Nurses

Hillsboro High School has sent out at least 8 graduates who are taking nurse's training at present. Among this number are Corinne Duval, senior at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Brighton, Mass. Peggy Jameson, Betty Jane Heath, Jean McAllister, 2nd year, and Marjorie ed. Michie, third year at Elliot Hospital, Keene. Doreen Cooper of Deering, 🔞 at Elliot Hospital, Manchester; Beverly Phelps at New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Newton, Mass.; Stella Cernota of Bennington is at Sacred Heart Hospital Manchester Prob ably there are others not known

"Speed" is the most important word at the present time. People are rushing hither and you and probably know where they are going. Maybe in time they will reach their destination. Young couples seemingly expect to begin their married life with everything their parents have worked a lifetime to achieve. However, 6-year old Carol who entered the first grade last Monday tops all the rest. She came home at night depressed and disgusted because she hadn't learned to read that day. Like many of the rest of us she expects the impossible. Speaking of young scholars, I am reminded of the small boy who came home after his first day at school and announced that he wasn't going again. In response to his father's tion will be held, with Dr. Harcan't read and I can't write and | bers are asked to donate, in order they won't let me talk, so what's the use?"

Fire Alarm

Even if the new fire alarm does Has Constitution Day sound like an asthmatic cow, it certainly should be heard to the extreme limits of our town, and surrounding ones as well. It is a good idea to have a fire alarm that can't be confused with any other sound we might hear, even if it does frighten us out of our wits at

ANTRIM RURAL SCHOOLS HOLD TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REUNION

ANTRIM - The twenty-eighth annual school reunion was held at the Chapel in Antrim Branch, Saturday, September 16th. Several new members were present and everyone enjoyed visiting in the forenoon. Miss Lizzie Dowlin of Hillsboro was in charge of the attendance book.

At noon all enjoyed a basket lunch, with Mrs. Oscar Huot of Antrim in charge of the delicious hot coffee. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Loomis, present owners of the brick schoolhouse and the former Flint farm extended an invitation to all, to visit their beautiful home, and the invitation was accepted with many thanks, as was the trip through their lovely garden.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting was called to order by the presi-Dodge of Nashua grange, and Home, I dent, Mrs. Marie H. Wells of Deer-Sweet Home by the grange. During ing and the following program was given: Song, in the garden, with Mrs. Blanch Thompson at the piano; will be Deputy Inspection. Lovel Invocation by Rev. Harrison Pack-Grange will join us on Booster and of Antrim; Reports of the Secretary and treasurer by Mrs. Belle Wheeler of Antrim who also read a list of those who passed away during the year. All stood for a moment of silent prayer to their memory, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Carroll Gigney of New York, Mrs. Estella Speed of Antrim and Fred Twiss of Lawrence, Mass. served on the nominating committee and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Marie H. The rest of the time was spent in | Wells of Deering; vice-president, Mrs. Estella W. Speed and Mrs. Dorothy Proctor of Antrim; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Belle W. Wheeler of Antrim.

It was voted to send cards to the members asking when they would like to meet in 1951, the cards to be sent early in the year and the date to be decided by the officers, as soon as the answers were receiv-

HOURLY WAGE INCREASE

NEW YORK - Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, announced today that the union was demand- and 19, undecided. ing a 20 cent an hour increase for its 90,000 members in the woolen and worsted industry.

The TWUA president said that letters presenting the demand had gone to all employers in this branch of the industry under contract with the union, and that negotiations would start immediately with the 175 mills involved. The bulk of the workers are in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

Contracts in the woolen and worsted industry do not expire until February 1, 1951. However, to U. of N. H., next week. the union is making the demand ean_war, Rieve said.

"We feel that woolen and worsted employers have a moral obligation to increase wages immediately," Rieve pointed out. "Our members have already suffered from a sharply rising cost of living, with no end in sight. At the same time price boosts and a considerable increase in the level of operations have placed the mills in a position where they can raise wages without dif-

"Employers in the northern cotton-rayon section of the industry have already recognized these facts by negotiating a sizeable wage increase with TWUA, without regard to the contract reopening dates. A similar pattern has been set in other industries. We expect that the woolen and worsted employers recognize the situation and will deal with it in a constructive fashion.'

Present average hourly earnings in the woolen and worsted industry are $1.32. The most recent increase was 15 cents an hour, negotiated in February, 1948.

CAMPAIGN: Do NOT sign the so- belong. The Soviet press and radio ment made by U. N. Secretarycalled Stockholm Peace Petition --and the following tells you why.

