Telephone

In the early days of the telephone in Hillsboro, a person needed both hands just to contact the operator, for one had to ring the bell and push a button at the same time. There is at least one of these relics still in use in Newman's store. As everybody knows, George Lincoln introduced the telephone in Hillsboro, and the first switchboard was in a little room built on at the rear of Mr. Lincoln's grocery store in the west side of the Colby block. His son, Lewis Lincoln, now of East Washington, was the first operator. The first "long distance" telephones were installed at the Lower Village, -- at Fred Gibson's store, Jackman's Mill, and I think, at the late W. H. Manahan's house. Mrs. Gibson well remembers delivering and sending messages for people in the neighborhood of the store. Of course one of the first telephones in town was installed in the Henry Colby store, now Newman's. I think these first telephones were installed in the early 90's.

When the Rumrill block was built, the switchboard was moved into the rooms now occupied by Mrs. Shotts, and were under the efficient management of the late Miss Flora Eastman, from where they were transferred to the present quarters in April, 1927, the company having bought the old Sim Murdo house and fitted it up to suit their requirements at that time. I think changes have been made since then. I suppose we will always have to ring a bell, but I am glad we don't have to punch a button at the same time.

It was a great day when the telephone came to the Center. We and the Perry's were on a 6-party line. My mother and her girlhood friend, Mrs. Perry, had the fun of their lives talking to each other on wintry days.

Historical Room

Visitors to the Historical room when it was open last week seemed to find much interest there. They saw the Franklin Pierce Bible, recently loaned by the Misses Pierce, which is a good addition to the other two Bibles. The Ocean Born Mary Bible, given by George Cote, whose mother-in-law, Mrs. Woods, was a great-granddaughter of Ocean Born Mary, and the half of the Isaac Andrews Bible, which helped to name Bible Hill. I wish we knew where the Simons' Bible was.

Will Cobb, Sr., has given a large map of Hillsborough County; also a Hillsborough County Atlas, which has a good-sized map of every town in the county, showing roads and giving the names of the owners of the houses on the road. These came from the Perry's attic, and may have been the property of Mrs. Perry's father, Parker Kimball.

There was an interesting collection of early group pictures given by W. H. Manahan; also a collection of local views given by Eugene Colburn.

The floral dictionary of Mrs. Franklin Pierce is also a loan.

One of the visitors was a Mr. Hyde from Gilmanton, who said his ancestors lived in Hillsboro. His mother or grandmother, Clark, married a Johnson. He came with a clipping from the Messenger in

FOUR CANDIDATES SEEK TWO OFFICES

HILLSBORO, July 27 — Public interest in the state election next September was assured this week when it was learned that there are four candidates for the General Court from Hillsboro, all seeking office on the Republican ticket.

Last to file was Russel V. Wadleigh, employee of the Messenger Office. Mr. Wadleigh, a World War II veteran, lives on Myrtle street, is married and has four children. He filed for office on Monday.

Mr. Wadleigh, in announcing his candidacy, said he would make it his goal to bring new industry and economic relief for the distressed towns of N. H., such as Hillsboro where the rate of unemployment is over twice that of the national average.

Atty. R. Wayne Crosby announced his candidacy on Saturday.

The other two candidates are Henry G. Martin and Walter A. Sterling.

There are no Democratic candidates.

THE STATE HOUSE JOURNAL

The political filing period, which ends Friday, has provided no surprises. The news of the past two weeks merely has confirmed what everyone has known for months. In the Republican primary, it will be Gov. Sherman Adams against Eugene S. Daniell, the fiery former mayor of Franklin; its U. S. Sen. Charles W. Tobey against aggressive young Atty. Wesley Powell of Hampton Falls; and U. S. Rep. Norris Cotton has his perennial opponent, Atty. Joseph Moore of Canaan. (The newspapers used to make Miss Rita Collier of Lisbon angry by calling her the perennial candidate for Congress.) U. S. Rep. Chester E. Merrow of Ossipee, who took his time about filing for reelection, had no opposition as this column was being written.

Among the Democrats peace and harmony -- rare commodities in that party in recent years -- reigned as the week began. But anything can happen before the filing deadline Friday night. Secretary of State Enoch D. Fuller will keep his office open until 6 o'clock to accommodate late-comers, and nobody would be surprised to have a whole batch of Democrats file for the major office at the last minute.

Schools Given Plenty

Most significant news of the week was the disclosure New Hampshire public schools won't suffer from lack of state aid cash next year. School districts have appropriated $14,566,500 for educational purposes in 1950-51. That breaks all records for local school appropriations. The school districts themselves have appropriated $1,400,000 more than the total amount that was available for schools in 1948, when the state supplemented local appropriations with a grant of $2,000,000.

That answers some proponents of state school aid, who protested the (Continued on Page 10)

ATTY.'S HINES, CROSBY CONFER ON TAX MATTER

HILLSBORO, July 27 — Atty. R. Wayne Crosby, counsel for the Town of Hillsborough, today informed the Messenger that he and Atty. James I. Hines, of Hillsborough, counsel for the School district, have reached an understanding concerning the legal positions of the Town and the School district. Atty. Hines came to Atty. Crosby on behalf of the School Board in order to find out the Town's legal position on the tax question, and to see if some solution could be arrived at which would give an equal assessment of school taxes over the entire Town and at the same time avoid the authorization and calling of a special meeting to vote a budget for the new School district.

