and some towns. It's very contagious and starts with a cold.

The Nashua Fish and Game association has voted the sum of $77 to buy turtle traps for the spring campaign to rid their trout and bass pond of turtles.

The White Mountain Coon Hunters will hold a Field Day Trial at their club grounds at Concord, May 7.

Many clubs in the state are voting against the long hare and rabbit season. Up to March 1 is too long. Instead of killing one hare or rabbit you kill a whole family.

Right now is one of the toughest times in the year for the wild birds. If you know of a bunch of pheasants that are not being fed, get in touch with your nearest conservation officer and he will see that the birds are fed. Smaller wild birds are having a hard time of it. Put a bunch of suet in the trees. A bushel of hay chaff spread on the snow will attract a large number of the smaller birds. Phil Magoon at Greenfield has a nice self feeder. Your hardware dealer also has them to sell. Now is the time to help the birds from starving.

H. M. Bradbury of the Massachusetts Division of Conservation located at Upton, Mass., is interested in the snapping turtle campaign and writes for information. They hope to clean out a number of their ponds that have gone dead. Good idea.

Yes, you can fish the Souhegan river for pickerel at any time of the year. In fact you can fish any stream that contains pickerel. Some nice strings have been taken in his river between Wilton and Milford, and between Wilton and New Ipswich.

Someone asks if we have seen or heard of a snowy owl from the North this year. They seemed to have come down as far as New York-state and Michigan. Detroit had a lot of them.