The propaganda war is raging today as fiercely around the world as is the fighting in Korea. One aspect of this propaganda is a "peace" petition which is being circulated at a time when world war seems frighteningly imminent and the desire for peace among the peoples of the world has never been stronger. The campaign for signatures to the petition has been pushed vigorously under way in the United States.

The petition was drafted in Stockholm last March at a meeting of

cause for alarm that it has become and would be dismissed as just another Soviet propaganda device. The fact is, however, that the petition attracts millions of people who are not Communist sympathizers but who genuinely believe in Europe and parts of Asia and is that by signing it they are helping the cause of world peace.

WHAT THE PETITION SAYS: 'We demand the absolute banning the Partisans of Peace, an over-all of the atom weapon, arm of terror international organization to which and mass extermination of popu> strict international control to ensure the implementation of this banning measure.

"We consider that any government which would be first to use the atom weapon against any country whatsoever would be committing a crime against humanity and should be dealt with as a war

"We call on all men of good will throughout the world to sign, this appeal."

THE MISLEADING PEACE, many "Communist Front" bodies. The petition also quotes a state-General Trygve Lie, "I bless evevryone, each man and woman who fights for peace. This is the aim and target for which the United Na-If this were the whole story, the tions stands." Peace is indeed the peace petition would not be the aim of the United Nations. But will this petition help to get peace? An answer to this question requires a look at the record of what the U. N. has done to try to prevent the atomic warfare.

THE U. N. RECORD: In 1946 the United Nations set up, under the Security Council, an Atomic Energy Commission. The job of this Commission was to work out a plan for international control of atomic energy which would ban the use of atomic weapons and see that none were produced. After many months of investigation and "We demand the establishment of negotiation, a plan was agreed upon by all members of the Commission except the Soviet Union and Poland. Because of the impasse in the Security Council, the General Assembly was asked to consider the problem at its session in the fall of 1948. The Assembly gave approval to the majority plan by a vote of 40-6, the six being the Soviet bloc. The Assembly also asked the five permanent members of the Security Council plus Canada to continue meeting in an effort to reach a basis for agreement. The deadlock has continued up to the present. The chief points of difference between the U.S.S.R. and the U.N. majority concern international ownership, complete and continuing inspection, allocation of manufacturing facilities on a quota basis, and provision that the veto cannot be used to protect a nation which violates the terms of the agreement. The majority insists that the agency, to be effective, must have greater authority than the Soviet Union is willing to grant, and has maintained that an ineffective agreement is worse than no agreement at all.

For some time the Soviet Union has been urging the United Nations to pass a ban on atomic weapons. But the U.N. majority agrees that a ban is meaningless without a system of control to make sure that it is enforced. When the peace petition asks for a ban on atomic weapons and strict international control, it ignores the U. N. record over the last five years. This is precisely what the U.N. has been working for but has been prevented from doing by the Soviet Union.

Another point that bears further thought is the petition's statement that whichever country first uses atomic weapons is a war criminal. This capitalizes on the world-wide fear of atomic bombs. It confuses the issue by condemning the nation or nations who use a certain type of weapon and ignores the fundamental question of who commits aggression.

EFFECT OF THE PETITION: The Partisans of Peace are said to be aiming at 300 million signatures in their world-wide campaign, These may be presented to the General Assembly in September, and are expected to be widely publicized at a fall meeting of the Partisans around the time of U.N. Day, October 24th. The effect of the campaign will depend on the extent to which it is understood by the peoples of the world. For five years the United Nations has been working to prevent wars, to regulate all armaments and to ban atomic weapons. In its fight against aggression in Korea it needs the support of world-wide public opinion. Such support can be seriously diverted by the current. "peace" campaign.

Back in 1914, a group of New Hampshire citizens came together to discuss a problem that no thoughtful citizen could longer ignore, namely, that there were too many homes with juvenile problems for which neither the state nor any other agency could provide proper solutions. They organized, then, the New Hampshire Children's Aid Society and it is interesting to note that several of the original sponsors are still working for the organization after 37 years.

The society is a state-wide, nonsectarian organization financed exclusively by private contributions. Over the years it has developed an endowment that yields an annual income of some $45,000. Over the same years, however, it has also may place the child unwisely. developed a program which will need an additional $75,000 this year to finance.