Atty. Hines was informed that the Town's legal position was that in some manner a solution should be reached which would give us a legal tax rate and that the manner in which the School district arrived at its solution of the problem was a matter for the School district rather than for the Town. Atty. Hines was assured that the Selectmen and Atty. Crosby, as Town counsel, were not holding out for, or demanding a special meeting, unless a special meeting should prove necessary in order to avoid the possibility of the Town becoming involved in litigation. Atty. Hines was assured that he could at all times count upon the full cooperation of the Town counsel and Board of Selectmen.

Friday night the mercury dropped to 44 in Concord which broke the record of 45 for that date. So far, this has been a nice week as far as temperature is concerned, but rain is needed badly.

Board Declines To Answer Charges

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

From Supt. McCormack —

Dear Editor:

Reading your editorialized news of last week about the school tax problem leads us to ponder who's trying to puddle that muddle you describe so intricately. Since we have never before known you to misconstrue the facts, we presume that some were missing in your news source.

Actually the whole thing sounded as though it was engineered to help some politician cry for attention prior to seeking election to some public office. A man in a profession is ordinarily not interested in publicly engaging in wordy duels regardless of his desire for political advertisement. The problem which you seek to solve by verbal assault is a matter of law and can be only solved by judicial bodies. Therefore it does no one any good in helping to solve the problems by clamoring for a newspaper trial before the judicial government has rendered a verdict.

The two Hillsboro school districts united into one district on May 18. Prior to that, on March 16, the Town school district at its annual meeting legally raised and appropriated money with which to op-

Mr. John O. Van Hazinga,
Editor of Hillsboro Messenger,
Hillsborough, N. H.

Dear Sir:

These past seven days, I have followed with great interest the reactions of the School Board and Superintendent of Schools, Stewart V. McCormack, to the publication of the facts which appeared in last week's Messenger. I had hoped, deep within me realizing it a vain hope, that seeing the facts set forth in their true light might shock the School Board and Superintendent McCormack into a realization of the gravity of the errors they had made, but NO -- after they had recovered somewhat from their initial consternation and confusion, they began to search about for some way to soften the blow and, especially, to discredit the one who had informed the public as to the manner in which its fortunes were decided. The enthusiasm of the Board for such a solution was in direct proportion to the guilt of each individual member. Good answers were hard to find, for truth has a ring to it which falsehood fails to possess.

The people's judgment and understanding of a problem is much greater and deeper than some would have believed possible eight days ago. All the public needs is to be allowed to know what is going on, and the public can be counted upon, almost invariably, to sense correctly where the blame lies and what the truth is.

How much better it would have been if the members of the School Board, upon realizing the gravity of the errors they had committed, had had the wisdom to put aside their false pride and seek a real solution to their problem instead of continuing to evade it by attempting to draw attention to personalities rather than issues. I suggest to the members of the School Board that they would have gained my respect and the respect of the citizens of Hillsborough if they had frankly and publicly confessed that they have been in error. I believe that the facts presented last week demand that in the interests of the welfare of the community as a whole, and in the interests of self-respect of the members of the School Board, the following action

HILLSBORO, July 27 — At the meeting of the School Board of Hillsborough, Monday evening, the resignation of Anton Johnson was acted upon. The letter of resignation was read to the board by chairman Andrew Sargent.

After discussion of action to be taken it was agreed that candidates for the office should be from the former Town School district and that board members should present their nominations to the meeting next Monday.

Samuel P. Hadley, treasurer of the School district, asked the board for instructions as to payments to be made. It was voted that the treasurer pay the janitors and that the school contribution for the retirement fund, due since June 30, also be paid.

Andrew Sargent reported a balance of $1,718.95 in the former Town district budget and this is to be turned over to the treasurer as had the Special district balance. New vouchers and new books are to be used by the board.

Other assets of the board are checks representing the federal contributions for the Home Ec. and Shop courses at the High school.

Atty. James I. Hines, board counsel, reported on the recent tax commission meeting. He said that he and R. Wayne Crosby, Town counsel, had reached a working plan for the filing of brief with the commission. Atty. Hines is to write the brief and then consult with Atty. Crosby.

The board declined to answer the charges of Atty. Crosby.

The School Board instructed Atty. Hines to enter into agreements for the purchase of the Marcy land, also the Rickard property. The price for the Rickard property was $500.

Attending the meeting in addition to the School Board were Atty. James I. Hines, Samuel P. Hadley, School district treasurer, and John Van Hazinga, Editor of the Messenger.

Chairman Sargent said that taxpayers were welcome to attend the meetings which were public and asked that the reporter present use his discretion in the reporting of the meeting.

Recently Wed In Wilton

Mr. and Mrs. I. Albert Bucko, pictured shortly after their wedding on July 8 in Sacred Heart church, Wilton, N. H.

Isadore Albert Bucko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bucko, Winchendon, Mass., and Mary E. Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Barry, of Wilton, N. H., were united in marriage at the Sacred Heart church in Wilton on Saturday morning, July 8. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John McCarthy.

Mr. Bucko will be remembered by many in Antrim as the manager of the Antrim Reporter office in Antrim several years ago.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown with illusion neckline, tight bodice, long full hoop skirt and a long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a small fitted cap of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Barbara Barry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bride's brother, John Barry, was best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the 1808 House in New Ipswich for 100 guests.

The newly married couple left on a wedding trip through New Hampshire, Vermont and Canada, by motor. Mrs. Bucko chose for traveling an oyster sharkskin suit and luggage tan accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Wilton High school and Nashua Business college and has been employed by the American Guernsey Cattle club.

The bridegroom was graduated from Murdock High school and Wentworth Institute in Boston. He served four years in the Air Force. He is employed by the Peterboro Transcript. They will reside in Peterboro.

The Bennington baseball team met the New Ipswich nine on Sunday afternoon at Memorial park. The BRA. won by a score of 18-2, to retain first place in Crotched Mountain league. This is the BRA's sixth victory.

There was a small crowd in attendance but it was most gratifying to note that these public spirited citizens were present to do an excellent job of umpiring. The primary purpose of the Crotched Mountain league is to give men and boys an opportunity to play ball and afford the people of the vicinity the privilege of attending games. We are indeed fortunate in Bennington having capable umpires which make the accomplishment of these two objectives possible.

Let us hope that at our next home game on August 6th when Temple comes to Memorial park there will be more baseball fans present to cheer the first place BRA. on to victory.

Silver Wedding for Elsie and Norman Fletcher

EAST WASHINGTON, July 27 — Monday, July 17, was the twenty-fifth anniversary of Elsie and Norman Fletcher's wedding. Their relatives and friends to the number of about one hundred fifty gave them a party at Purlingbeck hall. In the receiving line with them were Miss Edna Crane, sister to Elsie, and Harry Fletcher, brother to Norman, and their daughter, Janice, who bestowed a flower to each lady. The march was led by Miss Janice Fletcher as flower girl, followed by Grace and Howard Stevens. The program consisted of solos by Mrs. Ruth Otterson, Miss Sylvia Eastman, Margaret Hoyt accompanist, and Miss Janice Fletcher, piano solo, Miss Charline Fletcher; remarks by Andrew Sargent and presentation of the money tree by Lewis Lincoln. The money tree bore silver fruit, and as it was a living tree it is hoped that it will bear gold twenty-five years hence. Mrs. Andrew Sargent made and presented a marvelous wedding cake. Refreshments were served by the Misses Nancy and Jean Crane, nieces, and a social time enjoyed.

Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before they are withered.

Korean War and the United Nations
So momentous are events in Korea and at Lake Success that their full significance is not yet clear. Some of the crucial questions are: How much military strength will the United States have to pour into South Korea in order to restore the peace? Will the Korean war spread into World War III? What are the implications for the future of the United Nations?

While these questions still go unanswered, certain facts already stand out clearly. One seems to overshadow all others in importance: That in Korea collective security has become a reality instead of a mere term. For the first time national military forces are acting in support of a U. N. decision to stop aggression. Already the U. N. is vigorously broadcasting to North Korea and the world that the defense of South Korea is police action called for by the Security Council to restore the peace. The speedy and forceful leadership of the United Nations is precedent-making. It has been greeted with widespread support not only by the American people, but by most members of the U. N. as well. Correspondents at Lake Success report that there is new life in the U. N. and new confidence in its ability to keep the peace.

The Soviet Union and her satellites have been boycotting all U. N. meetings since January because the Nationalist government still represents China. Whether she continues her boycott at the General Assembly in the fall may tell whether or not she remains in the U. N.

Never before has the Soviet government been so isolated in the eyes of the world. Nearly 40 U. N. members have already given their backing to the Security Council resolution calling for force to stop North Korea aggression. Among them are India and Sweden, both of which have been trying to steer a "neutral" course in the cold war. By not appearing at the Security Council meetings, the Soviet Union seems to have defeated her own purposes for she lost the chance to veto the resolutions and prevent Security Council action. If the United Nations goes ahead to take important steps through the Security Council in her absence, the Soviet Union may find it impossible -- or at least be unwilling -- ever to return. Meanwhile, the United Nations is finding how much easier it is to get things done without the Soviet Union. Yet the need remains for keeping Russia in the United Nations, where she is subject to the pressure of world public opinion. The basic problem is to get an effective United Nations without losing Soviet membership.

The Korean situation seems to offer unique opportunities to capitalize on the gains that have been made and turn them toward building a stronger United Nations. One such opportunity is to make the National forces fighting in Korea a United Nations force. Already five nations are adding their military forces to those of the United States -- Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Britain and the Netherlands. Already the Security Council has named General MacArthur as Supreme U. N. Commander in Korea, and the forces are using the U. N. flag.

The Korean war also brings up the advisability of creating a General Pact under the United Nations. At the time the North Atlantic Pact was being considered there was discussion of broadening it into a General Pact and making the commitment to resist aggression world-wide rather than regional. Like the NAP, a General Pact would be based on Article 51 of the Charter and would only apply when and if the Security Council failed to take action. It would be a frank announcement to the world that a veto would not stop collective action for self-defense in case of aggression. Action would be tied to a vote of the General Assembly. It now appears that (1) The U. S. from now on will take some action against Communist aggression anywhere in the world; and (2) most members favor U. N. action even at the risk of having Russia leave the U. N.

Time-Place-Fact

Mr. Cody, Claremont's well known Nash dealer, has commissioned Stuart Bruce to paint a portrait of each of his two daughters. We hope that when these portraits are finished that they will be exhibited somewhere, where we can see them. Stuart Bruce's facility in catching that certain something called likeness, his tremendous knowledge of color, and in his ability to combine both, he creates a picture as well as just painting a portrait.

Remember the date, August 10, a Thursday. That evening at the Municipal hall, Mr. Campbell, head of the New Hampshire League of Arts and Crafts, will be there to tell you about the League. So many persons here are craft minded as the splendid Hobby and Craft exhibition, sponsored by the Fort-nightly club, showed.

A card from Grace Scott, chairman of the Social Committee of the New Hampshire Art Association tells of the plans for a picnic meeting, Wednesday, August 2, at the League of Arts and Crafts Fair - Belknap Recreation Center, Gilford. Bring a box lunch and meet in the N. H. Art Assoc. Library at 12:00. They want to make this a real get-together.