Did you ever hear of Miss Spillane? If not, then you've plainly never been exposed to the juvenile problems of Claremont or its neighbors in Sullivan County. Miss Spillane is the society's case worker assigned to this region. She's the person I called last year when a woman telephoned to say that she had reached the end of her rope and although lacking the money to pay for it, would like to place a classified ad in the Daily Eagle to confinement, now thinking in terms offer her two children "for sale." She's the person, too, whom you'd call if you'd known the girl who away from home--family wants had to be let out of school recently because she was a kleptomaniac (most people would have

This week the tax bills were Robert Upton, the Concord law- sent out and received. The reaction yer, is heading up the drive for of each taxpayer appears to be as varied as the number of tax bills. Several taxpayers said their tax same and some higher. It emphasizes once again to many of us that the state or receiving medical or inatory tax on certain types of businesses which by necessity carry a large stock of merchandise, the earnings from the sale of which in no way reflect ability to pay. Also there appears to be many discrepancies in the assessed valuations of homes and business properties which in our opinion can only be equalized by a reassessment of the town. The selectmen have done much to iron out the more glaring examples, but it would take an overall reassessment to make a fair,

How to bring this about is of course the problem. Should the sellittle girl, 5, need foster home care ectmen employ a disinterested firm while mother is in hospital and to make the assessment? Should they do it themselves? Should the Tax Commission assessors be employed to do this job? (Each year in an article in the Town warrant the Tax Commission offers to do this service. We for one shall vote to take them up on this proposal).

We think the assessors of the Tax Commission could do a good job in reassessing local properties. The Tax Commissions interest is the same as ours. The Tax Commission is not out to "skin" one town to the favor of another. Why this phony provincialism?

Removal of the stock-in-trade tax, and a reassessment are needed. What do our readers think about this? We will gladly publish your opinions.

Donald Wood, with their Ayrshires, Wayne Wilson, with his Holsteins, and Jack Tasker with his Jerseys and sheep, all received cash awards and ribbons for their annimals and showmanship.

In the dairy judging contest for the state finals the Hillsborough county team won and will represent New Hampshire at the national finals in Iowa next month. The team consists of Donald Wood of Deering, Carl Inglestrom of Greenfield, and Patrick Mattie of New Ipswich, with Jack Tasker of Hillsboro as alternate.

In 1947 Maurice Parker was a member of the New Hampshire team sent to the finals of this 4-H national dairy judging contest. Hillsboro should be proud to be represented twice in three years at this event.

This week Wayne Wilson proceeded to the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield to show his Holstein heifer. The other boys moved their stock to Rochester Fair. Janet Tasker took over for her brother who was taken sick. Birthday Party Marguerite Nelson was nine years old on Monday, September 18. She was given a birthday party with neighborhood children as her guests. Walter Gay was also a guest. It was a beautiful afternoon when the children gathered at three-thirty. They played many different games; one of them was of especial interest. A paper plate was attached with a clothes pin to the back of the child's clothing. Each child was supposed to see how many times he could write his initials on these plates. The one who wrote the most was given a prize and the child who had the fewest on his plate was also given a prize. The usual party refreshments were served.

Miss Mary E. Maxwell has completed her year of training as a laboratory technician at Mary Hitchock hospital, Hanover. On Oct. 1 she will begin work as chief technician at the hospital in Beverly, Mass. We have enjoyed our rides to Hanover this past year, especially this summer. Due to the great deal of construction from Croydon through Grantham we looked for other roads to Hanover and found plenty. The shortest way in miles, but by no means the quickest is to go to New London and then to West Springfield. This ride leaves New London by Little Lake Sunapee which we hadn't seen for at least 25 years. Before arriving at West Springfield we found a new lake called Lake Kolelemook. We love to pronounce it. The accent is on the first "le," long "e." It is very pretty and means 'Lake of Good Fishing." There are a few summer places on it. Another way we went, and the longest was to Claremont, across the river and up the Vermont side to Lewiston, and into New Hampshire at Hanover, The ride up the river was the prettiest of all the rides to Hanover. We were much impressed with the large cornfields, and the long narrow farms, excellent land, and huge well-kept barns. We laso had a glimpse of Mt. Ascutney. Once we had to go to Concord first, so went to Hanover that way. And then returning from Hanover we came down through Enfield and Ganaan to Potter Place and then to New London. ### HILLSBORO TO BATTLE GOFFSTOWN FOR LEAGUE TITLE SUNDAY

HILLSBORO - The Hillsboro A. Sunday in the first round of playoffs in the Tri Mt. League. Hillsboro now meets Goffstown in a two of three series starting at Hillsboro this coming Sunday for the league trophy.

hard hitting of Bosse, Stafford, Page and Stamatelos were able to pile up a large score. Sullivan struck out 12 and only his wildness prevented an easy game.

This season has been a financial success and the club has been able to pay off money owed from previous seasons. There are still some debts to be paid, however, and with good support from the playoffs, the club should be able to clean up the remaining bills.