Our friends the Sesslers of Lyme, N. H., write that he, "Squire" Sessler, has been painting at the Dartmouth Studio under Paul Sample this past season, and that he expects to have a one man show sometime soon at the Art Gallery in Woodstock, Vt. Wonder when one of us will be having a one man show?

TIME: Every Wednesday night from 8 to 10 p.m.

PLACE: Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel.

FACTS: You are welcome as worker or visitor and Stuart Bruce is our instructor.

Facts on the Korean Situation

The United Nations has declared the military conflict in Korea to be an act of aggression and acted accordingly. Here are the facts:

1. After 1910, Korea was part of the Japanese Empire.
2. Cairo Conference (1943)—Great Britain, China and the United States declared "in due course Korea shall become free and independent."
3. At the Potsdam Conference (July 1945), the Cairo Conference declaration on Korea was reaffirmed by the United States, the U.S.S.R., and Great Britain.
4. With Japanese surrender at the close of World War II (September 1945), the Korean area north of the 38th parallel was surrendered to U.S.S.R. troops and that south of the parallel to U. S. troops.
5. Moscow meeting (December 1945)—U.S.S.R., U. S., and Great Britain agreed to "reestablishment of Korea as an independent state." (China subsequently agreed.) Joint commission of U. S. and U.S.S.R. representatives set up to assist in forming a Korean government.
6. Months of discussion of joint commission brought deadlock on major problems.
7. U. S. proposal (August 1947) that Korean problem be referred to four signers of Moscow agreement of December 1945. Great Britain and China agreed; U.S.S.R. objected.
8. U. S. referred Korean matter to the United Nations General Assembly (September 1947).
9. UN established Temporary Commission on Korea (November 1947). U.S.S.R. protested.
10. Temporary Commission met in Seoul (January 1948) to facilitate formation of Korean government through elections and withdrawal of occupation forces. Reported to UN its inability to contact authorities in North Korea.
11. United Nations Interim Committee or Little Assembly (functioning when the General Assembly is not in session) instructed the Commission to carry out its duties "in such parts of Korea as are accessible" (February 1948).
12. Election held in South Korea under supervision of the UN Commission (May 10, 1948). Reported by Commission to be "valid expression of free will of electorate in those parts of Korea" accessible to the Commission.

14. UN General Assembly created new UN Commission on Korea to assist in unification, promote friendly relations between two parts of Korea, be available for consultation, and to observe and verify withdrawal of occupation troops (December 1948).
15. Simultaneously (December 1948) General Assembly declared the Government of the Republic of Korea to be the only legitimate government in Korea.

22. Security Council (June 27, 1950) heard message from President Truman stating measures U. S. was taking on Council's request of June 25. (A member nation also has the right, under the UN Charter, to individual or collective defense against an armed attack "until the Security Council has taken . . . measures," with immediate notification to the Council of that defense.)

erate its schools for the fiscal year beginning July 1st. At these meetings, committees were established to work with the school boards in planning a method of uniting the two districts into one.

The committee finally decided that the best way would be to introduce a bill legally uniting the two districts in the Special Session of the Legislature. Furthermore, it was agreed in the committee that the proposed law should be prepared and the voters of each district would vote on whether to accept its provisions and have it submitted to the Legislature or not.

The committee had many problems to consider in making up the law, such as equal school board representation over a period of time, etc., what to do about the old buildings and what about a new school. Many of these problems were serious enough to be incorporated into the proposed law to unite the two districts.

As far as the question of taxation came up, it was fully agreed that there would be a level school tax for all of Hillsboro for next year and succeeding years under existing tax laws. When the problem of what to do about trying to write into law, a section which would level the school taxes beginning this year came up, it was quickly recognized that tax laws are generally quite comprehensive and therefore must surely cover the problem and that an attempt to level the assessment at once would be one more compromise to be written into the law. Remember, that the committee was trying to write a law which both districts would vote to accept and have introduced in the Legislature. It was known that the Legislature was not going to act on anything controversial and so no provision was made in the proposed law to attempt this compromise. The new law did provide for transfer of all property of the two uniting districts to the new consolidated districts. Each section of the law was voted on by the committee as the law was being written. It was R. Wayne Crosby, a committee member, who had held out for an immediate level assessment and he was finally left alone in his attempt to write this into the bill.

When the proposed law was finally completed by the committee, it was presented simultaneously to both school districts and was adopted by both; in fact unanimously in the Special school district. Then the proposed law as voted by both districts was sent to the Legislature, was passed and became law on May 18. This is probably the first law in New Hampshire which was first voted on directly by the people it was going to affect.

The new law provided that the new school district, made up of the former Town and Special districts, should have a school board made up of the former members of the uniting districts and they would carry on the duties incumbent on the school board of a district. The old boards were continued also in office separately to close out the fiscal year on June 30.

The new district met on June 29

and voted to raise and appropriate money to build a new school as provided for in the special law which formed the new district.

Now comes Mr. Crosby, this time acting as Town counsel, to the Selectmen and apparently advises them not to accept the budgets which had been previously voted and he apparently requested the advice of the Tax Commission, perhaps with a strong hint as to his solution of the problem. After more than one consultation, the secretary of the commission, on June 17, requested the Superintendent of schools, a member of the school board and counsel, if desired, to appear before the Commission on June 18, at an informal hearing to discuss the problems. Town counsel and Ira Roach also were invited. The secretary finally agreed to talk with the school board later if necessary because of the extremely short notice conveyed and because the nature of Town counsel's complaint could not be ascertained in time for a study to be made of it.

At the hearing, we were allowed to cover the process whereby the committee composed the law and also gave our opinion that this was strictly a matter of law and not one of desire and that we were doubtful that the law had been studied. Atty. James I. Hines then requested permission for more time to study the laws concerning taxation, pertaining to the case, and to return a brief to the Tax Commission; and this request was readily granted. It was at this point that the Supt. stated that it was embarrassing to have a committee member who knowingly was party to the selection of the compromises which were included in the law, now trying to use his position as Town counsel to get his own way which he couldn't get any other way.

The whole problem can undoubtedly be settled by careful study of the laws and in no other way can a proper decision be arrived at. Accurate reporting of the process involved are a service to life taxpayers concerned, but the decisions will necessarily be rendered by a judicial body on the basis of the law which was voted by the people of Hillsboro and the Legislature.

Considering the long range good of the merger and the tremendous obstacles which have been overcome, this problem is no more serious than most of the others which have had to be worked out in consummating the merger. The others have been approached more calmly and forthrightly, however, by those who had the job to do.

Respectfully submitted,
Stewart V. McCormack

Mrs. Henrietta Fisher, president of the Union church circle, has charge of the sale of tickets, for the outing to be held August 8. The members plan a bus trip to Lake Sunapee, and any one wishing to may join the group, as there are a few extra tickets available. Details of the trip may be learned by calling Mrs. Fisher; tentative plans may include a ride on the new boat on the lake, which stops at Sunapee Harbor for two hours at noon.

From Atty. Crosby — should have been, and should be taken. Rather than placing themselves in the position of continuing to seek to avoid facing the public in a formal meeting, the School Board should itself demand the right and opportunity to explain its actions to the public. The Board's failure to do so might possibly lead some to believe that the explanations would be unsatisfactory and unacceptable.

The situation which exists is not of my making. I regret that it has been necessary for me, in the public interest to criticize members of the School Board. I should much prefer that in the conduct of the public's business, they act in such fashion that criticism of their actions would be unequalled for and unnecessary. However, for as long as they continue to act upon the basis of falsehood rather than upon the basis of a realization of the duty owed the public, just so long must I continue to oppose them.
R. Wayne Crosby

EDITORIAL

ENCOURAGING

Having lived in a town where the school board meetings were changed from the afternoon to the evening so that all could attend, the action of a former Hillsboro school board in barring this editor from attending a school meeting was hard to understand.

It is encouraging that the board at the school board meeting Monday established the fact that the school board meetings are open to the public, including newspaper representatives, and that the minutes are public property.

While commented upon informally the board declined to officially make a statement regarding the actions of Superintendent McCormack as raised by Atty. R. Wayne Crosby. Mr. McCormack's appearance at the Tax Commission appeared to be that of a free agent rather than a representative of the school board. The school board's argument seems to be that the budgets voted at the separate school district meetings come under the assets receivable. With the probable coordinated operation of the two school districts as one and its resultant economy one solution of the muddle would be to call a special school meeting to present a new budget to the voters and to elect a new school board.

It would be a good thing if more citizens attended the school board meetings. Also a perusal of the school board minutes might establish just what is rumor and what the facts are.

COMMUNISM AND POINT 4

The cheapest way to fight Communist aggression is to help people get enough to eat.

If a man doesn't have enough food -- or clothing or shelter -- he will listen to anybody. Communist or otherwise, who promises him an adequate share of life's needs.

That is especially true of the man who lives in one of the underdeveloped countries of Asia or the Middle East. He doesn't care about ideas; he wants food, clothing, shelter.

So it is good to see the Senate Appropriations Committee vote 12-3 to provide $34.5 million for helping the poorer nations develop their economy. This would be done through the Point 4 program.

The Point 4 program gets its name from the fourth of a series of points President Truman outlined in his inaugural speech last year. It will help the so-called backward areas build up their agriculture and industry through technical assistance.

For instance, the former South Korean secretary of labor, David Lee, says Korean workers live in the 19th century. They need to be trained to handle modern machinery in their 7,000 factories.

It would be the job of Point 4 to train them, and thus raise their standard of living.

The cost of Point 4 for a year probably would be less than what the Korean war costs in one day.

And as Capus Waynick, who would direct the plan, says, it is much more profitable for the United States to do business with a nation that is economically sound than with one that is not.

Yes, Point 4 is a lot cheaper than war -- in both lives and money. We are confident that Congress will approve the Appropriations Committee's action.

Senators Wherry, Ferguson and Young of course voted against the measure. But that will make little difference to Senators and Representatives who believe in saving lives and money and in helping people help themselves.

IF HENS VOTED

Frank Gay told this reporter that if cows and hens could vote Tobey would be an easy winner because Tobey saw to it that 50,000,000 tons of grain were shipped into N. H., during the time of shortages.

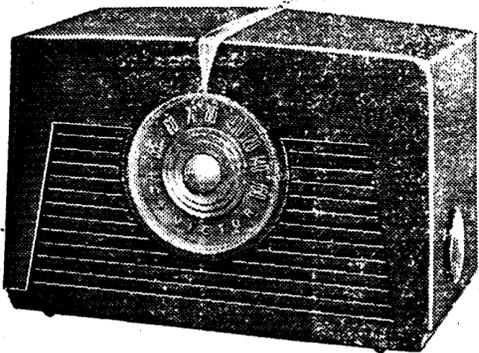

Hens and cows don't vote but the farmers will.

LISABEL GAY'S COLUMN

his hands, purposely to visit this room.

Hillsboro friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Colley of Appleton, Ontario, learned with much regret of the loss of their mill by fire last week. It was considered a $400,000 loss, and two of the three buildings were burned. No lives were lost, but three firemen were slightly injured. The Colley's daughter-in-law was up at four o'clock to feed her baby and discovered the fire.

Are you thinking of taking a vacation or looking for a good place to go when picnic-minded? If so, there is a fine new book in the library you might do well to consult. The title is "Our Eastern Playgrounds -- A guide to the National and State Parks and Forests of the Eastern Seaboard." It gives a complete list of such places, especially in the New England States. The Fox Forest is well-described, but we all ought to know about its convenient picnic ground.

Miss Marian Lundberg, first-grade teacher in Milton, Mass., public schools, has been given a year's leave of absence to teach in Germany. She has orders to be in New York on August 4, and will go by army transport to Heidelberg. She will then be sent to the place where she is to teach first-grade American Army children.

The Eastern Star ladies held a very successful card party at Community hall on July 21st. The high scorers were Mrs. H. B. Smith at canasta; Mrs. Ronald Buttrick at auction; and Mrs. W. A. Nichols of Antrim at contract. The committee in charge was Miss Angei Marcy, Mrs. Perk, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Sleeper.

Mrs. Henry Martin, with Richard, Carl and Leonard, and the Leslie Reed family, spent the weekend in Washington, R. I., and attended the birthday party of three-year old Virginia Vosburg on Saturday evening at Mapleroot.

Mrs. Herbert Hinman and her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Eubanks, of Hampton, Va., were the weekend guests of their cousin, Mrs. Mildred Porter.

The Misses Melita Whitcomb and Janet Tasker, who are employed at Grandview Hotel, Hampton Beach, were home Monday, only they spent the day at The Weirs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Buttrick and David, Mrs. Mark Buttrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Harris were at The Weirs on Sunday to visit Maurice Buttrick as well as Allen Seymour, who has been working with Maurice for more than a week.

Mrs. John Sawyer of Ludlow, Vermont, and her son, Dr. Charles Sawyer, of Duke University, N. C., visited the Honeywells' and the Gay's on Monday.

Mrs. Charles Hunt spent last week with relatives in Westfield, Mass., her old home. She returned here Saturday with her sister and niece who will remain a week with the Hunts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mann (Ruth Proctor) of Framingham, Mass., were in town on Sunday, and attended the morning services at Smith Memorial church.

Some summer visitors from a southern state say that from the time they started and from eating in different surrounding towns, they have found no place that pleased them as well as Valley Hotel, especially last Sunday's dinner.

Cheryl Ann Young, four years old, is staying with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mills, while her mother, Mrs. Edwin Young, is in the hospital for an appendectomy.

Miss Edith Murchough, H.H.S. 50, is working in the First National Bank, Hillsboro.

Miss Ottilie Pike of Providence, R. I., is spending her vacation at Valley Hotel, and visiting her aunt, Mrs. Julia Sleeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fullerton and David, were weekend visitors at the home of her father, Alton Colby.

The Honeywells were in Brattleboro on Sunday to see Roy's sister, Miss Anna Honeywell, and Annibel's sisters, Marita Perry and Helen Blodgett. Helen's husband, Ben Blodgett, is very ill. Their son, Fletcher, was advised by the doctor to come home, so he flew from Louisiana to Westfield Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Eastman and sons, Paul and Bill, visited Walter Gay and other friends on Sunday afternoon. Paul has just finished his first year at Davidson's College, North Carolina.

Mr. Herman Janowsky, who is slowly recovering from a severe illness, is proud to number among his birthday greetings, a personal letter of congratulation from the Governor and Mrs. Sherman Adams.

Albert Barrett writes me an interesting and amusing letter from Waukegan, Ill. He and a friend from Henniker motored to Illinois in a 1937 Packard hearse. They received a good deal of publicity in the newspapers, under the heading, "One-way Ride in Hearse -- Two Live to Tell the Tale." They were somewhat surprised to have people come 40 miles or more to see them and the hearse. It was a good financial deal because the boys sleep in the back of the hearse. They intend to go to Florida after a while where it will save them hotel bills. The boys are working in Waukegan as clerks for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

Michael Renahan, who has been visiting his young friend, David Buttrick, for a week, has returned to his home in Mattapoisett, Mass. His mother, Mrs. Thomas Renahan, and aunts, the Misses Emily and Josephine Berry, came for him on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Norwood, Mass., recently visited his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Brown on Newman street. Last October Charlie had an accident which resulted in a broken neck. A drastic treatment has brought his condition back to nearly normal, but he will be unable to work for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sunner Gaddas, Wheaton, Ill., are visiting his sister, Miss Eunice Gaddas, and friends for a few days.

Award Certificates to Vacation Bible Students

HILLSBORO, July 27 — Vacation church school at the Hillsboro Methodist church came to a climax last Thursday night when over a hundred gathered for open house. Parents and friends visited the various departments during the first half hour while the youth carried on part of their regular morning program. The second half hour all gathered in the sanctuary. Three of the Intermediates, Joyce Wheeler, Barbara Fowle and Richard Lane, put on a radio broadcast which they had written themselves, based on the Biblical story, "Elijah's Spectacular Contest on Mount Carmel." Following the broadcast all joined in singing.

Closing exercises of the Vacation school were held on Friday morning at a combined worship service in the sanctuary at which Mr. J. Frank Nichols, the oldest member of the church, spoke to the youth, urging them to write for themselves a motto by which to live a Christian life. Miss Ethel Farley, director of the school, awarded certificates to all the youth who had attended the school every day during the two weeks, or had only missed one day. Those receiving certificates in the Primary Department were Virginia Jones, Marjorie Cote, Charlotte Reed, Peter Andrews, Victor LaCasse, Gene La Bier, Gail Eaton, Geraldine Ellsworth, Richard Ellsworth, Alice Wheeler, and Donna Feeney; in the Junior Department, David Miner, Patty Jones, Charles Wheeler, Laura Wheeler, Leo Demag, and Norman Wilbur; and in the Intermediate Department, Barbara Fowle, Norma Heath, Anna Marie Troutman, Richard Lane, Joyce Wheeler and Jane Seymour. Miss Farley also awarded two special awards on behalf of Mrs. Clara Richardson, who had been in charge of the handicraft for the Junior and Intermediate girls; to Jane Seymour, for showing the most progress, the table centerpiece which had been made by the class; and to Anna Marie Troutman, for being the quietest in class, the sample bird case which the class had copied.

Those on the staff were Miss Ethel Farley, Mrs. Margaret Eaton, Mrs. Edith Phelps, Mrs. Clara Richardson, Miss Jean Murchough, and Rev. and Mrs. Russell Perry. By unanimous choice Miss Ethel Farley was asked to be director of the school again next year, and she gave her consent.

schools would suffer if the state withdrew state support. This year the state is giving only $400,000 in school aid, compared with $2,000,000 in 1948. Yet the total amount available this year is $14,966,500. In 1948, local voters appropriated $11,158,029 and state aid brought the total amount available for schools to $13,158,029.

A year ago, when all but $400,000 in state aid was withdrawn, school districts voted $13,452,300, making the total available $13,852,300. This year's votes topped even that figure, by $1,100,000. Besides their regular operating budgets, 28 school districts voted to issue bonds to finance new school construction. Their total borrowings for construction were $1,498,865.

While the schools were spending money at a record-breaking rate, city and town governments were cutting their budgets. Thanks to economy of selectmen and city councils, local tax rates will fluctuate little this year. Despite heavy school spendings, many communities will show lower tax rates this year. City and town budgets were reduced enough in many places to more than offset higher school costs. As one state official expressed it, "These school boards don't seem to know or care what happens to the tax rate. Perhaps they know the blame will fall on the selectmen and city governments, anyhow."

Industry Picks Up

As mid-summer rolled around, New Hampshire had only 12,000 unemployed. The number out of work a month ago was 15,300, and a year ago 20,400 were jobless. Only 5.3 percent of the state's potential labor force was classed as unemployed.

Two factors contribute to the rise in employment in the state. Orders are beginning to seep through, many of them representing an overflow from plants in other states, and some attributed to the Korean effort. Start of government's new fiscal year has released orders to other plants, particularly those with contracts for manufacture of ammunition for the armed forces.

Clean-up Continues

State officials investigating the Story-Cote scandal have unearthed about $2,600 more in overpayments on contracts, which has been recovered. State Comptroller Stephan B. Story gave the Lyons Iron Works $300,000 as down payment on steel needed for the state liquor warehouse job. Engineers couldn't find that much steel in the building when they examined it this spring. They went back to the Lyons company for an explanation. Sure enough, only $27,400 worth had been delivered. The company had a credit item on its books for the state, and was waiting for orders for further steel orders. It was glad to clear its books by getting the balance to the state.

A year ago the former Comptroller Story and Controller Donald F. Cote were sentenced to prison and fined $10,000 each for conspiracy in state contracts during the Dale administration. Both were on bail pending their appeal to the State Supreme Court. Since the court must hear a transcript, some word that was spoken during the long trial a year ago, the court stenographer has been at work typing her notes for months. Her job will be finished this autumn, and it is likely the court will put the case on its docket for hearing in December or January.

About New Hampshire

Newspaper headlines: "Rhododendron Park now at its best." Two newsmen and their wives decided to take a look at this park in Fitzwilliam, about which they had written so much. So two weeks ago they did. As soon as he got back to Concord, one of them accused state Recreation director Russell B. Toby of defrauding the public. Toby admitted the road into the park was unpaved, poorly graded, full of boulders and narrow -- and three mile long, and the rhododendrons themselves were interesting only because this is the only big natural growth of the plant in New England. The road, he explained, is town road on which the state can't spend money, and on which the town refuses to do any work. So that was that. Toby's department still is issuing attractive folders inviting unsuspecting tourists to visit the park.

Admiral Niles R. Browning, state director of civilian defense, discovered recently he may find many of his CD men missing, if the government mobilizes its manpower. Some of the leaders appointed to civilian defence work are at any time. He is carefully picking members of the National Guard or his new appointees with an eye organized reserve, subject to recall to their civilian status.

Senator Tobey was the only Republican member of the Senate Crime Investigating committee that landed in President Truman's home bailiwick last week for a look at blatant Kansas City's gambling, vice and racketeering. One of the mittie in its investigation, Tobey discharges called before the committee, was the son of the late Tom Pendergast, former Democratic "boss" of Kansas City and Mr. Truman's patron when he first entered politics.

Master David Miner has returned to his home in Antrim, after spending ing several weeks with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson.

The present controversy over the budget does not concern the building of the new school. The finances for the new school will be raised by a bond issue which will be paid on each year with the first payment on the tax bill next year. It is expected that the Tax commission hearing at the High school auditorium Friday, will be favorable and that the dirt will soon fly.

Not Many Fish In Reclaimed Pond

HENNIKER, July 27—Frenche's pond was reclaimed Saturday or supposed to have been. We never heard the particulars in the reclaiming of ponds so we don't know whether Saturday's work was called successful or not but the question in everyone's mind is where are the big fish? We had been told previously that there would not be as many fish as we had expected but it seems worse than that. We heard of only two people who got any of any size. One party got half a dozen large perch and another party got perhaps a dozen good sized pickerel. A third party got about as many hornpout that were very good size for hornpout. It seems that most of the fish, especially the large ones do not rise to the top for many hours. It is believed that the large fish did not come to the top until night and then sank to the bottom. Those who went to the pond on Sunday could see plenty of dead fish on the bottom where the water was clear and fish were floating on about half an acre of the top. They were small perch, shiners and flatsides. At least one large turtle escaped from a net during the day. We thought members of the fish and game club turned out in good numbers to assist in the work. We went down in the early afternoon and counted about 17 boats and canoes on the pond with several people in nearly all of them and there were a number of people waiting for more fish to rise and people were still coming to assist with the work. For those who don't know rotenon is used to kill the fish in the pond. It is the same stuff that gardeners use on string beans, tomatoes etc. to kill insects, as it is harmless to people.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Turner report that a black widow spider was found in their home one day this week. It was killed and sent to an expert and he pronounced it a black widow. This type of spider is very poisonous. A short distance from the Turners' a snake was found in a closet on the second story of a summer home. No one knows how it could have gotten there.

We have received a copy of the 1950 Handbook gotten out by Miss Eleanor Cooley of West Newton, Mass. It's an Eastern Coast Fishing Handbook, 138 pages chuck full of fishing information. It's worth many times its cost.

V. F. W. Ladies Plan Food Sale Saturday

HILLSBORO, July 24 — The Ladies Auxiliary to Hillsboro Memorial Post VFW, held its regular meeting Thursday evening, July 20 at 8 p.m. Among the distinguished guests present were Mrs. Jessie Woodward, department president; Mrs. Doris Rebidue, District President; Mrs. Elizabeth Osborne, president of Milford auxiliary; Mrs. Ann Klardie, Mrs. Frieda Barker and Mrs. Margaret Conti, all from Milford, New Hampshire. A very interesting meeting took place and both the Department President and District President gave short talks which were very beneficial to our auxiliary.

The mystery package was won by Mrs. Elizabeth Osborne of Milford. Refreshments were enjoyed with the members of the post. The auxiliary is sponsoring a food sale at Boardman's store Saturday, July 29, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Roy W. Cota and infant son, Paul Chadwick, have returned from Concord hospital.

some dog show that I have seen in my travels. Well, this week I will tell you about the five Eskimo dogs owned by Selectman Guy Holt of Wilton. He has an ideal place to keep these dogs, in a nice pine lot. His kennels are cedar barrels, off the ground so as to be free of dampness. A high wire fence. This team represents a lot of money. Mr. Holt is making a winter building to house them. He is also making a wagon with rubber tires to train his outfit. It is a bunch of dogs that will warrant a second look.

Alfred Caron of Greenville while mowing at the Batchelder farm on Kimball Heights ran over a pheasant's nest and broke one of the 16 eggs. Knowing the hen would not come back, he put them in the oven, of the stove and sent for me. I put them under a broody bantam and we have our fingers crossed, just hoping.

Here we have a letter from A. C. Boyce of Peterboro telling of an incident concerning his sister in Marlboro. She found a white skunk in trouble with a cream bottle on its head. With old clothes, just in case, she went out and removed the bottle with no ill effects. He was a 100 percent gentleman. Now this same woods pussy insists in following her all about, much to her embarrassment. Must be he was trying to pay her with a (s)cent. That just goes to show that even the wild animals appreciate a little help.

Let's talk Television for a few minutes. This machine is the most wonderful one that has been invented in the past 50 years. Why, I sit in my favorite easy chair, given to me by the New Ipswich Fish and Game club when I was transferred from that town. With my feet on the piano stool I sit there and enjoy the ball games in Boston and New York. Then in the evening we see fights and wrestling in Chicago and some wonderful programs all over the U.S.A. Now I am not selling them nor do I know the brand of the one we have. This machine is owned by my daughter, Nancy. Suppose the machine costs $300 or more or less, just see what you get in one afternoon and night. Consider the trip to Boston, New York, Chicago, and Hollywood, and you will run into more money than the machine costs in one day. Think it over.

RONNIE TEIXEIRA PITCHES NO HIT BALL

HENNIKER, July 32 — Ronnie Teixeira tossed a no-hit, no-run ball game as the Hillsboro Devils, a group of High school athletes, shut out a similar group of Henniker High athletes by a score of 3-0.

Teixeira held the Hennikerites to three bases on balls as he fanned twelve over the seven inning stretch.

Two Henniker hurlers gave up only six hits and three runs in a hotly-contested pitchers duel.

Teixeira, relief hurler for the local High school nine, turned in one of the finest performances in many years on the Henniker diamond.

The Devils now have won two games as against two losses.

Contoocook Big Guns Fail to Get at Rafuse

HILLSBORO, July 23 — The Hillsboro A.C. successfully defended their position as league leaders as they defeated the Contoocook Townies by a score of 14-9 in a free-hitting, sloppy fielding tilt at Grimes Field.

Jack Rafuse went all the way for his second win of the season giving up only ten hits while his mates battered two Contoocook hurlers for sixteen safeties.

The game was a loosely played affair as Hillsboro committed four errors and Contoocook bobbled five.

Hy Stafford with five straight hits and Norm Bosse with four hits highlighted the Hillsboro offense. The Pagemen, although emerging victors and retaining their hold on first place fell far below their usual standards of defensive play.

Next Sunday, July 30, the Pagemen journey to Goffstown for a very important contest and it is hoped that many of the local fans will make the trip.
